Tomato Growers Vote for Control

To prevent overproduction of melons and tomatoes, and in an attempt to stabilize the market, growers of those two commodities have voted to voluntarily control acreage during 1935, according to J. C. Cochran, chairman of the Oregon-Washington Melon and Tomato Marketing agreement. This plan of acreage control was voted at a series of meetings held in growing communities during the past several months.

Those who exceed their quota will be penalized by a heavy tax which will not be returned to them. Those who have not exceeded their quota, will get a refund almost immediately. Here's how it works: Each crate of canteloupes will be taxed 25c, but 18c will be returned to the grower who is within his allotment. To the grower who has planted more than his quota there will be a penalty of 18c because he will get no money back. On each crate of tomatoes the tax will be 10c with a refund of .07c. Each ton of water melons sold will have a tax of $5 with a $3 refund. Money which is collected as penalties will go into a surplus stabilizing fund. All other money collected through taxes will go to pay costs of enforcing the agreement," Mr. Tompkins said.

New growers will be allowed to plant one-half an acre each of canteloupes, watermelons and tomatoes, without being penalized by the agreement. Such steps are necessary to prevent a huge increase in acreage this coming season because of a fair price for melons and tomatoes during 1934.

Local committees have been appointed in each producing section to assist growers in determining quotas. Committees for Multnomah, Washington and Clackamas counties include J. C. Cochran of Troutdale, Ralph Garbarina of Portland and Mamano Wakasugi of Banks.

These men will meet March 25, 26 and 27 for the purpose of receiving applications for quota allotments. They will make recommendations which will be forwarded to the joint control board of the Marketing Agreement for final approval. This is the first time in the history of the two states that growers have attempted to get cost of production for their crop by means of acreage control. The enforcement of the Marketing Agreement on melons and tomatoes will be much easier under the new Agricultural Adjustment Acts, recently passed by the legislature of Oregon and Washington, Mr. Tompkins said.

Steel Operations Up NEW YORK—Operations in the steel industry increased two points in one week to 53 per cent of capacity, according to the current weekly survey of the magazine Steel.

County P. T. A. Given Notice

Washington county will receive attention from delegates from all the states at Miami, Florida, April 29-May 3, when the National Congress of Parents and Teachers holds its 39th annual convention.

The Oregon exhibit table will contain only two things, one a publicity record book prepared by Mrs. Oliver C. Crowther, Portland, state publicity chairman, and the other, a book showing records and plans for our state-wide recreation project, prepared by Miss Ruth Burlingham, Forest Grove, P. T. A. recreation chairman for Oregon.

The Washington county council of Parent-Teacher associations at its October meeting at North Plains, after study and recommendation by its executive committee, adopted as this year's project the motion of summer play activities for the hundreds of children, whose energies are set adrift by the closing of the schools in the spring.

The unemployment situation makes it increasingly difficult for young people to find things to do out of school hours. It is this project in Washington county and in Portland, which is receiving national-wide attention.

Mrs. C. R. Martin, Garden Home, second vice-president of the council, is especially interested in the project, and has been conducting with her committee, a study, the result of which will be reported at the council at Sherwood April 13.

At the regular P. T. A. meeting at Aloha-Huber March 12 Mrs. Martin presented the need of recreation in the development of personality and community spirit.

At the same meeting Mrs. Cochran, principal of the Garden Home school, presented her eighth grade pupils, each demonstrating work done on a hobby project. The young people showed valuable use of their time in preparing and demonstrating the hobbies. Three cars carried the group from Garden Home.

Aloha-Huber P. T. A. president, Mrs. John Larson, has appointed Lee Barnum, principal of the school, recreation committee chairman, and Mrs. W. B. Beattie, chairman of a hobby committee.

Forest Grove, Hillsboro, Tigard and Sherwood all report interest in the recreation project. Miss Burlingham sent leaflets on back yard play to be distributed at the Aloha-Huber meeting, and two students from her classes, Jack Killits and Frances Barber, demonstrated some group amusements which were very much enjoyed.

Miss Burlingham stresses the need of trained leaders, rather than the use of expensive equipment, and suggests the use of the school playground. The monthly recreation meetings being conducted by Miss Gertrude Skow of O. S. C. are opportunities for community leaders of recreation and are being well attended by Parent-Teacher representatives.
