

Reedville

Oscar Hagg, who is associated with his brother, H. G. Hagg, in the dairy business, played golf on the county course south of Cornelius Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Goit and Mrs. M. Olinger were guests at the Thomas McNutt home at Hillsboro Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Anderson of Suver visited the Imlays Sunday.

Mrs. Anderson is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Imlay. The Anderson family is well known in the Reedville and Witch Hazel districts. P. S. Anderson, who formerly conducted a general store in Reedville, now is a resident of Medford. What used to be known as the Anderson place at Witch Hazel is cut up into a dozen different tracts.

George Imlay was a Portland visitor Monday.

Louis Brown of below Witch Hazel was a Reedville caller Sunday.

Fred Karg, cattle and hog buyer, visited the North Portland markets Monday. Fred is optimistic and reports business good.

Grant Brown, who recently visited at his old home in Ohio, says that the crops are heavy, but that there is an acute shortage of labor. The rural districts are being drained of the man power in the east because the industrial centers offer higher wages than the farmers can pay.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Sullivan of Republic, Wash., were visitors at the Imlay home last week. Mrs. Sullivan is a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Imlay. The Sullivans plan to locate at Klamath Falls.

George Sinclair has his baling work completed.

Carl Trachsel, extensive Reedville dairyman, has completed a large hay storehouse.

Paul Hagg, Portland contractor, and son of David Hagg, retired farmer of below Reedville, visited old time friends here Monday.

During the great war Paul and George Imlay served as gunners on the battleship South Dakota.

Mrs. W. Hickenlooper and daughter, Mildred, of California, are visiting Mrs. Hickenlooper's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Prya at Tobias.

The Misses Mary, Edith and Jessie Wilson of Los Angeles, Cal., who have made a very extensive tour of the country, including points of interest in British Columbia, visited their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Imlay and family.

BENJAMIN C. DOOLEY

Benjamin C. Dooley, 65, a pioneer son of Banks, died at Banks July 27. He was born in what is now called Banks, November 7, 1861, and lived all of his life within a mile of his birthplace.

He was married to Nora Dodds, October 20, 1886. To this union seven children were born, two of whom died in infancy. Those living are Charles, Seaside; Mrs. Bertha Stribick, Forest Grove; Marion, Vernonia; Mrs. Wilma Steel and Jackson at home. His widow also survives. Besides the immediate family he is survived by seven grandchildren, six brothers and a sister.

Dr. O. H. Holmes of Forest Grove conducted the brief service in the home. Mrs. E. C. Wilson and Mrs. A. B. McFarlane of Banks sang. The floral offering was large and beautiful.

Booze Charges Faced

Dan Moran, Garlyn Munkers and Carl Anderson of Forest Grove and Ray Harry Miskimons of Cornelius were arrested by Deputy Sheriff's Virgil Weckert, Oscar Duley and Fred Schnedel near Timber early Sunday morning on booze charges and placed in the county jail.

All community correspondence should be in the newspaper office by Tuesday.

At the Churches

Union Services for August

Several of the Protestant churches of Hillsboro are uniting to maintain a Sunday evening church service on the court house lawn during the month of August. The services will be at 8 o'clock, and the ministers in turn will have charge of the service and preach. The service next Sunday evening will be in charge of Rev. George T. Pratt of the Congregational church. The program will consist of a song service led by Henry Kuratli, assisted by Gail Karns with the cornet. Mr. Karns will also play a cornet solo. The sermon will be on the theme, "What Could God Make of You?" Everybody in Hillsboro is invited to come to the court house lawn on Sunday evening at 8 o'clock and join in the singing and the worship of the hour.

God is not taking a vacation and forgetting you. Why should you forget Him?

The "Knack of Managing"

In the hands of the shrewd and careful housewife family funds seemingly can be "stretched." Some women, the majority in fact, have what is known as "the knack of managing." These are the clever shoppers—those women who study stores and their methods—and plan each expenditure long before it is made. Of such it is often enviously said, "I just don't see how she does it." A sort of "partnership" exists between the Safeway Man and the managing type of women. She has learned to depend upon him—to use the vast facilities he offers to affect the economies that have gained her reputation for her.
