BANKS

A very pretty home wedding took place Sunday afternoon, June 8, when Miss Dorothy Wilcox and Bernard L. Sellars were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Wilcox. The ceremony was held on the lawn, Rev. E. W. Wetherell officiating. Miss Verna Bedding attended the bride, and Ralph Wilcox, brother of the bride, was best man. At the close of the ceremony light refreshments were served, and the bride and groom departed on a short honeymoon, followed by the good wishes of the guests. Mr. and Mrs. Sellars have many friends in this locality, this having been their home from childhood. Miss Dorothy was a very successful teacher in the Banks grade school the past year, and Mr. Sellars, a son of W. T. Sellars, is a farmer, and has a farm on which they will make their home.

Banks team has two more games to the good—a game between Orenco and Banks teams Sunday resulted in a score of 4 to 11 in favor of Banks, and the Sunday before Banks won out in a game with Scofield, 2-10.

Elva, the little nine year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Shipley, passed away Friday, June 6, at their home near here, of diphtheria. Funeral services were conducted Sunday at the Banks cemetery, by Rev. E. W. Witherell.

Mrs. H. A. Stohler and Mrs. Beulah Wilson returned home Sunday from a few days visit in Washington.

H. A. Stohler is attending the American Legion convention in Portland this week, as delegate from this post.

Crops in this section are looking fine in spite of the dry weather. The hay crop, though the growth is short, is heavy, and farmers will have plenty for stock this winter. Strawberries however are about one-half the usual yield—the hot sun drying the fruit.

Mr. and Mrs. Thor Gronback moved to Banks from Portland last week and are located for the present in rooms in the Williams building on Main street. Mr. Gronback operates the Banks-Portland stage.

In an item last week a mistake was made as to scholarship at the high school. Two, only, of the graduates felt that they could avail themselves of the certificate offered by the college. Of the two, the certificate was given to the one with the highest standing. The class average for the three semesters was 33 and 1-3 credits, and Miss Dolores Clark had the highest average of the class, having 38 credits.

J. C. Petinger, who has clerked for some time in the Schulmerich store, was taken to the hospital at Forest Grove last week, where he will have treatment for an ulcerated lung.

NORTH PLAINS

Mrs. H. Holbrook of Portland visited friends here Thursday.

William Coomes spent Sunday in Salem, returning in the evening with his wife, who has been in the hospital.

"CAPPY RICKS"—THE PLAY FOR CHAUTAUQUA

Great American Comedy-Drama Told in Real American Style—"Cappy" of the "Frisco Water Front" Most Delightful Character of the Modern Stage—Coming Third Night.

There is more to real humor than the things which make us laugh uproariously, as Chautauquans will realize when they see the famous comedy drama "Cappy Ricks," presented by that splendid organization, the Elias Day personae now filling—most of them in San Francisco where Peter B. Kyne, author of the stories which ran in the Saturday Evening Post, studied human nature and gathered material for his successful series of character sketches. He transplanted them onto the printed page, and Edward Rose, the eminent playwright, has moved them from the story page to the center of the stage. Oliver Morosco first produced the play in New York where it had a phenomenal run of a whole year. Chicago claimed it for five consecutive months, and it has since won friends by the hundreds of thousands on the circuits of the big theaters.

Of course the irascible, blunt, "I'm always right" old sea dog "Cappy" is the central figure, and Matt Penzley, the clean-cut, courageous young mate who best "Cappy" at his own game, is his foil. "Cappy's" pretty daughter; Skinner, the efficient office manager whom "Cappy" bulldozes; old Aunt Lucy, the only person in captivity who is not afraid of the old man; a never-do-well rich man's son and the office stenographer are the characters selected from the stories by the playwright for the stage version.

Ward, Mrs. Culbertson and daughters and Helen Asbahr. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. N. Johnson July 2.

Mrs. Amy Johnson's luncheon on Friday afternoon was one of the most charming affairs of the week. Mrs. Fred Stevens, who is soon leaving with her family for Acquia, Idaho, was the guest of honor. Those present, Mesdames Johnson, Stevens, Asbahr, Demmin, Bowlby, Routin, Burkhalter, Heaton, Krueck; Helen Asbahr, Allen Asbahr, Billie and Dorothy Stevens and Viola Demmin.

A family dinner was given at the home of Mrs. Bertha Demmin on Sunday, June 8.

DAGAFORD—LOSLI

On June fifth a pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Losli of Hillsboro, when their daughter, Lillian, was united in marriage to Mr. Fred Dagaford, also of this city.

The ceremony was conducted by Rev. William Graf of Bethany. The house was effectively decorated with pink and white peas and greenery.

The bride wore a gown of sky-blue crepe de chine, trimmed with ribbon and lace. Her corsage bouquet was of sweet peas and rosebuds.

Only immediate relatives of the bride and groom were present. After the ceremony dainty refreshments were served, and then the happy couple departed for a short honeymoon.

After June 18 they will be at home to their friends at Portland.
