Woes Fail to Sadden 'Frank and Jim'

The burden of a bucking Senate which threatened to upset his whole New Deal program hardly seems to have affected President Roosevelt, shown laughing heartily at a quip someone got off. And Huey Long's insistence on an investigation of Postmaster-General James Farley doesn't seem to bother the latter, shown jesting with his chief recently in the latter's office.

Accidents Taking Take Large Toll

If you have three children the probability is that one of them during his lifetime will either be killed or injured in an automobile accident.

This statement was made by Albert W. Whitney, vice-president of the National Safety Council, in connection with the "Let's Quit Killing" traffic safety campaign sponsored in Oregon by the Oregon State Motor association.

It was based on national automobile accident figures wherein it was shown that 36,000 persons were killed and 954,000 injured during the 1934 calendar year.

If one of the children is killed, chances are nearly one out of two he will be struck by an automobile while walking, it was further pointed out by the motor association. Chances are nearly one out of five he was killed in a collision of two automobiles.

The greatest cause of pedestrian fatalities, records show, is crossing a street between intersections. 4,310 persons having been killed in this way during 1934. Nearly 17 per cent of all pedestrian fatalities were caused by walking along a rural highway.

Other causes of pedestrian deaths, in order of importance, were crossing at an intersection where there was no signal, 12.1 per cent; children playing in the street, 11.3 per cent; coming from behind parked car, 9.4 per cent, and crossing at an intersection against the signal, 6.9 per cent.

Of the pedestrians killed, 8,660 were between the ages of 15 and 64; 3,240 were over 65 years old; 2,360 were between the ages of 5 and 14, and 1,170 were under 4 years old.
