Appearances

Do you not think that you would feel queer if someone should come along and give you a punch in the eye, dishevel your hair, plaster you with gum, scratch your face with a penknife and decorate you with wads of paper? Do you not think that you would like to run and hide yourself in a corner when someone would approach? Such is the condition of our assemblies, and the desire to run and hide they cannot very well accomplish. Come, help keep them clean so that they will always wear a smiling face because they know that in order to wear that kind of a face they have to be pretty and clean. So do not mark their beauty spots (blackboards and desks) with inscriptions, bruise their eyes (the windows) or throw paper at them and plaster them with gum for that is not polite, and it is also dirty. Now please remember the appearances of those two fair ladies, and that they wish to live up to that old proverb that "Cleanliness is next to Godliness."

G. R. ELECT DELEGATES

Monday, after school, a short meeting was held by the Girl Reserves to elect delegates to the mid-winter conference to be held March 12-14 at Astoria. The following girls besides Miss Weathered, the Girl Reserve advisor, were elected to act as delegates: Margaret Cady, Ruth McGrath, Ethel Linklater, Genevieve Cypher and Irene Connell. Dorothy Havens is to act as alternate.

Margaret Tongue, the secretary of the Portland federation, will go as a special delegate from the club as well as the old president, Virginia Brogden, and the new president, who is to be elected at the next meeting.

PERSONALS

Paul Pratt is evidently finding the road to geometry entirely too perpendicular for comfort.

The seat of Keith Susbauer has been vacant a couple of days for cause or causes unknown. However, as he was stuffing an owl the night before his absence, you may draw your own conclusions.

Week before last Dutch Rannow got his track team out and began practice.

Last night Goody pulled his baseball men out and started limbering them up between showers.

Henry Meltebeke, a mid-year freshman, who broke a bone in his knee a short time ago, fell and hurt his other limb and will be unable to attend school for a short time.

Senate Meeting Postponed

The Senate club meeting was postponed until Monday at 7:30. A committee consisting of Stanleigh Bennett, chairman, Howard Wells and Louis Emmott has been appointed to prepare a bill which is to be presented at the Senate meeting. They have been studying the procedure of the Senate and are now to put it into practice. The first reading will be made at the meeting Monday.

Annual Sale

The annual sale contest is becoming quite spirited as the sales approach the hundred per cent mark. The seniors are almost there. The juniors and sophomores are working hard to overcome the handicap of their greater number of members. The classes are ranked in sales as follows: Seniors, 94 per cent; juniors, 60 per cent; sophomores, 50 per cent, and freshmen, 40 per cent.

Junior English Party

The party given by members of the junior English classes Monday evening, February 15, in the high school auditorium proved to be a very successful event. Almost all the members of the classes were present. Mrs. Cook's class presented a modern drama, "Suppressed Desires," and Mrs. Abraham's class put on Stuart Walker's play, "Sir David Wears a Crown," as entertainment. Delicious refreshments were served after the plays. All of the English teachers were present, in addition to Mr. and Mrs. Goodman.

GLEE CLUB

The girls' glee club, directed by Miss Ruth Hatton, sang several selections at the Venetian theatre Wednesday evening to advertise the senior play, "Adam and Eva," which is to be given Wednesday and Thursday, February 17 and 18, at the Venetian theatre.

Several new members were added to the boys' glee club last week. The boys' glee club is under the direction of Miss Fuller.

The glee clubs will soon begin practicing on the operetta, "The Garden of the Shah," which they will give this spring.

Cast Goes to Laurel

The cast of the senior play went out to Laurel last Friday night and put on their play, "Adam and Eva." This was hardly more than a dress rehearsal, but the play was put on in good shape.

Is This True?

Wells—"Dutch, who wrote that poetry about you in the Hi-Life?"
Dutch—"It must have been someone whose neck I've twisted."

C. K. C. Meets

The C. K. C.'s held their meeting Monday evening, February 15, at the home of their advisor, Miss Ware. A very interesting program was given.

Shows Apple Shrinkage

The shrinkage of apples in a year's period is shown by two apples on display in the Argus window. They are Ortley apples grown by Ernest Schaefer of Bethany, who grows some of the best apples put on the market. One of the apples was grown in 1924 and has been in the basement. At the beginning it was bigger than the one grown in 1925.

Men's Bible Class Progresses

The men's Bible class of the Christian church is progressing in a fine way. They meet in the main auditorium of the church every Sunday morning at 10 a. m. Rev. Mr. Len B. Fishback is the teacher. The class at present is in a contest with the "Live Wire" class of ladies. The men are just nine points ahead.

The Live Wire class of the Christian church was entertained Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Tompkins, over forty being present. The rooms were decorated in keeping with the day, Lincoln's birthday, and entertainment was along patriotic lines. The color scheme was also carried out in the refreshments. Hostesses were Mrs. Rose Prickett, Miss Anna Tompkins, Miss Martha James, Mrs. William Bowman and Mrs. George Tompkins.

"No Trespass" signs at the Argus.

The Study club held a meeting Monday evening, February 8, at the public library, with Mrs. V. W. Gardner as leader. The topic being studied is, "American History from a Political Standpoint." The club meets next Monday evening at the same place, Mrs. O. B. Gates as leader.

Home Folks Write Very Newsy Letter

A letter from Mr. and Mrs. James Miltenberger, former residents of Hillsboro, who are spending the winter in California, tells of the activities of many former local people.

The Miltenbergers are located at Torrance, and they say that John Dennis, well known here, has been prevailed upon to run for councilman of Torrance at the coming election. Mr. Dennis owns considerable property in that city, and Mr. Miltenberger says it is a case of the "office seeking the man." Charles Raymond, also a former Washington county man, having at one time farmed the Shute place near here, is a resident of Torrance and active in civic affairs.

Among other former Washington county people they have met in California are Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Alexander. "Nick" was in the insurance and real estate business here in 1910-11.

They have visited the Engeldinger family in Los Angeles and report that John is with a large contracting firm and doing well; Vincent, who left here several months ago, played in the theatre at Torrance a few nights ago and expects to have a permanent position in that city. Joe is working nights in a movie laboratory, assisting in developing pictures taken during the day, and Anna and Gertrude are the housekeepers.

The Miltenbergers expect to visit Hillsboro before making their eastern trip.

-I'LL say it's different

You'll want to tell the whole world how "different" General Gasoline is once you have tried it. Talk about new life for your motor—you'll never know the power and action there is in that car of yours till you tell the man at the Green and White Sign to "fill her up with General."

When the sign says "go," you'll GO! There's not a lazy drop in a hundred tankfuls of General. Every day every drop has everything in it that we know how to put there to give your motor the power that takes hills like a breeze, and response that fairly tugs to be off.

Prove it to yourself. Drive up to the Green and White Sign and say "General" to the Independent Dealer. Then you'll know what we mean when we say that General is "Different."

The dealer who serves you with General owns his own station—he is an Independent. "Fill up your tank and let your engine decide."
