BANKS NEWS

Banks Schools Are Going Full Blast

Banks, September 15—The Banks schools started this week, the grade school Monday with Prof. Yoder and the union high school opened yesterday. The grade school teachers are Mrs. Conant, Miss Eleanor Conant and Miss Morgan. Prof. Johnston is at his post in the high school and has for his helpers this year Miss Gilbert, Miss Nora Pehrsson and W. G. Bianchette. The attendance will be much increased when the prune and hop crops are taken care of, which will probably be in about two weeks.

MANY PICK HOPS

Banks, September 15—Hop picking in this section is well under way now, though the hop acreage has decreased considerably in the last few years. The hops that used to grow on the Carstens farm in the north edge of Banks have been dug up and sixty acres of strawberries now take their place. The Love hopyard west of here is one of the largest in this locality and employs about 200 pickers this year.

Banks to Play Franklin

Banks, September 15—The Banks Bear Cats and the Franklin Garage of Portland will cross bats here Sunday in what will probably be a very exciting game as the Banks team holds the scores of games played with several Portland teams this summer and the Franklinites intend to show 'em.

Miss Parmley Elected

Banks, Sept. 15—Cleo Parmley received the highest number of votes in the queen contest held here last week. Louis Fischer was second and Eleanor Conant third.

Mrs. C. D. Miller is here from Portland caring for Mrs. Ralph Wilcox and baby.

Permanent Road is Constructed South

Banks, September 15—The road south from Banks got another coat of dressing this week, which completes this strip of road. The long bridge on this road is being replaced by a new one this week, which was to have been completed yesterday.

The traffic has had to detour by way of Roy or Gales Creek nearly two weeks, but the work is nearly finished and we now have a good permanent road, the first time in years.

Banks Has New Doctor

Banks, September 15—Dr. H. M. Kine and wife came here from Portland last week and are located in the W. G. Walker house. Dr. Kine is a physician and expects to build up a practice in Banks and vicinity. His offices are in his home for the present.

BANKS PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Walker have moved to Portland for the winter in order to eliminate the long drives during the winter months between Portland and Banks for Mr. Walker, who is a member of the Walker orchestra and plays a great deal in and around Portland.
