

Rollin Meyers Club Director

Laurel Community Group Has Annual Session

LAUREL—Rollin Meyers was elected director of the Community club for a five-year term, to succeed Fred Schmidt, at the annual meeting held in the hall Monday evening. Nineteen members were present. The board of directors did not organize on account of the absence of the secretary, Dan Chambers. Other board members are F. Brown, Adolf Rutschman and J. W. Mulloy.

Birthday Celebrated

Helen Rutschman entertained with a party at her home Saturday evening celebrating her eighteenth birthday anniversary. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Lee Brown, Thelma Mulloy, Lucille Bennett, Lillie Brown, Frances Fields, Gilman Wright, Ted Rutschman, Robert Soule, Earl Baker, Al Ewing and Raymond Meyers.

Officers Re-elected

All officers of the Sunday school were re-elected Sunday. They are Amos Watkins, superintendent; Hal Whitmore, assistant; Thelma Mulloy, secretary; Mrs. Anne Schmidt, treasurer; Mrs. J. W. Mulloy, organist; F. L. Brown, chorister; and Helen Rutschman, librarian.

Anniversary Observed

Mr. and Mrs. John McFee celebrated their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary Saturday by staying quietly at home and sharing a wedding cake with Mrs. Jane Weatherford and Bert Watson, who make their home with them. Preparations for a celebration on a large scale had been made by their daughter, Mrs. Dick Gady of Hillsboro, but sickness prevented them being carried out.

Poles for the Electric Light Line

at the hill west of the store are being prepared by J. W. Mulloy, John Spreng and Gilman Wright. Mr. and Mrs. Chancey McNay of Port Angeles, Wash., and Mrs. Clyde Stretch and her father, C. S. McNay, of Newberg visited at the W. H. and B. G. McNay home Wednesday. Chancey McNay is a cousin of the McNay brothers and Mrs. Stretch.

Jesus Teaches Peter Humility

Text: John 13: 1-17; 1 Peter 5:5 The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for Jan. 20.

APPARENTLY, it is the easiest lesson to learn. There are many people who try to master the great things in life when they have not learned to handle the little things. All of us are apt to neglect the commonplace tasks and duties while aspiring to high enjoyments and adventures for which we are not quite ready.

The disciples had launched their faith with the Master on a great enterprise. They had shown themselves to be men of initiative and daring.

Their minds were filled with large schemes and plans, and in their eagerness to do great things, they were not without worldly ambition or above discussing, even to the point of contention, which of them should be the greater.

It was under these conditions that Jesus had to train his disciples in understanding the simplest and deepest things that He exemplified in His own life and teaching. He represented a different order of values.

Greatness was not in place or distinction, greatness was in character, in love, in service. A man was mighty according to the things of grace and goodness that he was accomplishing.

The evidence of strength was not in the fact that one outdistanced his fellows or became greater in outward place or recognition. The measure of strength in this world that Jesus brought to men was the measure of what of Portland, who, with Mrs. Ray Coolidge, accompanied her home and spent the day.

William Borgell, who has blood poisoning caused from a cut on his leg, is still in the hospital at this writing. A recent relapse retarded his recovery.

W. J. Shaw is having six acres of land cleared with a caterpillar tractor.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Boge of Portland and Toon Lovgren of Gaston were Saturday night and Sunday guests at the Calvin Whitmore home. Other Sunday guests were Sophia Jackson of Scholls and Mrs. Clayton Whitmore and three sons of Chehalis Mountain and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Whitmore and daughter.

Sunday visitors at the Rollin Meyers home were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Meyers of Hillsboro, his brother, Norman Meyers and Mrs. Meyer of Portland and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Brunson and daughter Velma and Charmaine of Chehalis Mountain. Mr. Meyers is still confined to his bed with neuritis in his leg.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Brown visited his niece, Mrs. A. N. Vail, of Portland Sunday.

Elaine, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raleigh Whitmore, is ill with measles.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Keyser and little daughter Anne Margaret and Mr. and Mrs. J. Junger of Portland were Sunday guests at the M. Keyser home. The Jungers remained until Monday.

MY FRIEND, THE TREE

I know a tree along a lane,
That's been a staunch, true friend,
Thru all the years, since childhood feet
First ventured round the bend.
He sees me come along the lane,
From summer's sun, or shower
And when I'm gay, how glad is he!
My mood is his, at any hour,
His branches curve up in a smile,
As though he were my good company!

How many times he's sheltered me
From summer's sun, or shower
And when I'm gay, how glad is he!
My mood is his, at any hour,
His branches curve up in a smile,
As though he were my good company!

And sometimes when I walked the lane
Tortured with anguish bowed,
His murmuring limbs said, "Courage,
As thou he stoke aloud,
And now, when I come round the bend,
Thou'rt far away upon that distant sea,
Which beats upon the silent shores of death.

Where all must go with fear, and bated breath,
So what, I ask you, is our mortal gain
If earthly pleasures make our living vain?
What merit is there above the soil?
If we go unprepared to meet our God?
—DOROTHY DALE GRABEL, Hillsboro

CONTEMPLATION
Today we live, tomorrow we may see
Thy face far away upon that distant sea,
Which beats upon the silent shores of death.
