Donald T. Templeton, county judge, was appointed Tuesday as a member of a state committee to work out plans under which counties and the state will jointly care for relief of indigents and unemployable persons. The problem arose in connection with the $1,000,000 appropriated by the last legislative session for relief purposes.

Counties will be represented by Judge Templeton and Commissioner Frank L. Shull of Multnomah, while the state relief committee

BEAUTIFUL half-million-dollar doll house has been built to bring happiness, not to a pampered American heiress or European princess, but to thousands of girls - and boys - throughout

The miniature fairy castle, which in life size would out-daz-zle the palace of the most fabulously rich Indian prince, is being taken on a world tour, to raise funds for the benefit of America's crippled children.

Completion of the toy mansion marked fulfillment of a childhood dream. Colleen Moore, whose film earnings financed it, said re-cently: "Some people collect old masters; others spend money on polo ponies. "My pet extravagance happened to be a doll's house. And now that it's done, I'd be selfish not to do some real good with it."

THRONGS attended the initial exhibit in New York the other day. They saw an 11-room castle perched on top of a Lilliputian precipice. Just outside the building are magic Alladin gardens, in which a nightingale sings and tiny pearl fruit hangs from branches of brilliant gold and lavender trees. In the garden, as if awaiting

The individual reports will be held entirely confidential, but the entire data, when tabulated by the United States Department of Agriculture, will furnish a record of changes in fruit production which have occurred during the last few years. Every important fruit producing county of the state is being enumerated in a similar manner. All counties will be combined in the final analysis to show on a state-wide scale the results of the many shifts that have occurred in recent seasons in the fruit industry of Oregon, many of which are continuing at the present time.
