

PROMINENT CITIZEN PASSES IN PORTLAND

Frederick M. Heidel Succumbs to Heart Trouble

GAVE PUBLIC MUCH EFFORT Was One of Board of Trade Which Accomplished Things

Frederick Martin Heidel, for 27 years a resident of Hillsboro, died at his home at No. 471 Chapman St., Portland, July 27, 1922, after an extended illness, his affliction being cardiac trouble.

He was born in Pomerania, Germany, October 6, 1846, and with his parents emigrated to Manitowish, Wisconsin, in 1856. They moved to Kansas in 1879. Mr. Heidel was married to Miss Ursula Sachs, of Oakfield, Kansas, Dec. 24, 1874. They came to Oregon in 1890, and settled in Hillsboro. Mr. Heidel for years conducted a bakery. Later he branched out in the real estate business and acquired holdings in Hillsboro and in timber lands. He was a tireless worker and spent much time in efforts to build up the community. In company with W. V. Wiley, L. A. Long, W. H. Wehrung and two or three others a board of trade was formed, and as a result of the organization a fight was made to get the Tillamook line started out of Hillsboro. After several failures, the board finally succeeded in getting E. E. Lytle interested, and Dr. E. J. Bailey, a new member of the organization, accompanied the railroad builder over the line. Heidel was instrumental in getting several thousand dollars raised for the right of way and lived to see his dream realized and the road one of the big agencies in this district. He also gave the condenser a big support in its early efforts. He built the Heidel building on Main street, and it has always had tenants. Under his management, Washington county won its "first prize" at the State Fair.

About five years ago the family moved to Portland for permanent residence.

The funeral took place last Saturday and services were held at the chapel of the Portland Crematorium. Dr. Angus officiating.

He is survived by his widow and the following children: Mrs. Bertha Calhoun, Santa Cruz, Cal.; Louis P. Heidel, Portland; Fred G. Heidel, Summit, Ore.; Carl A. Heidel, Clifton, Ore.; Herbert Heidel, Glenwood, Wn.; Mrs. Mary Forbes, Portland, and Wilma, wife of A. E. Young, of Portland.

Mr. Heidel was the last of his immediate family.

ONION GROWERS PLAN BIG TRIP

Third Annual Tour of County Growers to Visit Fields

WILL START AT OAK PARK

Take in Scholls and Invade Tualatin and Sherwood

The third annual tour of the Washington County Onion Growers has been arranged by a committee consisting of J. C. Leedy, chairman; Otto Wohler, R. W. Rasmussen and W. E. Mulloy, to start at the farm of F. C. Francis, August 16, at 8:30 a. m. From this place they will visit the onion fields of Otto Wohler.

To reach these two farms, turn south on the first road west of the long bridge which is on the Baseline road about a mile west of Hillsboro. The farms are a short distance from the Baseline road.

From the Wohler farm the excursion will go to the onion fields of Rowell Brothers, at Scholls; from thence to W. J. Edwards farm; thence to Fritz Elser's onion field, where the crowd will have a picnic dinner in the Elser grove. From this place the excursion will proceed to the Cipole hogs to visit the fields of Mike Conzelman, Otto Weckert and R. W. Rasmussen. From there the party will go to the Mulloy onion fields to look over the crops of W. E. Mulloy, C. M. Stites, and many others in the same locality, and thence to Tualatin to visit the onion farms of John Nyberg.

A number of growers have been trying out trapping and poisoning methods to control the onion maggot. Others have been trying formaldehyde to check the onion smut. Decisive beneficial results have been obtained in certain onion fields. These will be viewed with interest by anyone interested in onion production.

Bring along your picnic dinner and have a good time, as well as looking over neighboring onion fields.

POULTRY CULLING

The Poultry Culling Demonstrations heretofore directed in this county by H. E. Cosby have been popular, and poultrymen have praised his work, state County Agent McWhorter.

Plan to attend one of these meetings, as Mr. Cosby cannot give us much time during the poultry culling season.

This year four culling demonstrations will be given as per the following schedule.

