Business Men Guests Monday Legion Dinner

Hospital Head and Veterans Bureau Manager Speak

Program Full With Fun

American Legion Entertains Heads of Local Business Institutions at Feed

The spirit of co-operation predominated at the annual American Legion business men's banquet, given in the dining room at the Ray-Maling cannery Monday night for the heads of Hillsboro's business institutions.

Dr. Paul Carter, head of the Veterans' hospital in Portland, said such meetings with the business men are suggestive of the spirit of co-operation that exists between the legionnaires and the business men throughout the nation. He stated that the American Legion was back of every worthwhile effort in the community.

Hospital Fine

The new hospital in Portland, which is to be opened some time this month, will be one of the finest hospitals in the country, according to Dr. Carter. When a veteran goes to the hospital, the legion and the auxiliary steps in to help the family at home, he said. Dr. Carter stated that he would like to see the veteran assured of a job in his community when he returns from the hospital.

The work of the veterans' bureau was discussed by Kenneth Cooper, bureau head in Portland. He said the legion was a big factor in furthering this work, and making available to veterans the many fine things that they now enjoy, such as hospitalization and the adjusted compensation. Hospital treatment, he said, is given any veteran of any war. He described vocational training as preparing a man for work in a line where his disability would not interfere.

Support of the Boy Scout work in Hillsboro was urged by Charles Jones, district committeeman, and Paul Patterson. Short talks were given by Ed Luce, Neil Emmott, Harry Hill, W. W. Boscow, B. E. Maling, W. G. Hare, George Limber, Orange Phelps, Charles Wells, E. J. Kuratli, John Connell, R. W. Weil, Carl Carlson, Jake Weil and Ernest Schmid, commander of Forest Grove post.

Given Welcome

A welcome to the business men was extended by William H. Dierdorff, commander of the legion post. Charles Jones acted as master of ceremonies and received many compliments.

Singing, dancing and instrumental numbers added to the business men's entertainment. The dinner was served under the direction of Chef Archie Bryant, who is gaining much fame as the result of handling this for the legion for the last two years.

The Fisher's Flour Mills turned out hot biscuits from electric ovens for the feed.

The committee in charge of arrangements included Jack Murton, Henry Kamna and H. L. MacKenzie.

The legion is appreciative of the splendid co-operation shown by the following business institutions: Ray-Maling for the use of quarters and equipment; Manger's laundry for linen; Imperial Cafe and Palm Drug store for cigars; Valentine Abadie for honey; Fisher Flour Mills for biscuits; Newsham Greenhouse for flowers; Perfection Bakery and the Imperial Cafe for assistance in preparation of food.

Arrested on Booze Charge After Visit

Harry Gardner was arrested Monday by Sheriff Reeves shortly after Gardner had called on a friend at the county jail. He was arrested on a liquor charge. Sounds like he was courting disaster.

Ed Alexander Crowned King of Fiddlers For County in Event Sponsored by the Venetian Theater and Business Houses

Ed Alexander of Cornelius won first place in the finals of the Washington county fiddlers' contest at the Venetian theater last Thursday evening. Frank Clark of Hillsboro was second, Calvin Whitmore of Laurel was third, and F. E. Rowell of Scholls was fourth.

Jurors in circuit court have been excused until December 12, while Judge George R. Bagley is holding court in Tillamook.

Carl Lehman was Friday found guilty by a jury of a liquor law violation. Ray Delsman was Saturday given two sentences of $500 and six months on two indictments. A parole was to be granted after he had served 60 days and paid $500. Harold Weiden and Edward Greevy were given the usual $500 and six months, and then paroled for $150. Lawrence Guam was fined $100 and paroled for $50. J. B. Beckwith pleaded not guilty.

Forest Grove Gives Locals a Real Scare

Making two touchdowns in the third quarter and adding another in the fourth, Hillsboro union high school came from behind in the annual Thanksgiving day battle with the Forest Grove team here, to win 20 to 6.

