(By North Plains P. T. A.) NORTH PLAINS—The dance to be given in the K. of P. hall Saturday evening is for the benefit of the baseball team. Everyone is welcome. There will be a good orchestra and a good time assured. Doc Shadden is manager of the baseball team.

The Fords Plan Their San Diego Exhibit

Here are Henry and Edsel Ford getting their first glimpse of a model of the building that will house the Ford exhibition at the California Pacific International Exposition in San Diego, Calif. Between them is G. Aubrey Davidson, chairman of the exposition.

DEARBORN, Mich.—Both Henry Ford, and Edsel B. Ford, president of the Ford Motor Co., will visit the California Pacific International Exposition this summer. So they told G. Aubrey Davidson, chairman of the exposition, who was here to make final arrangements for the Ford exhibit at the exposition.

Mr. Davidson told the Fords that it is hoped that the exposition will make a definite contribution toward world amity, as the assembly of more than 30 representatives of countries whose shores line the Pacific Ocean is bound to bring about greater understanding and good-will.

The building that is to house the Ford exhibit is to be a permanent structure that will remain in beautiful Balboa Park, site of the exposition, after the show is over and the exhibit removed. A huge circular building, partially roofed, is fronted by a tower rising from what appears to be two immense gears, one inside the other. The building, architecturally, is done in the modern motif, but its open court, in the center, is characteristic of the Spanish and Mexican types of architecture that dominate the exposition.

The circular main section of the building will be 340 feet in diameter. The tower, resting on a base 221 feet above the Pacific, will rise 193 feet. The outer walls of the building will be 40 feet high. The tower will be lighted in a manner to make it resplendent in varying colors.

It's not every boy who can make a doctor say "Ah!" but Wallace Rossall, above, 6-year-old Glendale, Calif., lad, succeeded. His inner works, it seems, are all out of gear, as the X-ray indicates. The boy's heart, for instance, is on the wrong side, he has only one lung, and his intestines are in the left chest cavity.

Soil Authority Speaks Locally

"The first consideration in selecting a commercial fertilizer is to know what plant foods are required by the crop being grown, what the soil lacks and what fertilizers will supply the requirements," declared Professor C. V. Ruzek of Oregon State college, at a 4-H and farmer's fertilizer meeting at the court house Saturday afternoon according to L. E. Francis, assistant county agent.

Professor Ruzek stated that the importance of commercial fertilizers lies in the fact that by its use crop yield may be increased, resulting in a reduced cost of unit production.

There are a few elementary plant foods which are most apt to be lacking in the soils, he pointed out. These are nitrogen, phosphorus and potash. With exception of some of the truck crops it is not profitable to apply nitrogen fertilizers. The nitrogen content of the soil must be built up and maintained by a crop rotation plan which includes the use of such legumes as clover and alfalfa. Nitrogen produces leaf and stock growth and its deficiency can be detected by a poor growth and poor coloring.

Phosphorus stimulates seed production and hastens maturity. Its supply is heavily drawn on by all seed producing crops and is the one plant food not returned to the soil to any appreciable degree by the use of barnyard manures. Consequently, it is both profitable and necessary to use phosphorus fertilizers and particularly on seed crops.

In Washington county, the beaver dam soils are the only ones generally low in potash. Application of fertilizer at the rate of 150 pounds per acre will in most cases be sufficient to remedy this condition.

In the Willamette valley it is necessary to apply lime to many of the soils in order to get satisfactory stands of some of the leguminous crops, particularly alfalfa, since these crops are sensitive to an acid condition. Lime stone should be purchased on the basis of its calcium carbonate content or neutralizing value.

The county agent office is equipped to test soils for acidity and phosphorus. Farmers interested in knowing the fertilizer requirements for soils on their farms may bring a sample of soil into the office and have it tested.

GROWING with OREGON

The record of the Hillsboro Branch of the First National Bank of Portland for the past year has been one of growth, both in deposits and number of depositors. It is pleasing to know that these figures reflect an increasing prosperity in this community and confirm the faith we showed in the future of the Hillsboro area when we established a branch here.

The interests of this community are our interest and we wish in every way to aid in the development of this district.
