Attractive Displays, Many Events Draw Interest

sored by the Hillsboro Business & Professional Women's club; the mutt dog show under the direction of the Hillsboro Rotary club; and the colt show. The latter event is being put on for the first time this year and Manager Minton expects at least 15 purebred and crossbred colts in the show. Merchandise prizes are planned for the twin round-up and the mutt dog show, while ribbons will be awarded in the colt show.

Booths prepared by the Farm Union and Grange are particularly outstanding this year, each exhibiting the products characteristic of area of the group origin. Booths will not be required to conform to standard requirements as in past years and a large number of attractive and unique displays have been prepared.

Grange booths are located in the agricultural building and have been prepared by the following subordinate granges: Leedy, Gale, Buxton, Hillsboro, Tigard, Beaverton, Cedar Mill and Aloha. Booths of the following Farm Union locals are located in building B: Blooming, Cedar Mill, Kansas City, Laurel-Scholls, Gaston, Middleton, Verboort and West Union.

Commercial displays have been installed on the west side of the agricultural building and building B. Exhibits in the open classes for crops and fruits are located in the agricultural building with home economics displays on the floor above. Future Farmer exhibits are in building B, while boys' and girls' 4-H club displays are in the 4-H club building. Stock exhibits are housed in the barns at the south of the grounds. Cash premiums totaling approximately $2,000 and ribbons are offered in the various events.

Buildings have been cleaned and renovated for the event and the grounds have been put in the first class shape for the convenience of visitors. Minton urges county folk invite friends from outside of the county to attend and "show them a real fair."

Cedar Mill Farm Union band will play this afternoon and evening today and Friday, while the Forest Grove band will play Saturday afternoon and evening. Other entertainment features will include concessions, rides, shows, etc.

Department superintendents are as follows: Livestock, R. M. Banks of Banks; farm crops, vegetables and granges, H. T. Hesse of Hillsboro; route 2, domestic science, Mrs. H. W. McDonald of Tigard; domestic arts, Mrs. Elizabeth M. Vincent of Tigard; floral, Mrs. Jean Warrens, Forest Grove; boys' and girls' club work, O. B. Kraus and L. E. Francis, Future Farmers, R. M. Adams of Forest Grove.

Members of the fair board include Minton, president and manager; Hesse, first vice-president; and Banks, second vice-president.

"Better Housing" booth will be sponsored during the fair by the Federal Housing administration, according to T. G. Bronleewe, county chairman. Information regarding the program will be available and a number of model houses will be on display. Plans are also being made to have moving pictures at least one evening.

Showing of dairy cattle that have not been tested and found free from Bang's disease will not be allowed this year by the fair management. While this decision may reduce the showing, the management feels that it is worthwhile to protect the valuable dairy industry of the county, according to Minton. Washington county is the first to place this regulation on showing at county fairs.

Thrills of Pendleton Round-Up Soon Due

Queen of the 1935 Pendleton Round-Up, Helen Hansell of Athena, Oregon, beckons one and all to the time honored leader of all frontier exhibitions which will be held September 12, 13 and 14.

Inviting all lovers of the old West to the 26th annual Pendleton Round-Up, September 12, 13 and 14, Dr. Wilson D. McNary, president of the Pendleton Round-Up Association, draws attention to a seven point program of improvement which will make this year's show greater than ever. The points of improvement are: still better bucking contests; the finest "Westward Ho" parade in Round-Up history; increased prize money for contestants; more Indians encamped on the grounds; popular ticket prices; $10,000 spent to improve grandstands and arena; a larger field of entries in racing, roping and bulldozing; and a more attractive "Happy Canyon" pageant and night show.

"Roosevelt Trophy" and "Phillip Rollins," will have to look to their laurels this year for the Round-Up will have 100 head of buckers to draw from. Among them are new discoveries loaded with equine dynamite.

Parade Director George Strand has even sent abroad for boots of a certain cut to insure the historical accuracy of one of the many sections of the "Westward Ho" parade which will be staged on Friday, September 13th. The parade will be sponsored by the granges of Umatilla county this year and, with all the pioneer characters of stagecoach and covered wagon days, will be more elaborate and colorful than ever before. No other western exhibition has as many Indian participants as the Pendleton Round-Up and nowhere is a parade put on of the caliber of the "Westward Ho," parade in the opinion of thousands who have seen it.

The thing that insures world's championship performers in bronc riding, bulldozing and roping contests is the $5,000 prize list for this year's exhibition,—the largest amount offered since just after the World War. In addition, $1,500 worth of merchandise awards are being given. Last year's field of competitors, drawn from nearly every state in the Union and from Canada, numbered 215. This year more than 300 are expected, according to E. N. "Pinky" Boylen, Arena Director, and John Hales, Competitive Events Director.

Three of the new bucking horses purchased this year by the Round-Up are "Pilot Rock," "Jack 'O Spades" and "Mystery," "Pilot Rock," a 1300 pound sensation, was acquired from Walter Smith of Pilot Rock. The other two, of which great things are expected by Livestock Director Herb Thompson, were acquired at Union, Oregon.

Advance reservations, according to Roy W. Ritter, Round-Up association secretary, are far in excess of previous years and a heavy attendance from the East is anticipated. When the Round-Up makes its bow September 12, 13 and 14, packed stands are assured.

Buxton School Opens Monday

Townsend Club Selects an Advisory Committee

(By Mrs. Jesse Meyers)

BUXTON—Buxton school opens September 2 with Miss Gladys Overton of Creswell as teacher for the upper grades and Miss Mamie Sandy of Banks for the primary grades. Both teachers have taught several years in this district. Jesse Meyers is delivering the wood to the schoolhouse.