The visitors were outplayed in every department of the game and was only the inability of the local boys to get started, coupled with some bad breaks, that kept the score down. No sooner had the game started than Rea brought the ball deep into the Grove territory, but Blazer's fumble was recovered by Whitcomb, who ran 85 yards for his team's only score this season.

The winners again put the ball within scoring distance, but another fumble put a temporary end to this threat. The Hills squad came back the second half with a score-or-die spirit and with a determination to win, which they made good.

Rushlow and Johnson bucked the ball down the field and Jack crashed through the line to even the score. Again Rushlow broke through the Grove line on an off-tackle buck, and ran 40 yards to make the score 12 to 6. In the fourth quarter a pass, Rea to Hare, put the ball on the eight-yard line, from where Rea went over with the last score.

The playing of Freeman, Gabie, Bagley, Dinsmore, Hare, Pasley, Rushlow, Rea and H. Johnson, who donned their football togs for Hillsboro for the last time in the turkey day classic, was outstanding. The plunging of Rushlow and end runs by Rea showed up big.

Substitutes were Bagley, Rushlow, Rebe, Rogger, T. Tongue, B. Tongue, Vickers, Hill, Turner, Welch, Sahnou, Delplanche, Kelley, Hult, Johnstone, Cawrse, Wilson, Batchelar, and McDaniels.

Benefit Play to Be Presented by The Relief Corps

For the first time in several years the Grand Army of the Republic and the Women's Relief Corps are asking the public patronage at a comedy, "The Patsy," to be presented at the Venetian theater December 18.

It is under the direction of Mrs. H. H. Stannard. Miss Mildred McLeod is the leading lady, and Tom Caldwell is leading man. They are supported by Mrs. Stannard, Miss Fanny Konigan, Art Miltenberger and William H. Dierdorff.

The story is of an American home and the suppression of a young sister by the overbearing mother and a sarcastic older sister. Poor henpecked dad is her only champion. He suddenly turns tables and brings everyone to their senses.

Auto Accident Fatal; Woman Dies of Shock

Mrs. Emily Carpenter, 76, of Forest Grove, died Sunday night in the Forest Grove hospital following an automobile accident on the highway near the Spring Hill road early Sunday evening. Death, physicians stated, was due to shock. Mrs. Catherine Hollenbeck suffered a bruised shoulder and chest.

Mrs. Carpenter was riding with her daughter, Mrs. L. R. Carpenter, when the car collided with one driven by Albert Wise, also of Forest Grove. Wise in his report of the accident to the sheriff says that he was going south on right of the highway uphill when the Carpenter car was coming north and down the hill. The other car, he said, swerved into his car in the rear, causing the Carpenter car to go in the ditch.

Wise and J. C. Coates, the owner of the car, were driving back to the Mrs. Matteson place in Scoggins Valley where they are surveying for the Oregon-Washington Water Service company.

Sheriff J. E. Reeves investigated the accident.

Miss Eva Oakes of Hillsboro received cuts about the face and head in an automobile accident on the highway east of the city late Sunday night. A car driven by Luke Stangel of Hillsboro struck one driven by John Burress of Banks. Stangel in his report said he was driving west in the heavy fog and did not see the other car until it was too late.

Burress suffered a broken shoulder and was cut and bruised, while Willard Shipley, who was riding with him, was cut about the head and bruised.

Frieda Knorr, 6, received a fractured arm and bruises about the head when she was struck by a car driven by Carlos Lagerfeld of Beaverton on Broadway street in Beaverton Tuesday. Lagerfeld in his report said the girl darted out in front of his car.

County Places High in Spuds

Nutmere, a walnut orchard company, in charge of Rowell Bros., at Scholls, received first on certified Burbanks at the Pacific Northwest Potato show at Spokane, with a score of 977 out of a possible 1000, according to word received Monday by County Agent O. T. McWhorter. Nutmere also won first award on Commercial Burbanks with a score of 979.

According to the report Washington county Burbanks received a higher score than did potatoes of any variety from the states of Idaho, Washington, British Columbia and Alberta.

John Strickler, a member of the Chehalis Mountain 4-H Potato club for the past four years, was awarded first prize on Certified and Commercial Burbank potatoes in the 4-H club classes.

