

Lodges Plan Installation

Rebekahs, I. O. O. F. Will Install at Tigar

TIGARD—A joint installation of officers of Tigarville Rebekah lodge, Tigar I. O. O. F. lodge, Ruby Rebekah, Lincoln I. O. O. F. of Scholls is scheduled for January 10 at the Tigar Odd Fellow temple. Charly will hold a short business session at 7:30 p. m. to make way for the installation ceremony. Installation will take place as soon after 8 o'clock as is possible and the public is invited. A short program is being prepared to take up the rest of the evening.

Woodyard Success
SERA woodyard in Tigard is operating successfully under the direction of Timothy Casey, local supervisor, with a considerable amount of wood being cut. Work is now directed on the second group of logs placed in the woodyard by the county relief committee. Workers are cutting the wood up into cordwood lengths. The county gets a fifth of the wood cut. Working conditions are good, favorable, but there are some working at the yard at all times.

Annual Christmas dinner was given by Mrs. H. W. McDonald at their home in Tigardville to a number of relatives and friends. Among those attending were Mrs. and Mrs. George Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Tigar, Mr. and Mrs. George Tigar, Mrs. Marguerite Donald, Mrs. Elizabeth Vincent, Miss Clara McD., Mrs. Art Vincent, Curtis Tigar, and Misses Viola, Mable and Evelyn McDonald.

Officers of Tigar Grange degree team initiated Rev. and Mrs. S. R. Smith of Tigard Methodist church into the first and second degree December 21. A Christmas pie program was given under the direction of Sarah VanKleeck, secretary, the pie turning out to be presents. Various games were played during the lecture hour.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gaarde entertained on Christmas for Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Gaarde, Mr. and Mrs. William Heilmann and son Bobby, Mr. and Mrs. Hans Hansen and children Richard and Estelle and William Morgenson.

A colorful circus troupe, which has been putting on several performances around the country, played before members of Multnomah Rebekah lodge on Friday evening in an original setting of fir trees. Members of the troupe are local Rebekahs and Odd Fellows and their fans at eye-opens is spreading. An appearance before the local grange is scheduled this week.

Annual Evangelical church Christmas program was held December 23 at the church with over 75 attending. Candy was distributed to the youngsters with candy canes going to the audience. Members of the Missionary society planned a surprise for Mrs. W. Rademacher, which was presented during the program.

George Arnold fell Thursday and injured his face.
Consider Flood Control
Cleaning out of the brush in Fanno creek from Greenburg to Bonita has been suggested as an SERA project to eliminate some of the serious floods that have been coming down through Tigard in recent years. Each year high water from the creek has caused considerable damage.

Mrs. Fanny Smith, sister of Mrs. Ervilia Tigar, left for Los Angeles to be with her sister-in-law, who is seriously ill in that city.

Damage Wrought
Tigar has been greeted with the various elements of winter during the past week and considerable damage has been done. High water along Fanno creek early Saturday morning, caused the drowning of a cow and the taking away of some fence. High water from the creek on Tuesday night, caused a number of trees and light poles causing interruptions in light service. Real first snow in this vicinity was seen Saturday night with over an inch on the highway near West Portland.

A group of former Tigar high school players took a 42 to 14 beating from the fast stepping independent team, Blitz-Weinhard of Portland Thursday night. The high school gym Blitz ran up a score of 14 to 1 in the first quarter before the locals could get organized. The independent team is composed of ex-college basketball stars and is rated as one of the best in Portland. The Sherwood team won a game from the Oregon Journal team at Sherwood Friday night by score of 29 to 26. The next inter-city league game will be played at Sherwood Friday night.

Friends of Miss Lois Jones and Darroll Frewing, who recently announced their engagement, greeted the young couple at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Frewing Friday night and presented Miss Jones with a linen shower.

New Mayor, Council Sworn in Wednesday

earnest desire to work with the department to the end that the city could get out of the class seven rating by fire underwriters and into the class enjoyed by some neighboring cities.

