HILLSBORO, OREGON, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, 1924

The United States government, through proper official channels. has called upon the various states to mobilize their citizenry. This mobilization is done for the purpose of finding out just what the volunteer citizens of the United States are willing to do. If you are willing to defend your country from enemies, you should join this great army. This day for mobilization is Friday, September 12, 1924. It is neither a National or a State holiday. Let all loyal citizens cooperate.

To the end that the strength of Hillsboro's reserve force may be represented and that the power of that reserve be known, I. J. B. Trullinger, mayor of Hillsboro, call upon all business houses to close their places of business between the hours of 1 and 3 p. m. Friday, September 12, 1924.

Hope to Have Portland Mail Out On Late Train

BUSINESS SERVICE HELPED

Delivery Of Mail Will Be Made To Local Firms Before Eight In the Morning

Plans are being formulated to take care of the mail in probably a more efficient manner, at least for Hillsboro business firms, than with the present mail train, which arrives at 8:05, according to Fred Holznagel, Hillsboro postmaster. Have Early Distribution

It is hoped to have the Portland mail come out on the late Southern Pacific train in the evening, if possible, and thus allow of a distribution to the business houses before eight o'clock. Following this the carriers would go out on their routes again after the eastern mail is distributed, after the 9:20 a. m. mail train. If this is done the late evening business distribution

Wrong Description

The fly in the ointment was so slight that, although the proponents of the measure were looking for such little technicalities when readings of the descriptions were made, it was entirely overlooked and very naturally overlooked. The difficulty was that the Henry addition to Cornelius was not included in the description, although it was supposed to be and was understood to be in the proosed district.

Cognizant of the condition the mion board and the board of District No. 7 held a joint meeting last Thursday night and the Hillsboro board volunteered to step in and take up the burden.