Aug. 10, 9:00 a. m.—Beaverton, poultry farm of H. A. Germiquet, one mile south of Oregon Electric depot at Beaverton.

Aug. 10, 1:30 p. m.—Forest Grove, farm of O. S. Coleman, at the northwest corner of the city park.

Aug. 11, 9:00 a. m.—Scholls, farm of C. W. Larkin.

Aug. 11, 1:30 p. m.—Mulloy, farm of Thos. Mulloy.

J. D. & E. CLUB

The J. D. & E. Club was entertained one day last week by Mrs. Helms, of Virginia Place. The guests of the afternoon were the Misses Alta Northrup, Charlotte Hiltz, Margaret Lytle and Josephine Hughes, Mrs. Helms having invited the daughters of the club members. The afternoon was enjoyed in work on a quilt for the W. C. T. U. Children's Home at Corvallis. Delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Helms just before the meeting adjourned, being assisted in serving by Mrs. Hoover. The next meeting is to be another social affair and will be held at the home of Mrs. Willard Hughes, on Wednesday evening, August 8, at which time the members will have their families as guests.

FOULBROOD

A bee keepers' demonstration was held at the farm of Fred Stoller, near Bethany, recently, at which H. A. Scullen, Bee Specialist of O. A. C. discussed and demonstrated the control of European foulbrood. Fred Stoller was complimented on the fine manner in which he was handling his bees and for the comparative freedom of disease in his colonies. Men present at the demonstration stated that they believed 75 per cent of the bees in some of the communities of the county had been destroyed because of foulbrood.

Circuit Court—Judge Geo. R. Bagley last week granted W. W. Skilling a divorce from Bonita Skilling and awarded the father the custody of the minor child, Arbutus. Lizzie Gehrke was granted a decree of divorce on her cross complaint against her husband, Wm. Gehrke, of Gaston, the husband having sued for separation. The court awarded the wife $20 a month alimony. There is a minor child, over in Washington state, which is out of the jurisdiction of the court. The little one is ten months old and was taken out of the state five months ago, by the father, and left with his mother.

When in need of a monument, marker, or posts, or cemetery work of any nature, whether purchased by yourself or thru the Woodmen, or any lodge, it will be to your interest to consult Lewis & Co., as they will give you a better price for the money anywhere else—in fact they can save you considerable on any purchase. 21-11

Hillsboro and county points along the West side have been practically cut off from Newport by the present time tables on the Red Car line insofar as returning from Newport and arriving here in the evening are concerned. Travelers returning from the beach must either stop off all night at McMinnville or else go into Portland via Newberg and then return to Washington county on the West side train, or else stage from Me. to their destinations.

For Sale, or will trade for good milk cows—Fine team of matched black geldings, weigh around 3000; sound and good, true team. Ages 6 and 7.—P. G. Furrer, Portland, Ore., R. 2; on the J. J. Wisner ranch, near Bethany. For particulars as to team see, W. W. Mellor, with England & Mellor, Hillsboro. 21-23

W. L. Moore, of Banks, was a city caller Saturday. W. L. says that the rails are now laid from Banks to Vernonia and that the Murphy Timber Co. are installing a big camp over four miles this side of the terminal, and will ship logs to the river by the new line. Their payroll will amount to $25,000 per month. Like John Dennis, Moore thinks Vernonia is to have a remarkable growth within the next two or three years.

Man wanted to do soliciting a few hours in evening during the week. Must live in Hillsboro. The right party can make from $10.00 to $25.00 extra each week.—Write the Portland Rug Co., 1672 East 17th St., Portland, Oregon. 21-22

The Burkhardt Company of Entertainers will be at the Christian Church, Friday evening, August 11, at 8 p. m. One feature of the entertainment will be the work of Mr. Burkhardt, an artistic whistler from Moline, Ill. Further particulars of the program will be given next week. The admission price will be twenty-five and thirty-five cents. This will be a rare musical treat.