Garrett also stated that he believed the managerial form of government to be sound, and declared that such a system should be extended to the county and state. He stated that the new council would continue to work on a zoning ordinance, building codes to take care of the needs of the growing city and new ordinances pertaining to revenue measures.

Roster of city employees recommended by the mayor and confirmed by the council included George McGee, city manager; P. L. Patterson, city attorney; W. C. Christensen, treasurer; Dr. J. B. Dinsmore, health officer; Wilbur Dillon, fire marshal; O. O. Freeman, police chief; W. W. Weaver, night officer, and S. W. Melhuish, fire chief. Arthur Kroeger, H. A. Deck and J. M. Person were named as members of the library board. Appointments on the city planning commission will be announced later, according to Garrett.

Committee appointments for 1935 were announced as follows: Finance—M. H. Stevenson, J. M. Person and J. L. Anderson. Park—Anderson, L. C. Kramien and J. J. Wismer. Water and light—Kramien, Dr. J. O. Robb and Person. Civic improvement—Robb, Stevenson and Kramien. Appraisal and property—Person, Wismer and Stevenson. Ordinance and building code—Anderson, Robb and Kramien. Stevenson was elected as president of the council.

Only other new business conducted by the incoming administration included the enforcing of applications of the Tualatin Winery and the Safeway store for liquor licenses and the granting of a card room license to I. H. Naught and Claude Cook at the "Pastime." Members of the appraisal committee were asked to complete an appraisal of city property by the February meeting while the ordinance committee was instructed to act on the building code and other suggested ordinances.

Restoring of the 10 per cent cut taken by all city employees was the final act of the retiring council before yielding to the new. Phelps expressed the appreciation of the city for the co-operation of employees in helping to keep the city on a cash basis during the depression. Other business finished by the group included the passage of December bills and the acceptance of reports by the fire chief and marshal.

That the past and present councils were among the most representative groups of his 14 years on the council, six of which were as mayor, was the declaration of Phelps following his retirement. He cited the unfinished business remaining such as the occupation tax ordinance, building code and dedication of the Tamesie and Bagley

Control Areas Pending Here

Abortion control areas apparently may be developed out of the work that has been started by the federal abortion control program, according to W. F. Cyrus, county agent. Another meeting in the Blooming section for the purpose of going into abortion control in dairy cattle from the standpoint of community co-operation will be held at the Blooming schoolhouse Friday, January 11, at 8 p. m.

Dr. W. R. Lytle, state veterinarian, will be present at the meeting to explain in detail the requirements concerning the establishment of control areas and what may be expected from the state livestock sanitary board in connection with maintaining such areas. The testing of cattle under the federal plan is progressing and dairymen still have an opportunity to sign contract agreements. How long the plan will remain open we do not know but probably as long as dairymen are signing and the veterinarians doing the work are kept busy. They will continue to make the tests. As the work slackens down we may expect that the program may be discontinued locally.

The meeting at Blooming Friday, January 11, should be of interest to dairymen generally in those communities where some consideration has been given to the idea of creating control districts.

Fire Losses Low During Past Year

by the department, 22 being city calls and 18 rural.

Fifteen calls occurred between 6 p. m. and 7 a. m. All trucks were driven 335 miles with no accidents or injured firemen. An average of 12 men out of 18 in the department answered the 17 siren calls. Tews also reported that he had answered 37 calls including all siren calls and 20 alone.

Members of the department attended first aid school under Dr. Harrison D. Huggins during the year with 10 of the men passing the examination. During the year the department purchased two salvage covers, two axes, hose clamp and uniform shirts.

Fire Marshal Dillon reported that most of the buildings within the fire limits had been inspected on an average of once a month. He reported checking all schools for fire drills, re-charging 29 fire extinguishers and condemning a grease kettle and having same removed.

Total of 44 fire calls were answered within the city limits during the year, according to Dillon. 17 of which were general alarms and 23 still calls. He attended 39 out of the 44 calls, 14 still calls alone and three calls outside of the city.

Dillon also called attention to the fire prevention week program conducted by the local fire department in co-operation with the fire marshal's office.
