tion which this office holds to the gubernatorial succession. In view of the possibility that they may be able to dictate the senate organization the democrats therefore, are already discussing possible candidates for the gavel-wielding job. Of the 13 democrats in the next senate only seven are veterans and therefore eligible to be chosen. These are W. H. Strayer of Baker county; Ashby C. Dickson of Multnomah; John Goss of Coos; Walter S. Fisher of Douglas; James H. Hazlett of Hood River; and Henry L. Heat of Union. Of these only Strayer with 20 years of continuous service with his credit is by far the most experienced and the logical choice for the democratic leadership, but is said to be not very eager for responsibility. Dickson, on the other hand, has had previous experience and is ambitious for the honor and the other four in a receptive mood.

How the First National Bank Was Originally Established
Sixty-nine years ago... 3 years after Hillsboro became the county seat of Washington County... The First National Bank opened in Portland, then a pioneer trading post. There was no national bank on the Pacific Coast... gold dust or furs were the medium of exchange.

How the First National Bank Was Originally Established
To facilitate the business of the rapidly growing Oregon area, a group of pioneers organized this bank in 1865, under the first national bank charter to be granted West of the Rockies.
