See Deadly Spider

Tigard had its first glimpse of a Black widow spider last week when one was caught by Wilbur Biederman as it was escaping from a crate he was unpacking. There was some scurring around until John Hamilton picked it up on a big knile and put it into a bottle. It is shiny black and has an orange hourglass on the underside. It has short legs. The bite of a female is more often deadly compared to a bite of the male. The spider was pickled and given to Tigard high school.