Tutors Name Leaders

E. G. Webb Is President; Unit System for County Urged By Thomas Gentle

A movement to erect a fitting memorial over the grave of David Hill, often mentioned as the first governor of Oregon, and who lies in an unmarked grave in the Hillsboro cemetery, was started at the teachers' institute here last week by Mrs. Edith Tozier Weatherford of Champege. Hillsboro was named after Mr. Hill.

Committee at Work

Mr. Hill was one of a committee of three to govern Oregon before the provisional government was organized. A committee from the Washington County Teachers' association was appointed to organize work in the schools, with the idea of securing from five to ten cents from each child and to give the children an insight into their own local Oregon history. B. W. Barnes of Hillsboro, J. P. McGlasson of Forest Grove and L. R. Metzger of Beaverton were named on the committee.

E. G. Webb of Beaverton was named president of the county association. Other officers are: Miss Leone Graham, Forest Grove, vice-president; Mrs. Ida Hornecker, Rock Creek, secretary, and Mrs. Josephine Case, Hillsboro, treasurer.

The county unit school system was discussed by Thomas Gentle of the university extension division. All schools in the county with the exception of first class districts and of the second class with 500 students in the census, would be governed by a board of five, who would select a county superintendent. Mr. Gentle says this would take the schools out of politics and bring about an equal distribution of the school taxes.

Dean J. R. Jewell of Oregon State college pointed out the difference between the present day educational methods and those of several years ago.

Education today develops the individual and brings out originality, according to a statement made at the institute by Dr. Norman Coleman, president of Reed college.

There is no more wickedness among the young today than in other years, declared Dr. D. V. Poling of Albany, who led in the community singing. He objected to the young people being condemned because they are more open than their fathers and mothers. Dr. Poling said that he would guarantee that there were more hid in the days of the saloon than today. Those who are bemoaning the lack of enforcement, he said, do not realize the horrors of saloon days.

The delegates to the Oregon State Teachers' association which will be held in Portland during the last week of December are: Leonard Alley, Gaston; B. W. Barnes, Hillsboro; Mrs. C. E. Barker, Aloha; Miss Myrtle Cullen, Garden Home; and J. P. McGlasson, Forest Grove. Mrs. Nellie Cochrane of Garden Home, Albert Yokar of Banks, Miss Josephine Uppenkamp of Hillsboro, and Miss Beatrice Brown of Laurel are alternates.

The following resolutions were adopted:

That a speaker be secured by the incoming superintendent to again present the county unit system for taxation and school administration at the next county institute, and that some arrangement be made to have the system presented and explained to the members of the local school boards and school patrons of Washington county. A vote of thanks was extended to the Union high school district No. 3 for the use of their buildings; a vote of appreciation to Mrs. Emma Bryant, retiring school superintendent, and a vote of welcome to N. A. Frost, incoming superintendent. In another resolution they urge that the school boards of the respective districts consider the provision of adequate and suitable living conditions for teachers.

The retiring officers present and acting were E. G. Webb, Beaverton, vice-president; Mrs. Margaret Mooberry, Cornelius, secretary, and Mrs. Josephine Case, Hillsboro, treasurer.

Charles Hurd of Portland; solo, Miss Katherine Everett, Willamette university; address, "What they ask of us," Rev. Walter VanNuy of Portland; Rev. Everett of Portland had charge of the afternoon program. Rev. E. B. Lockhart and family, and Mr. and Mrs. James Forsythe and son, of Hillsboro, attended.

Buildings May Be Condemned Under New Ordinance

A condemnation ordinance, which gives the council the right to condemn buildings that are dangerous and fire hazards, was passed by the city council Tuesday evening.

The radio ordinance, which was read for the third time, was held up for revision. The registration fee will be eliminated, but the ordinance will include a fine for failure to register home vibrating machines or other machines that interfere with radio broadcasting. A number of doctors presented their side of the case, which involves the ultraviolet ray machines.

Property owners near the Mungler's laundry were present to protest the smoke nuisance from the laundry. They contend that ashes destroy vegetation and ruin clothes. The laundry is being asked to remedy this, or be termed a nuisance.

