OREGON LOCATIONS—Portland (13 Stores), Salem, Hillsboro, McMinnville, La Grande, The Dalles, Bend, Corvallis

WE THANK YOU

for the fine business you have given us during the year just past. This has been our best year, both in volume of business and from the number of customers served. The part that each and every one of our customers has played in this is more than appreciated.

We also wish to announce that we have dissolved the partnership of Allen & Ireland. Mr. Ireland will continue the business. Mr. Allen will retire at once from the firm.

All accounts that are the joint property of Allen & Ireland will now be due, and we will appreciate the prompt payment of these, so we can close up the partnership. Please see that we have these all in before February 1st.

Again thanking you for the fine 1922, and hoping that the year of 1923 will be better in both sales and good will,

We are,
Very sincerely,

Allen & Ireland

THE HILLSBORO ARGUS

County Official Paper

L. A. Long, Editor

Subscription, $1.50 per annum.

Issued every Thursday by Mrs. E. C. McKinney and L. A. Long

Governor-elect Pierce talks like a man who is going to get along famously with the legislature along lines of tax reduction, and down in his heart every taxpayer hopes he will. All this talk that an adverse legislature, politically, will make trouble, is had target practice. The Argus believes the legislative and executive branches of Oregon are going to get together in this year of our Lord 1923 and point the way to lower taxes without impairing that efficiency which is vital to a good administration. By and large, anyway, Pierce is looming as a man who wants to accomplish things and there's no reason why we shall not have both harmony and results.

He was aged 87 years and is survived by his widow and six children, Robert being the youngest. Three of the children live in the West—Julius, in Lewiston, Mont.; Wm., in Wyoming, and Robert, in Hillsboro. Robert is a salesman at Weil's, and is expected home within the next few days.
