

Kinton Calf Club Social Held Friday

KINTON—The 4-H Calf club of Kinton held a box social and musical literary program at the home of Mrs. E. L. Cox on Friday evening. A large crowd attended, with a number from out-of-town. The orchestra from Sherwood furnished the music. Harry Hansen of Beaverton and a young lady sang several vocal numbers, club members put on a couple of plays. Miss Verna Kopp of Sherwood gave several readings, and Joe Belanger, assistant county agent, gave a talk. Leland Flint, club leader, auctioned off the prizes, which netted the club over $30. This will be applied to sending delegates to summer school at Corvallis in June.

Martin Vandermast commenced building a house on his tract on Pleasant Valley road, during the past week. The work is being done by Earl Bell and E. L. Cox. There was a very good attendance of members of the Albright Brotherhood meeting Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pomeroy, The Flat road. Services at the church for this Sunday, preaching by the pastor, Rev. W. E. Simpson at 9 o'clock. Bible school at 10:15. Christian Endeavor meeting at 8 o'clock in the evening. Carl VanKleeke, leader.

Special meeting of the grange which was scheduled for the 16th has been postponed until Thursday evening, May 31, at 8 o'clock, at which time the degree team Alpha Grange will exemplify the third and fourth degrees upon a class of 10 candidates. All grangers are invited to be present. Mrs. Mable Leachman and son, who visited her mother, Mrs. Louise VanKleeke, last week, returned to her home in Portland the first of the week.

John Richards, brother of Harry A. Richards, arrived from Nebraska during the past week to spend the summer among his relatives in and near Portland. Home Economics club held a special meeting at the home of Mrs. J. T. VanHorn on Friday afternoon and weekend on the quilt.

All are invited to attend the "Silver Tea" Friday afternoon, May 25, at the home of Mrs. Madge Pomeroy. Special attraction for the afternoon will be a talk on "Egypt" by Mrs. Ford Groner of the school, who recently made a trip through that interesting country. The Ladies Aid society of Kinton is sponsoring the tea, the proceeds to be applied to the preacher's salary. Remember the date. Everybody welcome.

Mrs. Dora Ransweiler of Ashford, Wash., and her son, George Ransweiler, and Mrs. E. L. Cox, Thruway, Wash., were guests of Mrs. Ransweiler's cousin, E. L. Cox, Thursday and Friday. This was their first visit to this part of the state.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. VanHorn and daughters of Portland were guests for the day Sunday at the home of Mr. VanHorn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. VanHorn.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Aten and children were guests Sunday at the home of Mr. Aten's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Merilyn. Their daughter Merilyn was observing her first birthday anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Watkins of the Sheridan Gardens, Newberg, were present and planted a Redwood tree in honor of her birthday anniversary.

All voters in this precinct are urged to be present at the voting place in the school house Friday. Polls open at 8 o'clock in the morning and will be open all day until 8 o'clock in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Rene Meltebecke and children of Hillsboro spent Sunday with Mrs. Meltebecke's mother, Mrs. Lovina Wedeking, and other relatives around town. Kinton school will close officially on Monday, with a picnic during the day, lunch at noon and games in the afternoon. All parents and others interested in the school are invited to attend.

Mother's Day was observed at the session of Bible school held at the church Sunday morning, with a good attendance of the mothers and others. Mrs. Mary Aten had charge of the following program: Song by all; welcome, Donna Mestentine; prayer, Mrs. Warren Wilson; vocal duet, Robert Pomeroy and Freddie Boyles; recitations, Wilbur Miller, Ruth Wright and Billie Wright; dialogue, "The Secret," Live Wire; vocal solo, Marylee Pomeroy; recitations, Paul Peterson and Roberta Pomeroy; quartet, Kathryn Pomeroy, Nedra Miller, Rosemary Aten and Beulah Boyles; recitations, Beulah Peterson, Billie Barnum; readings, "Mother's in Literature and the Bible," Gladys Aten; song by all.

Former County Resident Tells of Experience Through Europe

Homeward journey from Italy is described in a letter from Rev. Rex Dallas, pastor of the Albany Church of Christ, and former Washington county boy. Rev. Dallas was born and reared at Gates Creek. He is a nephew of C. W. Thrapp of Hillsboro. The letter, written from Taormina, Sicily, was mailed to Naples arriving there in the night. In the morning we were taken by cars to Pompeii, passing through the city of Vesuvius which is continually pouring out clouds of black smoke and reflecting the color of the molten mass below. It is an awe-inspiring sight. Pompeii is about 13 miles from Naples and the country lying between is very rich and fertile except where the lava rock projects. Because of the raise grapes, oranges, lemons, olives, nuts and many different kinds of fruit.

