

GARDNER-VAUGHT

A very pretty wedding was celebrated at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Vaught, Hillsboro, Saturday evening, Sept. 16, 1922, when their only daughter, Helen, was united in marriage to Clark Franklin Gardner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Gardner, of Quatana, Nev. H. A. Deck officiating, reading the beautiful ring ceremony. The groom was attended by Henry Stuhler, and the bride entered the room on the arm of her father, preceded by the flower girls, the little Misses Katherine and Dorothy Alexander, and the bridesmaid, Miss Alyce Moore, of Hillsboro. The wedding march from Mendelssohn was rendered by Mrs. Florence Taylor, and the bridal party marched down an aisle formed by the Misses Ellen Gardner, Dorothy Linklater, Lilian Rollins, Vida McDonough, Olive Gates, Marion Lytle, Frances Mahon, Mrs. Kenneth Carlisle and Mrs. Bertha Brown.

Mrs. E. B. Tongue sang "O Fair, O Sweet and Holy" and "In My Garden." Mrs. T. H. Tongue at the piano.

The bride was gowned in a ruffled net dress over silver cloth, with silk net veil and orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of bride roses and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid wore a white tulle dress and carried a bouquet of Cecil Brunner roses.

The house was beautifully decorated by Mrs. J. W. Bailey, Mrs. Frank Kane and Miss Eva Bailey with evergreens, dahlias, asters and dematis, pink and white predominating in the color scheme.

The bride's bouquet was caught by Miss Alyce Moore.

Assisting in serving were the young ladies who formed the bride and Mrs. C. E. Lytle.

The presents were many and beautiful.

Both bride and groom are popular in the younger set, and both have been associated with the South Coast Power Co., in this city.

The bride is a graduate of Hillsboro High, and the groom is a veteran of the world war, having served in the U. S. Navy.

Mr. and Mrs. Gardner departed for their honeymoon trip, which will be spent at Newport, and they will be at home to their friends at 1336 Second St., Hillsboro, after October 1.

PUBLIC SALE

The Secretary of Treasury has announced that, commencing Oct. 1, 1922, a change takes place in the selling price of Treasury Savings Certificates, which thereafter will be sold at the following prices:

$1000 certificates for $820, instead of $800;

$100 certificates for $82, instead of $80;

$25 certificates for $20.50, instead of $20.

At the new prices Treasury Savings Certificates will yield about 4 per cent interest per year, compounded semi-annually, held to maturity, instead of 4 1/2 per cent, as at present; in the same ratio, the yield will be about 3 per cent per year, simple interest, if redeemed before maturity. In all other respects, the new certificates and the method of handling them will be practically the same as now. The increase in price of these certificates is made in conformity with the general downward trend of interest rates.

Meanwhile, the present issue of 4 1/2 per cent certificates can be purchased until September 30th. The Hillsboro Post Office is the local selling agency.

WEEK-END AT LIBERTY

A Mack Sennett six-reeler is the feature at the Liberty Friday and Saturday, and in "The Crossroads of New York," Sennett has achieved the next to the impossible—he so filmed this that a big New York crowd would not take it that it was a movie stunt, but started after a thief in earnest. This was a big feather in Sennett's cap, for he had never before been able to "fool" a New York street crowd. There is humor, pathos and charm in this portrayal of a country boy's struggles in New York, and the picture rivals "Molly O" in tense and interest. Matinee Saturday.

Fred Jossy, of near Helvetia, was a city visitor this morning.

M. H. Stevenson returned yesterday from a month's visit to Watertown, New York, where he went on business and pleasure combined. He says that conditions are not as good back in the Empire state as they are in the West, and the coal shortage is acute back there. Many factories will have to close down unless the coal situation, as well as the railway strike, mends in the not distant future.

The ladies of the M. E. church will hold a "Harvest Home" sale, Friday afternoon and evening, Sept. 22, in the church basement. A cafeteria lunch will be served from five to eight o'clock. Everybody invited. 28-29

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Reynolds and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Ireland departed yesterday morning, leaving at five o'clock, for the Pendleton Roundup. They made the trip by motor, and will camp through the big Wild West section. Thad wanted to get a face-to-face view with Tom Mix, the movie idol, and they say he offered to trade his Paige for Tony Mix's wonderful horse.

