Tigard Student on Long Tour

(By Curtis Tigard)
TIGARD—Byron Blankenship, former Tigard high school student, and Jim Yeomans of Forest Grove, seniors at Pacific university, left March 2 for Chicago, Ill., to make a debate trip through the western and middle western states. The trip will cover six thousand miles, taking a period of twenty-seven days. The subject for debate is "Resolved, That Medicine Should be Socialized." The two debaters are accompanied by a group of friends from Tigard, including Mrs. J. M. Davidson, R. Sanford, D. Tschabold, J. Baumann, M. Jackson and J. Keffler.

Governor Criticized
Tigard Grange members made their visitation to Scholls Grange Saturday and took charge of the meeting for the day, as a part of the schedule worked out for granges in the county. A resolution was passed at the grange session March 6 condemning Governor Martin for his bitter attacks on the officers of the State Grange. Plans are being formulated for a community social meeting, sponsored by the grange, for some time near April 22, which will be Tigard Grange's sixty-fifth birthday. After a short lecture hour light refreshments were served by the economic committee.

Appointment Expected
Tigard people will soon know who their permanent postmaster will be as it has been learned that one of the eligible candidates has been recommended to the President. Results of the second examination for the position, which was given last fall, have finally been revealed by the Civil Service board. Only four out of the eight candidates passed the examination. Considerable delay by the Civil Service board in giving out the information on examination has led to a number of rumors, none of which it is believed will have any effect on the outcome.

Members of Tigardville Rebekah lodge attended a meeting of Beaverton lodge March 5 when Mrs. Grace Christensen, president of Rebekah Assembly, made her official visit.