Miss Gloria Coulter, who has been spending the past month visiting at the home of her aunt, Mrs. George Chevron, returned to her home in Hillsboro, Oregon, Monday. She was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Chevron, of this city, her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Perrine, of Portland, who all spent the day in the Oregon town, visiting friends and relatives.—Vancouver Columbian.

Advertised letters, Hillsboro post office—Miss Elsie Borchill, Wm. Beard, Charley Berghalter, N. M. Craur, Chas. E. Foster, Ted Habersham, C. Hall, James P. Jones, Aeneas Lane, Mrs. Louise McDaniels, J. C. Pillington, W. R. Payne, Glen D. Sheeley, Mr. and Mrs. Glen D. Sheeley, Mary E. Thompson, Mrs. C. M. Wuest, Paul Kopcho, S. E. Gray.

Levi Brazil Gosa, who married Margaret Lousignont at Forest Grove, in 1875, died at National, Wash., July 25. He was born in Louisiana, in 1848, and crossed the plains in 1882, first settling near Scappoose. The wife died in 1912, and the father is survived by eleven children. Gosa was well known in this county in the early days.

Miss Margaret Meohlenhof, of Peoria, Ill., was a guest last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. McFadden. The visitor was a neighbor of her host and hostess back in the Illinois city. She is West on a vacation from her duties as stenographer with a big grocery concern, and is spending the week at Portland and Seaside.

Benton Bowman returned Monday evening from a legal call at Toledo and Newport.

TRAIN AND VELIE MIX AT CROSSING

Machine Driven by A. L. Stephens Hit at Sixth Street

ESCAPE DEATH BY MARGIN

Red Car Pilot Hits Auto Dead Center

Train No. 103, Southern Pacific, Red Car service, due at Hillsboro at 4:49 p. m., struck a Velie car driven by A. L. Stephens, of above Banks, Friday, at Sixth and Baseline streets. Stephens and his wife were driving west and the train was on Sixth, running south. Stephens undertook to cross in front of the moving train and the pilot of the car caught the Velie amidships, throwing Mrs. Stephens into the rear seat, but not injuring her perceptibly. Stephens was rendered unconscious for a few minutes. He sustained a scalp wound and his back was wrenched, but not seriously. Dr. E. H. Smith has charge of Mr. Stephens, and in an hour or so he was resting easy at the Smith hospital. Mrs. Stephens was badly shocked by the accident and it was several hours before she became calm.

The car was struck almost dead center, and the seat in which the driver sits was torn from its moorings. The wheels, motor and transmission were uninjured.

Mrs. Stephens was able to proceed home Saturday morning.

Conductor Cline and Motor-man McDonald were in charge of the train, which was stopped within a few feet after the automobile was struck.

AT THE LIBERTY

There wasn't actually a Porcupine in the Yukon when James Oliver Curwood wrote the story of "The Girl From Porcupine," to be shown at the Liberty Theatre, Friday and Saturday, but since the making of the very fine picture on this theme it has been discovered there is an actual village way up in Canada bearing the name of Porcupine—the fact was veritably vouched for. In due time, no doubt, pilgrims will be visiting this spot, for oddly enough the actual Porcupine really resembles the product of Mr. Curwood's brain.

Lovers of all that is best in motion pictures will surely appreciate this beautiful effort of the screen art. The author has written a very tender and human interest story and has put on paper a number of interesting and lovable types which have been translated to the screen by wonderful skill by Dell Henderson. Faire Binney and Wm. Collier Jr. are the stars, and it is a great picture.

MULLOY CLUB

At a meeting of the Mulloy Community Club Monday night, C. M. Stites was elected president; W. E. Mulloy re-elected secretary, as was also all of the committee, including W. E. Mulloy, onion growers; Abbo Peters, grain growers; Mrs. Thos. Mulloy, poultry; Heinka Peters, berries; C. M. Stites, potatoes, and Mrs. C. M. Stites, home demonstrations.

A discussion on potato crop improvement was given by County Agent O. T. McWhorter. The next meeting of the club will be held August 11th, when a poultry culling demonstration will be supervised by H. E. Cosby, poultry extension specialist.
