

Talk on India Here Tuesday

Public Invited to Address at Christian Church

Mohan V. Raj of Bombay, India, will deliver with the aid of colored pictures, an address on present day India at the Christian church in Hillsboro at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday.

Mr. Raj is a graduate of the University of Minnesota and is at present taking a post graduate course in University of Oregon. Though a Hindu, he embraced Christianity and is a member of the Christian church in Eugene. He served as a lieutenant in the British army during the Egyptian Palestine expedition led by General Allenby. He has traveled extensively having been in nineteen different countries, including America. Mr. Raj has acquainted himself with his native land and has traveled over the country visiting among the people of all classes, thus becoming familiar with their religions. He has had conferences with Mahatma Gandhi and has worked among the untouchables. He visited Christian mission stations and is familiar with protestant missionary work in India. These visits have made him familiar with the little known phases of Indian life to outside people. Mr. Raj speaks six Indian languages and English fluently. In his lecture Mr. Raj will tell of the industrial, religious and social aspects of "Mother India." He will also tell of the work of missionaries, India's struggle for independence, of Mahatma Gandhi's influence and of the industrial and political needs of India. He has in addition a display of India art goods and textiles. "Mr. Mohan V. Raj comes highly commended by Christian ministers over the state and I personally feel the people of Hillsboro and vicinity will be afforded an opportunity to hear first hand the story of present day India that seldom comes our way," R. L. Putnam, local pastor, declared. The public is invited.

Interesting Bits of News Gleaned in County Trips

(By Francis S. Barr)
Bits of interest are picked up among the subscribers by a member of the Argus staff who spends much of his time out in the field. Something of the "Old Military Trail" was told by Otto Solberger. Mr. Solberger lives way up in the Mason Hill district and was found sowing red clover seed in one of his fields. It was sown on horseback and went over the mountain something like an Indian trail. Grain and produce had to be hauled over the mountains on a road to St. Helens and the Columbia river.

This road has been resurveyed and relocated, of course, in later years. The old road now has trees growing in the center of it as large as a foot through. The present road winds its way through Mason Hill district and on top of the mountain to Mr. Solberger's place, where it ends. Mr. Solberger believes that in the near future as more people settle, the road will be continued on and extend into what is the Skyline road.

Washington county is just in its infancy along the agricultural lines, believes Cecil Heyndrickx of near Schefflin. County products are diversified and nothing as yet worked among the specialties. Mr. Heyndrickx has put several acres of his land under cultivation for the raising of beets for seed. Specialized seed raising seems very feasible for Washington county. We shall hear more from Mr. Heyndrickx on seed raising later.

Making the loop on one of Cornelius route 2's many roads, we found Henry Helmod doing general farming on his 120 acres. Mr. Helmod expressed his views on the weather as being typical of March and spring was near at hand.

On up into the hills is the farm of Sam Gerig and family were quite enthused over an exciting pinocle game held at their home recently. Reynold Gerig in a four-handed game was dealt 1500 in trump spades. Two jacks of diamonds for 300 pinocle that gave him a meld of 1800. With the help of his partner they took all 25 tricks, netting 2500 for the hand. Those participating in the game were Reynold Gerig, Mrs. Sam Gerig, Sylvia Gerig and Art Corde. Incidentally Mr. Gerig has one of the best views from Iowa Hill that can be found in the county.

On the Pierson place, Don Pierson and Bill Borgelt were found laboriously sawing up a felled tree into cordwood. That the earlier publishing date of the Argus is appreciated by county folks was the opinion expressed by Mr. and Mrs. John Haase. They like the earlier date because the farmers and town people receive their copies on the same day. Now farmers can come to town and purchase through the ads before all of the items are sold out.

Tennis Pyle and family were found to be old Argus readers. The rooms in the Pyle home were being re-kalmsined.

Mrs. James McCabe, near the Firdale school, added her name to the many Argus readers by taking out a subscription.

Five cows were sold by David Lorenz recently through the classified columns of the Argus and brought very good prices. Hence the Argus representative was a welcome visitor at the Lorenz home. Mr. Lorenz believes that this year will be a very good one for the Pierson place. Don Pierson are already being given the producer. A good, sound optimistic outlook is expressed by the farmers for this and the coming years. Increasing the size of his present flock of 200 chickens is the plan of Herman Koch. An upturn in the chicken industry is Mr. Koch's prediction.

Another Spud Pool Planned

Balance of Potatoes Around Sherwood to be Taken

LAUREL RIDGE—Sherwood potato growers' potato pool No. 1, which was formed some weeks ago, has been filled and the potatoes shipped to Texas. Pool No. 2 is now being formed. This pool is expected to take all the remaining potatoes in the Sherwood district. The washed seconds not included in the pools find much favor in the eyes of farm housewives for table use and town people will not buy other than the washed No. 2s.

Onions Sold
Onion growers in the Sherwood section are selling the last of their 1934 crop at $4 per sack.

Work on W. C. Eddy's prune dryer is well advanced. The uprights and rafters are up and the siding is being put on. Charles Haynes is the architect and builder.