Pompeii Fascinates
Pompeii, I think, the most interesting place we have visited. It was a city of 25,000 inhabitants and was partially ruined by an eruption of Vesuvius in A. D. 79. It was completely covered by ashes from Vesuvius to a depth of 15 feet. Everyone who was unable to get away carried their valuables to the city of considerable size and one could spend a week there going through the streets, houses and shops. The streets were wide and paved with stones. The houses were built with brick and plaster. The streets were lined with trees. Our next stop was Mainz, Germany. It is a railroad center and manufacturing city. In fact every city and town seems to be a manufacturing center. Factories dot the country everywhere and the great brick chimneys stand out over the landscape like old snags in a burn. Germany is by far the most prosperous looking country on the whole that we have seen. It is very large, modern and lively. There were many parks and gardens. Except in the old section we had seen enough of the falling ashes, everything was smothered but nothing burned so it is in a remarkable state of preservation. The ruins are so long. They found bread in the ovens, wine in the vats, chickens on their nests, oil in the jars, dogs chained to the walls. In fact everything just as the city was when the mountain erupted. The ancient water troughs and lead pipes which carried the water are still to be seen as plain as ever and the marks of carriage wheels can be plainly discerned on the pavement. The ruins are so well preserved that one can see the city and then visit the museum and see the things taken from the excavated ruins one is compelled to say that there is really nothing much new under the sun.

Visits Rome
On Friday we got our tickets and secured our German visas and took the train for Rome. On the train we met a couple of Jewish women whom we had seen on the ship. They could speak a little Italian and were giving us a good lesson. On Saturday we went down to the Italian Exposition. We had to do this in order to get a one third fare reduction through Italy. The exposition was mostly advertisement of what had been accomplished in Italy since Mussolini has been here this year graduating from N. U. S. May 31.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Otto and baby son are in the hospital. Mrs. Cornelius Ott, who has been ill for several weeks, is able to get out again.

Ira G. McCormick was in bed five days last week with illness. She went to Portland Tuesday to recuperate at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Allan Cumber. Wayne Brunson went to the coast hills Saturday and brought his father-in-law, Will Meyers, who is taking up a homestead, home with him.

Mother's Day guests at the McInnis home were Mr. and Mrs. D. W. McInnis and sons of Reedville and Mrs. Besse Smith and daughter Patricia of Portland.

Mrs. Ray Harrington of Middleton spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. George Zeigler, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Oakes of Hillsboro visited Mrs. Zeigler Friday evening.

Mrs. Lena Meyers and daughter Nancy were guests of Sussaber family of Cornelius on a trip to the Bonnevile dam Sunday in honor of Mother's Day. Others from here who made this trip Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. John Walker, their house guest, Mrs. Edith Anderson, and Mrs. Walker's mother, Mrs. F. D. Thompson of Portland.

Mrs. B. F. Deford entertained with a supper Saturday evening for Mr. and Mrs. Lester Morgan and Mrs. George Zeigler, Mr. and Mrs. Moehne mill, Mrs. Hayes' sister, Miss Julia Ward, of Oakland, and Duane Hayes of Hillsboro. They attended the Pleasant View program later in the evening.

Gloria Hoffman is spending the week in Portland as a guest of Maxine Williams. She also visited Enola Barlow.

Castles on Rhine
The trip down the Rhine was very interesting. It is not much larger than the Willamette, but there is an enormous amount of traffic carried on it. Barges and tow boats by the hundreds. We didn't follow the river all the way but saw many old castles and ancient ruins.

When we crossed the border into Holland we were at once aware of the fact for there were the old Dutch windmills in town. Cows by the hundred, Holland is very low and wet and all cut by ditches. There were no fences and no stock anywhere. The people live on their farms and the most of them have nice homes and are very prosperous. We had one day in Rotterdam. It is a very prosperous city built on islands by canals. Practically all the commerce of the city is carried on by boats on these canals. There are boats of every kind, sort and description. There is a wonderful harbor and a great deal of inland commerce and trade goes through the city to the interior of Holland and Germany. Rotterdam is a very modern city and very European.

Infertious Abortion Free Milk
(By Oregon State Board of Health)

In the management of dairy herds there are a few fundamental facts that must be kept in mind in order to maintain herds free from infertious abortion or to eradicate the disease if the herd is infected. It is an established fact that most of the abortions in cattle herds are due to specific microbes. Neglect to regard every case of abortion as being an infertious case results as a rule in extensive spread of the disease in the herd. The blood test for the diagnosis of abortion disease is as reliable as the tuberculin test is for the diagnosis of tuberculosis.

Abortion disease is spread mainly from the diseased cow directly to the healthy cow by a more or less close association of animals. The infertious cow is an active source of danger to other cows as long as the infection discharges. The udder of the cow has been shown to be the most constant habitat of the infertious organisms than the udder. For this reason the milk of the infected cow is a source for spreading the disease. Human beings have been infected with the germ of abortion disease by ingesting cow's milk. The disease in man is known as undulant fever. The fever is of an undulating or wave like type, mistaken at times for malaria, typhoid, rheumatic fever or influenza. The attack in some patients is mild, while in others severe and with remission may persist weeks, months, or even several years.

There is a popular impression that infertious abortion disease is present to some extent in practically all dairy herds. This is not true as there are many herds that are free from this disease. However, the insidious nature of this disease and the losses suffered when a consid-
