Masonic Temple, New School Unit to Be Erected

Hillsboro has had a big year in building. New business blocks are being erected and the estimated average cost of the construction is $150,000. Last year, the total cost of such buildings was a matter of $10,000 greater than the present.

Business construction has not been slow, there being a total of $80,000 in the building period. Ed Scholl's building and the block owned by the staff of the Times is the only business building to be completed this year. The Times building will be completed early in the new year.

In business, the building of new homes has been prolific. The last six months have seen the construction of an estimated 50 homes, many of which are in the new town, which is now being completed.
