VOL. XXX. HILLSBORO, OREGON, THURSDAY, MARCH 29, 1923. No. 4

ASSESSOR BOLEY HAS FIELD MEN AT WORK

Assessment of 1923 to be Written up by Thirteen Deputies
FEW WEEKS WILL CLEAN UP
 H. G. Vincent Will Make Hillsboro Assessment; Tigard, S. E.

Assessor Boley has named thirteen men to make the field assessments for 1923 and the force will take the field at once, and have the entire county written up in a few weeks. Each year sees a larger assessment roll, because of the fact that so many tracts have been subdivided in the east end of the county and along the highway. The assessing deputies have nearly all had experience and are conversant with values of realty, and the "baker's dozen" will make a good team. H. G. Vincent will fix the values on Hillsboro property. The deputies named are—C. E. Tigard, of Tigard, will assess Tigard, Sherwood, Tualatin and Middleton and contiguous territories. Chris Schindler will take care of the Cedar Mill and surrounding country. J. E. Carpenter will assess Forest Grove, in part, and township 1 range 3 north. Allen Rice, part of Forest Grove and 1 1/2 n 4 w. C. I. Benefiel will take care of Manning and the northwestern part of the county. H. E. Best will have on his list the extreme north of the county. Allen Tannock, of Shady Brook, will take care of the northeastern part of the county. F. L. Koberstein will have Gaston and vicinity. H. G. Vincent, Hillsboro. C. N. Larkin, Scholls and vicinity. C. D. Staley, Cornelius and south Hillsboro. Hugh W. Farnham, east of Hillsboro. Frank Kirby, Garden Home and vicinity, including Beaverton.

NEW DUNTILE BUILDING

J. W. Bailey broke ground the first of the week for a new Duntile structure at the corner of Second and Washington streets, on the site of the old Commercial Hotel which burned years ago. The structure will be 22x70 in dimensions, with ground floor only, but so built that it can have another story if necessary. The material for the walls will be manufactured by the Concrete Products Corporation, of Hillsboro, their plant being on North Range, adjoining the Tucker Lumber Co's yard. The building will be completed within 30 days, so that the lessees can take possession. The Hillsboro Independent will occupy the block, moving out so as to permit Bert C. Shipley to arrange the old Masonic Hall for a Durant salesroom and garage. Mr. Shipley, who last week purchased the Masonic property, will expend several hundred dollars remodeling the lower floor. R. P. Kerkman, of near Roy, was in town Friday morning.

VANDERZANDEN BOY PLEADS TO SLAYING

Taken Into Court Saturday and is Now at Salem for Life

SECOND DEGREE MURDER

Withdraws Plea of Not Guilty and Takes Sentence

Thomas Franklin Vanderzanden, who on November 26 killed Jacob Dahinden, in the mountains near Hayward, entered court Saturday and withdrew his plea of not guilty and entered a plea of guilty to murder in the second degree. Judge Bagley, upon waiving of time, sentenced the young man, who was but seventeen years at the time of the crime, to penal servitude for life at the penitentiary at Salem, and he was remanded to the custody of Sheriff Alexander, who conveyed the prisoner to the state capital the first of the week.

The boy went to the home of Dahinden on November 26, armed, and asked the old man for something to eat and some money. Words followed and Dahinden ordered him off the place, according to the boy's confession. He thereupon shot at the aged recluse and fled. He got no money. Vanderzanden fled to Salem, where he spent a week visiting relatives. His father received a letter from the Salem relatives and went after the son. Bringing him back to Washington county he was taken to the sheriff. The father had asked the sheriff to locate the boy a few weeks prior without knowledge that he had committed the crime. The sheriff, however, had suspected that the boy might have committed the killing and when questioned closely, the lad finally broke down and admitted the killing. He was taken before District Attorney Tongue, where he signed a confession.

Later he concluded to plead not guilty. Senator Wm. G. Hare was appointed by Judge Bagley to defend the boy and the plea of guilty, as recorded Saturday followed.

On account of the youthful age of the prisoner, it was thought best by District Attorney Tongue to accept the plea, as after mature deliberation it was concluded that it would be hard to find twelve jurors who would bring in a verdict demanding capital punishment.

The boy's parents lived up in the Cedar Canyon section, and while the boy had not been particularly vicious, he had been guilty of several indiscretions. It was argued that a jury would have found him guilty of first degree murder, but more than likely would have recommended leniency—and this would have meant life imprisonment only, at the most.

Senator Hare reviewed the life of the lad, his immaturity, and the fact that he was hardly responsible, mentally, for his attitude and conduct, and he asked for clemency. To this District Attorney Tongue did not object, deeming it the best course for the court.

Scores of people from the north county came in Monday to hear the trial, which had been set for that date. Many called on the lad after they were told that the case had ended by virtue of the plea of guilty.

Wanted—I would like to buy a second-hand binder, 6-ft. cut, in good condition.—A. Kaufman, Hillsboro, Ore., R. 1. 4-6

O. A. C. BUSINESS SHOW FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

New Commerce Building to be Dedicated Friday

H. S. STUDENTS ARE GOING

Business Men From Many Oregon Towns Will Visit Corvallis

The Business Show and dedication of the Commerce building at O. A. C. will take place at Corvallis, Friday and Saturday of this week—March 30 and 31. The formal opening of the new educational structure will be heralded with a blaze of glory and by faculty, students, college societies, and business people from the state at large will help to make the affair successful. The big show will open at 11:30, Friday, and a banquet will follow at 12 o'clock. Gov. Pierce to be present and deliver an address. Stephen Miller, dean of commerce of U. of O., will deliver the principal address. Other speakers will be J. K. Weatherford, of Albany, president of the board of regents; W. J. Kerr, president of the college, and J. A. Bexell, dean of the school of commerce.

A newspaper in the making will be one of the features of the big exhibit, and there will be industrial exhibits from twenty-one Oregon cities, among them, Hillsboro.

Radio will be demonstrated from A to Z, and radio fans may learn much at this meeting.

There will be aquatic sports; typing contests by students, and the big sixty-piece college band will furnish music for the two days. Portland will send a special train on Friday morning.

Quite a number of Hillsboro people will attend the show, and the following Washington county students have entered the "typing contest":

Hillsboro High School—Ethel Kummer, Esther Mineau, Helen Thwaite, Lolita Francis, Hazel Shaner.

Banks High School—Mina Aydelott, Marguerite Sell, Alice French.

Forest Grove High School—Leatha Soehren, Lavinia Voelker, Caroline Goff, Harold Russell, Ruth Allen, Louise Marshall.

The visitors will be given an opportunity to inspect Oregon Agricultural College from every angle, and this in itself will be well worth while as an educational visitation.