A hydrant was ordered in near the new high school.

Law Breaking Bad Example

The United States was termed the greatest law breaking nation in the world by Miss Manche Langley, Forest Grove attorney, in an address before the Hillsboro chamber of commerce Monday noon. The program was put on by the Business and Professional Women's club, and the president, Miss Mildred McLeod, was chairman.

Miss Langley cited the liquor and prohibition law violations as examples. Flagrant violations of these laws, she said, furnished a bad example for youth, who does not know how to discriminate. The speaker pointed out that it was impossible to do away with what some might term "fool laws" by breaking them. She said we should about-face on the matter of law breaking and set a good example for the younger generation. A help in this direction, she declared, would be greater interest in politics and public affairs.

W. C. Theda of the industries committee reported on the progress made by the L. B. Haley chicken factory near Bethany. Mr. Theda said that Mr. Haley, who was employed several men, packed 11,000 cans in October, and that it has increased from a kitchen plant to a small factory.

K. A. Price of the new music and electric store said that Hillsboro was selected after a careful study of the Oregon and Washington territory.

Weils Return from Honolulu Excursion

The reception given in Honolulu to the people of the northwest who made the excursion on the S. S. Malolo to Honolulu, was a wonderful event, according to Jake Weil, who with Mrs. Weil and Mr. and Mrs. N. Weil, returned Friday. The boat left Portland harbor November 8 and arrived back in San Francisco November 27.

Mr. Weil said the excursion should be beneficial to Oregon trade with the island, and that the presence of Mayor George L. Baker of Portland was a fine thing for the state and Portland. The trip was arranged by the Portland chamber of commerce.

Fees and fines collected by County Clerk E. C. Luce during November totaled $3,807.88, according to a report filed with the county court. Justice of Peace H. A. Kuratli reported receipts of $48.50.

Busy Postmen Need Help for Rush to Come

"Mail Early" Plea Made by
Postmaster Holznagel

Suggestions Are Made

Co-operation of Public Needed To Prevent Congestion and Delay

"Mail your Christmas parcels early," as an aid to the busy postmen, is the plea of Fred Holznagel, Hillsboro postmaster.

Due to last minute rush when thousands of parcels are handled in the postoffices throughout the country, clerks have no time to check inaccurate addresses, nor carefully examine illegible writing, and, consequently, each year thousands of packages are held up for delivery after the rush during the week before Christmas.

No Delivery Christmas
Every effort will be made to handle the Christmas mails without congestion and delay, but owing to the enormous volume of mail to be done only with the co-operation of the public, according to the postmaster. He says to mail early for delivery before Christmas day, on which there will be no mail delivery.

Mr. Holznagel calls attention to a few things to be observed in Christmas mailing:

"Pack and wrap your parcels securely, using strong paper for the outside wrapper, and tie with strong twine. The use of holly paper or colored paper of any kind for the outside wrapper of parcels is objectionable because such paper is usually not tough, and also because an address written thereon cannot be easily read.

"Articles such as glassware, fragile toys, etc., which are easily broken, must be crated or securely packed, using plenty of excelsior or similar material to prevent breakage.

"In previous years many parcels have been presented for mailing on which Christmas stickers were placed over the string or otherwise in such a manner as to seal the parcel. This should not be done if it is intended to send the parcel at the parcel post rate, as such procedure subjects the parcel to the first class rate of postage.

"The use of the special delivery service will expedite delivery at the office of address and entitles parcel post matter to first class handling while in transit. Be sure, however, that the proper special delivery fee is paid so that no collection of postage dues will have to be made from the addressee.

"When parcels are presented which contain breakable articles the attention of the employee accepting it should be called to this fact so that it may be indorsed "fragile." Address all parcels on one side only. When separate address tags or labels are used be sure that they are securely attached to the parcel."

Dr. Dobbs to Talk Before Coffee Club

Hostesses for the afternoon will be Mrs. L. A. Long, Mrs. C. W. White and Mrs. Fred Bowly.
