An Independent Newspaper, Whose Services and Policies are Based on the Principle of the Golden Rule.—"And as ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise."—Matthew 7:12.

Property Needs Relief

In an effort to lift part of the heavy property tax burden the house of representatives last week approved a bill that would levy a flat 2 per cent surtax on all incomes in Oregon. An estimated $1,000,000 or $1,250,000 would be raised annually by the tax and would go to reduce the property tax for the benefit of schools and would be apportioned throughout the 36 counties.

The heavy burdens carried by property give plenty of justification for the passage of such a measure. With more equitable tax burdens for property there will be created a desire for the ownership of property, which makes for the stabilization of any citizen. Property has been taxed and taxed to death without any consideration of its ability to pay. Tax payments on the basis of income are the only true and just methods of taxation.

Effrontery

Congressional investigations brought out the fact that Eugene Grace as head of the steel corporation and Bethlehem Shipbuilding corporation received $3,669,-000 in bonuses during the three war years. Grace also admitted that he had received more than $8,113,000 since in addition to the salary.

In spite of these fabulous bonuses, Grace, before this congressional committee, had the effrontery to deplore the demand of war veterans for payment of the adjusted service compensation, which the government has admitted as a just debt to those who offered their lives at a "dollar per" back in 1917 and 1918.

Richly Deserved Honor

Editor B. F. Irvine was appropriately honored at the unveiling of a bust of a likeness of himself in Portland recently. Money for the bust was raised through small contributions of his many friends throughout the state. Mr. Irvine is a great editor of a great newspaper and has had a tremendous part in the affairs and progress of this state for years. To reach the heights that he has in spite of his great lic take notice of the resolution. It is proper that handicap of blindness for many years be- a newspaper express itself on the subject of this speaks much for his courage and ability re and undoubtedly the faithful help of a loving wife. Editor Irvine has long been the inspiration for many newspapermen years have attempted to use their grange positions in the northwest. Oregon people join in as stepping stones, as the resolution indicates. saying that the honor bestowed on Mr. Woodburn Independent. Irvine is richly deserved.

Hurray for Beaverton

The Beaverton high school has made an enviable reputation in debating through carrying off the official northwest debate championship. The high school and the students taking part, Aline Boswell, Donald Walker, Evelyn Alexander and Markey Sayre merit the congratulations of their friends and neighbors as well as the state for their fine work. Knowing our own "knee-action" when getting up to talk we believe such work is meritorius for any boy or girl.

The American Legion could take up no better work than to sponsor the tuberculin tests in the local schools in co-operation with the health nurse and county health association. Such tests at this time will do much in the fight against the dreaded disease. Through detecting the reactors early in life it will help to prevent its spread. Legionnaires are as ready to serve their country in peace-time pursuits as they were in time of war.

Marshall Dana, public works administrator and associate editor of the Journal, in a recent talk here painted a rosy picture for the Tualatin valley and told of its attractiveness to the homeseekers. Most of us here realize this, but it does us a lot of good to have an old friend like Mr. Dana come in and tell us about it.

One wonders how many of these revolting senators and representatives in congress today went into office on a promise to support President Roosevelt. In many cases none of them would have been there without the great personal popularity of the president.

Washington county dairy herds are fast coming to the front in the Yamhill-Washington County Herd Improvement association. Connell Brothers and Fir of Grove had a good production record for night, January and David Hagg & Sons, who have been carrying off honors for a long time, also had high product records for the same period.

Local people should be on the lookout for counterfeit money. Several business houses here have found "phoney" half dollars and dollars in circulation in the last few weeks.

State NRA Needed

The legislature should not hesitate in the enactment of a state NRA measure. President Roosevelt has asked congress to extend the recovery act, for another two years with some amendments and state acts will tend to strengthen code enforce-

Most people approve of the principles of the NRA and the codes of decent practices and a state act would, in our opinion, help a great deal in keeping in line the "chiseler," who by his acts would carry everyone down to his lowly level, as for example the practices that were so injurious in the dairy business until the milk control board took charge.

As President Roosevelt has said "a great code of law, of order and of decent ousiness cannot be created in a day or a year." It takes a long time to make such an important economic change and put fair dealing to the forefront.

To abandon the codes would be unthinkable, as the president has said, as it would bring industrial and labor chaos.

The national recovery act needs the of strengthening influence of the state NRA.

What Other Editors Say

A Sliver, Not a Plank

Man would not be human if he did not indulge in a few obsessions, but occasionally a man will permit an obsession to become all absorbing, and ien it is not so good. Herbert Hoover, for instance, not so long ago te a book entitled "A Challenge to Liberty," in it he had much to say concerning the gold standard. The more he wrote about it, the greater was his enthusiasm for the standard so well beloved by international bankers as a real aid to their vast financial manipulations. In fact, before our ex-president had reached the end of the chapter in his book he had decided that the present ad-ministration had descended into rank dishonesty in declaring the United States off the gold standard which nearly all major nations had relegated to the ash can years ago.

And now, ex-president Hoover has even more forcibly reiterated his complete adherence to his pet obsession and he naturally finds himself right in line with the small minority which would have all of us believe that the "constitution is gone" because the majority of our supreme court judges have arrived at a decision on the gold clause which, while it may hamper the style of the few Americans who already have far more than their share of the wealth, will be the ultimate advantage of more than 90 per cent of the American people. Others, who feel the same way about this question, urge that republicans adopt "return to gold" as a plank in their platform for 1936. But if our guess is correct, this subject of return to the gold standard might easily prove itself a sliver, with a lot of grief behind it.-Hood River News.

The Grange Cleans House

The grange's affairs are its own business. They are not a fit subject of public concern except when they affect the public. However, this state's voters have come to regard the attitude of the grange on various public issues as one of the determining factors in the settlement of those issues; this has been done by and with the consent and approval of the grange itself. Consequently the internal affairs of the grange become, to some extent. matters of pub-

The McMinnville chamber has elected to hold its initial excursion to the coast country and from fifty to seventy carloads of McMinnville boosters will make the trip, meeting old friends, forming new acquaintances, and cementing the bonds of good-will already existing between the fine folks of coast towns and the Yamhill county seat-The News-Reporter.

The decisive defeat of Senator Peter Zimmerman's bill for the repeal of the criminal syndical-ism law by a vote of 22 to 7 undoubtedly voices the sentiment of every patriotic American who regards with apprehension the work of such men as the infamous Bridges, the Australian communist, who engineered the general strike in San Francisco. Under the law as it now stands every right of the individual under the constitution is safeguarded. Only those who advocate the overflow of the government by force come under its heavy hand, as they should. -McMinnville Telephone-Register.

4-H Crop Body to Hear Talk

On what crops, on what soils and in what quantities should commercial fertilizers be applied in order to produce the most economical returns? This question will form the basis of discussions by Professor C. V. Ruzek of Oregon State college at the court house at 1:30 p. m. Saturday. The meeting is intended for 4-H crops members but farmers interested in the discussion are welcome.

Whether or not the grower will receive sufficient increase in crop production from the use of the commercial fertilizer to cover its cost and return a profit is another matter for consideration. This factor is governed largely by the cost of the fertilizer, its efficiency in furnishing plant requirements and the rate of application.
