Portland to Hillsboro Hike Draws Attention

Irvine Speech Stirs

Canners Are Formally Introduced; Crowds About as Large as Other Years

The unwelcome antics of Jupiter Pluvius failed to dampen the ardor of the thousands of celebrants that came from far and near to attend the twenty-second annual Fourth of July celebration and Washington mated by some at close to 15,000 last week people

A plea to keep faith with those countrymen who made the great Mrs. O'Brien that the ideals of liberty and democrarcy should prevail to make this a greater and nobler country was made by B. F. Irvine, editor of the Oregon Journal, who spoke on the subject of "Good Citizenship," at the patriotic exercises in the auditorium in the morning. The attendance at the exercises was larger than in previous years.

Leads to Liberty

The American flag, said Mr. Irvine, has led all mankind into the field of liberty. He said that every American should resolve to uphold these ideals so that those who gave the last full measure of devotion to their country should not have died in vain. Our objective, he said, should be to see that good government prevails over crime
