

Tigard School Has Old Paper

Grange Gives a Washington Program Thursday

(By Curtis Tward) TIGARD—A copy of the Connecticut Courant published on December 30, 1799, has been loaned to Tigard high school by George M. Leslie of Tigard. The aged newspaper announces the death of George Washington on December 15, 1799, and the heartfelt sorrow of this great man's passing by the nation's writers within the pages of this paper. There is an illustration of the funeral procession of Washington and the paper contains every detail of his death. A quotation from the newspaper which has lived down through the ages, is as follows: "The name of Washington, the American president, and general, will triumph over death. The newspaper is interesting and in very good shape, considering its age.

The Outstanding 3-Plow Tractor

McCormick-Deering W-30

The new McCormick-Deering W-30 Tractor stands head and shoulders above any other tractor of its type. It is different in that it has new types of seals which keep water, mud, dust, and other abrasive materials from getting into the operating parts. It has a ball-bearing transmission. Steering is made unusually easy through the use of roller bearings at the bottom of each steering-knuckle pivot pin and on the steering shaft just above the worm gear. In all, there are 34 ball and roller bearings in the W-30.

The engine features replaceable cylinders, hard exhaust-valve seat inserts, and provides abundant power to pull three plow bottoms under average conditions. These are just a few of the outstanding features that make the W-30 the best buy on the market. Stop in and see this tractor or ask us to demonstrate it.

If Your Cream Separator Is Losing Money By wasting butterfat at the skimmilk spout, it is high time to invest in a new McCormick-Deering Ball-Bearing Cream Separator. A Babcock test of the skimmilk will tell whether you can afford to continue using your cream separator. The McCormick-Deering is the closest-skimming cream separator on the market. It is easy running, easy to clean, and it will give many years of good service. It is built in six sizes—capacities from 350 to 1500 pounds of milk per hour. Come in and let us demonstrate its efficiency. We will also demonstrate the McCormick-Deering Milker on request.

An A. B. C. Newspaper

Doesn't Need to Substitute Claims for Proved Facts

Buyers of advertising space who fail to consider facts alone in making their advertising investments invite sales and profit trouble. And it's bad business to have trouble in the region of the pocketbook.

The Audit Bureau of Circulations was organized 21 years ago for the express purpose of putting into merchants' and manufacturers' hands the ways and means of carefully examining circulation coverage facts. Claims had been found frequently far removed from the facts.

An A. B. C. newspaper, however, simply refers advertisers to its latest audit report, made once each year by an outside auditor who delves from top to bottom into circulation methods - territory covered - quantity of that newspaper which is bought and read daily or weekly. There is never need for an A. B. C. newspaper to make claims because of this standard universally accepted method of showing the facts.

In its audit reports, the A. B. C. refuses to credit circulation in arrears over a certain period of circulation that is sold or given away in bulk. A. B. C. circulation totals are net.

Advertisers' dollars therefore, buy net, active, sales-producing circulation that has no frothy, worthless filler to make it look more important.

Being the only A. B. C. newspaper in Washington county and one of only two weekly newspaper A. B. C. members west of the Rocky Mountains, the Hillsboro Argus is the one newspaper that furnishes advertisers such an opportunity to make a careful examination of its circulation.