For Sale—Team horses, weigh around 2600; good work animals.—Jossy Bros., Hillsboro, R. 1; 7 miles northeast of county seat. Telephone North Plains central, 18F21. 29-31

Among the Hillsboro students leaving Sunday for O. A. C., Corvallis, were Chas. Deichman, Haskell and Conway Carter, Dan Erwin, Kenneth Crandall, Elmer Batchelder, Arthur Reiling, Clair Sample, Wm. Walters, John Simpson, Russell Loftis, and the Misses Stella Ashahr, Dorothy Linklater and Frances Mahon.

Money to Loan—Private party has $1500 to loan on first class security, farm property, at 6 per cent interest.—Address, Loan, Box 8, Hillsboro, Ore. 30

S. Cooper, who sold his 40-acre ranch near Laurel to R. E. Fileds, has moved to Hillsboro with his family and bought two places, one at Oak and Eighth, and the other, the John Dodge place, between Ninth and Tenth. The neighbors of the Laurel section tendered them a farewell party before leaving for the county seat.

For Rent—Six-room bungalow, at Witch Hazel station; possession given about Oct. 15.—Wm. B. Bolton, 401 Twelfth St., Portland. 29-31

Church of Christ, Corner Third and Baseline Sts.—Bible School, 10 a. m.; 11, sermon, subject, "Faithfulness;" 7:15 p. m., Christian Endeavor, Junior and Intermediate; 8, the evening subject will be "Is the God of the Bible Reasonable?"—Len B. Fishback, minister.

For Sale or Trade—A Buick Six auto, in good shape; 1917 model; will consider trade for dairy stock.—Write Box 882, Buxton, Ore. 30

THE MASQUERADER

For Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, the Liberty Theatre's offering is the great screen success, "The Masquerader," which is heralded by authorities as one of the three great films of the year—if not the greatest. Guy Bates Post, who played in this great feature in legitimate, is at the head of the cast in a dual role, and he is as fine in the silver screen as he was in his over 2,000 performances on the stage. Post takes the part of an English M. P., one John Chilcote. He estranges himself from his wife through his own misconduct, and while running for reelection is thrown to the mercies of the rabble for his misconduct. He tries to make an address, but fails, and wandering into the fog, runs across his "double." His wife, Eve, tried to get Chilcote another chance and succeeds, but the politician loses his nerve and hunts up his double, who finally agrees to go on with the campaign. The double (also played by Bates) makes the hit and sensation of the hour by showing he could meet the crisis of his county, while the real Chilcote sinks to the level of a bounder. Chilcote's double is inspired by a woman in the audience—who happens, by the way, to be the real Chilcote's wife. The original Chilcote degenerated and died and—well, to get this properly you should see the picture, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

HIGHWAY TRAVEL

Resident Engineer C. G. Reiter, of the Highway Commission, reports the following census of motor travel for Sept. 15:

Taken at Beaverton—Oregon motor cars, via Canyon road, 768; via Bertha and Beaverton, 498, total, 1266; other states, Canyon, 35; Bertha, 24; total 59; trucks, Canyon, 197; Bertha, 62, total 259; 18 motorcycles; total motor vehicles, all descriptions, 1879—as against 1589, August census. This discrepancy of ten was due to the fact that the highway is under repair. There were only nine horse vehicles on the road during the census hours.

Taken at Gales Creek road, south of Forest Grove—Oregon cars, 429; other states, 27; trucks, 107; total motor vehicles, 563; 14 motorcycles; 45 horse drawn vehicles.

WEILS' FALL STYLE SHOW

The latest decrees and creations in the Fall and Winter Fashion world will be shown by living models at Weils' big department store, Monday evening, September 25, at eight o'clock. Every whim of fashion from house dresses to evening wear will be on exhibition, and the affair promises to be of unusual interest.

Beautiful models have been engaged, and the stage is all set for this present of "Fall Fashions for 1922." The store extends a cordial invitation to all Hillsboro to visit their showing. It will be remembered that this event last year was a wonderful success in every way.

Foot balls and equipment.
