Veteran Talks Armistice Day Of Real Peace

Universal Draft Is the One Road to World Peace

In War For An Ideal

Celebration Event for Day Held in Carnival Dance and "Night in Paris"

The memorial that should be erected to the veterans who made the great sacrifice in the World war is an adequate national defense, brought about through the universal draft, declared Rev. Charles Tator, captain in the Seventy-seventh and Third combat divisions in the American Expeditionary forces during the World war, in an address at the patriotic observance of Armistice Day at the Venetian theater Monday morning.

Don't "Can" Police

He said that if we started a campaign to prevent crime or fires we would not do away with the police or fire departments. Disarmament by America or any other nation will not stop war, he said. The only way it can be brought about is for a complete disarmament—spiritually and mentally and the veteran captain said that the American Legion's plan for a universal draft is the one thing that will accomplish a world peace.

Rev. Tator said that this would eliminate the distinctions of war and not make war a sacrifice to some and a profitable venture for others. War would not last long if the profiteering was removed, according to the speaker.

Mr. Tator took time to explain the meaning of the armistice to the younger people, saying that it merely meant a cessation of hostilities or "time out" while the warring groups were deciding as to whether there would be war or peace. German morale was broken because everything had been used to carry on the war and, quoting interviews with German scholars held while in Germany with the army of occupation, he said that Germany was beaten by hunger, sorrow and discouragement.

The price of war is too great, declared the speaker. If the treaty had not been signed June 25, 1919, the war would have been resumed.

Proud of Wilson Ideals

America was in the war for an ideal, pointed out the speaker. He said that as an attack of the American peace commission he knew that the idealism as represented by Woodrow Wilson and his associates was something of which this country could be proud.

Mr. Tator, who was a veteran of the Spanish American war, paid tribute to those men and especially to the thinning line of Grand Army veterans, saying that had it not been for them we would have had no country for which to fight.

Everything that has come to the veterans of the World war, according to the speaker, has been the result of the efforts of the American Legion. He said it was the duty of every ex-service man to join the American Legion and be loyal to his comrades.

Mr. Tator said that there could be much work along Americanization lines done among native born Americans.

In deploring the strutting activity of some Americans, he said the worth of his country is the worth of the individual at the center.

Mrs. V. W. Gardner sang a solo, accompanied by Miss Lenora Bryant. The legion ritualistic work was put on by Commander William H. Dierdorff, Vice-Commander Paul Patterson, L. E. Stiff and J. H. Merton. The exercises were opened with "America," and closed with the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner." Commander Dierdorff was the master of ceremonies.

A minute of silence was observed in honor of the war dead.

Several squads of American Legion members marched from the Veterans' hall to the theater. Representatives of the Grand Army of the Republic, the Women's Relief Corps and the Legion Auxiliary were on the platform.

As the first Armistice Day meant happiness to millions throughout the world, the gay side of the day was stressed at the annual carnival dance and "Night in Paris," at the Shute Park auditorium.

The committee in charge of arrangements for the day was J. H. Merton, chairman, and Henry Kamina and H. L. MacKenzie.

Legionnaires Are On Drive for New Members in Post

The week beginning November 11 is the American Legion Week throughout the land and Washington county legionnaires are working hard to bring their posts up to the quota set by the state department. Commander W. H. Dierdorff, in charge of the membership drive for the Hillsboro post, announced Tuesday night at the post meeting that 54 members had been signed, and that it would be necessary to sign up 106 more by Sunday to come up to the quota.

Carl Russell has taken over the position as scoutmaster of the troop sponsored by the legion.

Charles D. Jones, district committeeman of the American Legion, won the legion blanket offered by the activities committee of the legion for selling the greatest number of tickets for the Armistice Day dance. Mr. Jones sold 108.

There will be sentimental numbers and patriotic features making up a well balanced list to be presented by the talent coming here under the direction of Chief of Police L. V. Jenkins of Portland. ## Large Number See Gridsters Take a Defeat

Tillamook Is Victorious in a Hard Fought Game

Eliminated As Champs

Intercepted Pass Starts Scor- ing for Visitors; Field Slows Up Play

Coach Byron M. Goodman's blue and white grid team was humbled 19 to 14 at the high school athletic field Monday afternoon by a fast and fighting team from Tillamook, before the largest crowd to witness a football game in Hillsboro this season.

Turn Out Good Players

Tillamook demonstrated that they were adept at turning out good football players as well as cheese. They took advantage of every Hillsboro mistake and converted several into touchdowns. The Cheese-makers were exceptionally fast for the wet field.

The annual game with the coast boys saw Hillsboro eliminated from the conference leadership and the winners moved into the undisputed leadership.

The first period ended with no scoring on either side, but in the second quarter Chapin intercepted a pass and galloped 50 yards for a touchdown. Coach Goodman's boys came back full of fight and Tillamook recovered a blocked Tillamook punt on the 25-yard line. Repeated line bucks advanced the ball and Jack Rushlow went through for the score. John Hare kicked the extra point.

With the second period almost over, a pass to Stewart, who ran 40 yards, netted the visitors another touchdown. In the third quarter, James, the basketball shark, broke through the blue and white line for a 40-yard run to make it 19 points.

Put Up Real Fight

In the last period Hillsboro put up a wonderful fight and got the ball on the Tillamook 1-yard line when the winners interfered with Reese, who was about to catch the ball. Again Rushlow led the line for a touchdown and Hare converted. Whatever chance the locals had of scoring again, vanished when the cheese-makers intercepted another pass.

Hillsboro did not put up its usual spectacular playing due to the bad condition of the field. The ground was too slick for Blazer and Rae to come through with their usual stellar ball carrying. Rushlow and M. Johnston hit the line for big gains.

Hills made ten first downs to five for Tillamook, due to the ground-gaining ability shown by Jack Rushlow. The playing of John Hare at end was outstanding as usual, and George Bagley played a bear of a game at center.

The Tillamook Headlight, commenting on Hillsboro players, said: "Hare, Hillsboro's widely heralded left end, proved to be one of the biggest mainstays of the team, as did Rushlow at fullback."

Freeman, Chase, rt; Gabie, rg; Bagley, ct; Patterson, lg; H. Johnson, lt; Hare, le; Rae, qb; Blazer, lb; M. Johnson, rh, and Rushlow, fb. Substitutes: Dinsmore for Gabie; Pasley for Chase, and Reese for H. Johnson.

He was introduced by Charles Jones, district legion committeeman, and A. H. Busch was chairman.

The accusation that the American Legion is militant is far from being true, Mr. Carson said. He pointed out that the legion was stressing the necessity for being prepared to cope with any emergency that might arise.

Mr. Carson said that he thought behind the observance of Armistice Day was to preserve the ideals to which this country was committed when it fought in the World war.

The five minute program was put on by Verne McKinney, who talked on the subject of "Typographical Errors."

Hillsboro Graders Win From Old Rivals

The Hillsboro grade school's football team defeated Forest Grove grade school by a score of 6 to 13 on the Forest Grove field Armistice day. Wilbur Hays was an outstanding star on the team, due to his long end runs, but Raymond Sande made the two touchdowns. Forest Grove was able to make its only score by an intercepted pass. The Hillsboro line-up was as follows: Raymond Sande, fb; Howard Thomas, qb; Ray Freely, lb; Donald Kerns, rh; David Combs, le; Ambrose Chioti, lt; Burton Sopher, lg; Elwood Rollins, c; Willard Newton, rg; Arthur Hanna, rt, and Kenneth Stone, re.
