This Week's Patterns

DRESSY enough for most social occasions, yet serviceable for classroom wear by the schoolgirl, is the charming wool suit displayed as Pattern 440. The unusual two-tab closing and patch pocket with buttoned flap on the jacket make the suit exceptionally interesting.

Patterns come in sizes 6 to 14 years. Size 12 requires 2 1/2 yards of 35-inch light wool for skirt and jacket, 1 3/4 yards of batiste, lawn, or silk for blouse, and 1 1/2 yards of lining for jacket.

A perfectly fitting slip, and one easy to make, is that shown in Pattern 441. There is a shadow-proof panel at the lower part of the skirt, while the sleek, form-fitting design insures that dresses worn over it will look their best.

This slip can be made in silk, crepe or satin from pattern sizes 34 to 46. Size 38 calls for 2 1/2 yards of 39-inch material with 1 yard of lace for the front and 3/4 yard for the back, with a yard of ribbon for the straps.

Peter Overcomes Prejudice

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for March 10.

THE truth that God is no respecter of persons would seem to be written all over the New Testament and to be inherent in the gospel of grace that Jesus gave to men.

The truth that God is no respecter of persons would seem to be written all over the New Testament and to be inherent in the gospel of grace that Jesus gave to men.

To believe that God is a being who is arbitrary in his judgments, whose grace is moved with considerations of preference for a man of one color above another, or for a man of one race or nation above another, would be to destroy the greatness of God and make him a creature of biases and prejudices.

The impartiality of God's judgments is a condition of the integrity and righteousness of his judgments.

Yet even among religious people few prejudices are harder to overcome than the prejudices of color, race, and national allegiance. Peter was no exception.

DESPITE the fact that he had left all things to follow Jesus and was concerned about the salvation of men, the instinctive, or developed, prejudices of Peter's religious training and environment came immediately into prominence as soon as there was a time of testing. He was accustomed to think of Jews as a preferred and chosen people who had a sort of monopoly in religious privilege and truth.

When he found the gospel having the same effect upon Gentiles that it had upon Jews, and Gentiles becoming interested in the power of the gospel, he was frankly embarrassed. He did not know what to make of it.

Radio Equipment Sales Set Record

WASHINGTON—A new record for exports of radio equipment from the United States was recorded in 1934, when sales abroad were valued at $24,857,000, compared with $16,128,000 in 1933, the department of commerce reported.

Overseas sales of radio equipment during the year exceeded the former record sales in 1930 by $1,723,000, the department reported.

The average unit value of radio receiving sets has steadily decreased during the past few years, which was occasioned by the increasing popularity of small receiving sets in foreign markets.