A boy, David Bruce, was born to Mr. and Mrs. David Edwards at Forest Grove August 23.

Move to Vernonia

Mr. and Mrs. A. Martin and daughter have moved to Portland. The Martins have been living on the W. H. Hiddink farm known as the old West place.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Benefield and son Ray Glenn, Kenneth Albrecht, Mrs. Jesse Meyers and Elsie drove to Birkenfeld with Miss Edna Riggle of San Fernando, Cal., who was visiting relatives there.

Select Advisory Group

A meeting of the Townsend club was held at the grange hall August 21. The following persons were chosen to serve on the advisory committee: Harry Seabold Sr., Joe Pomgratz Sr., H. Quier, Sam Stowell, Mrs. G. E. Beers and Mrs. Alice Estep.

Elsie Meyers and Harold Fisher were overnight visitors at the Earl Fisher home at Sunset camp Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Watson of Newport spent the week-end here.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Watson, Elsie Meyers and Harold Fisher visited Mr. and Mrs. Earl Fisher at Sunset camp Saturday night.

in Cedar Mill, three each in Forest Grove and Beaverton and the remainder in rural communities.

Cost of one of the Hillsboro homes was $18,000 and one in Forest Grove cost $10,000. Total investment in new construction was placed at $88,500.

lieve that the thief knew where the funds were located.

Theft of a $175 diamond and sapphire ring sometime the first of last week was reported Saturday to Sheriff Connel by Mrs. David Almont of Reedville. The ring had been hidden in a camera and placed in a dresser drawer, according to the report.

Sentence on Robert W. Osborn of near Sherman's mill, who plead guilty Monday to a charge of larceny by bailee, will be imposed this morning (Thursday). Osborn is alleged to have borrowed a rifle and used it as security for an automobile repair bill.

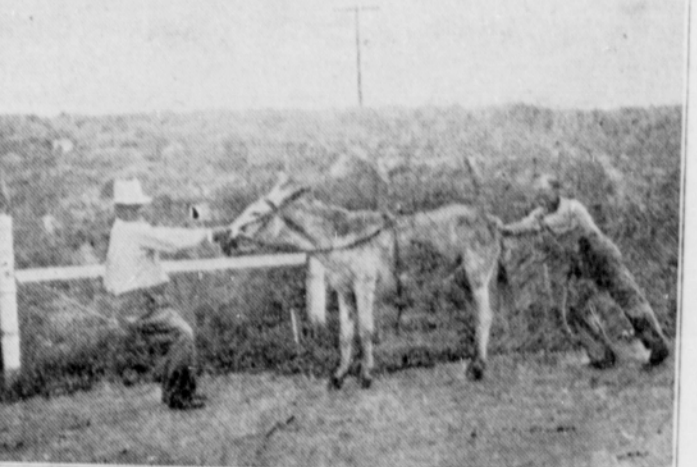

Pleading guilty to a charge of keeping a dog without a license, Mrs. M. A. James of near Huber was fined $10 and costs in the local justice of peace court. The fine was suspended upon purchase of the necessary license. Four other convictions on similar charges were returned recently, according to the dog control board.

Suit for $1110 damages was filed in the circuit court Wednesday by the Southern Hardware & Seed Stores against E. B. Anderson. The plaintiff alleges that he contracted with the defendant July 23 of this year for delivery within a reasonable time of 60,000 pounds of hairy vetch seed at $8.15 per hundred. When delivery was not made, the plaintiff was forced to buy other seed at $10 per hundred, according to the complaint.

Probate orders in the estates of Joseph Galbreath, Oscar S. Hundley, Catherine M. Payne, Jane Eliza Andrews, Richard F. Gleason, John C. Bechen, J. M. Hatt, George Heynderickx, Flora C. Hillier, William H. Williams, John Galbreath, Rosella Hathorn and Charity Cox were issued this week. Guardianship orders were issued for Julia Bryan, Smith minor, Luella Smith, Mary E. Deeks, Lucile Quaintance and Lester Gumm.

consisting of E. L. Johnson, L. T. McPeeters, W. Verne McKinney, Rev. J. T. Costelloe and Holzmagel. The new building is a one-story structure with a brick and stone exterior. Dimensions are 68 by 82 feet.

Seven postmasters have served here since the first postoffice was established in 1875. Miss Mary A. Brown was the first, serving from 1875 until 1896. She was followed by Herman Schulmerich, who was in office from 1896 to 1900. Others in the order of their appointments are R. Waggener, B. P. Cornelius, J. C. Lamkin, H. A. Ball, and Holzmagel. All but the latter two are now deceased.

"You Are a Fine Medium for Ads"

"Everything sold but the pullets. You are a fine medium for ads. Please insert in classified for this week."

Thus wrote A. A. Fisher of Beaverton route 1 after running three advertisements in the Argus of August 1. He used eight lines under "Farm Machinery," five lines under "Poultry" and 16 lines under "Cattle." His comment and insertion order for another advertisement came for the next issue.

Use of the classified columns of the Argus will prove profitable to all who use them consistently. Occasionally results may not be obtained but these cases are only rare and cannot be ascribed to any lack of readers, rather to a lack of demand.

a sugar substitute from dahlias and artichokes; alcohol for use as motor fuel from coal, shale and farm products; wood pulp in its many uses and possibilities, and soy beans for paint oils. He declared that the farmer must be willing to shift to take advantage of his opportunities.

A real opportunity for industrial alcohol was visioned by the speaker, who said the country faced a gasoline shortage in ten years unless some new discoveries were made. In order to hold our own, he said, it would be necessary to discover as much oil as has been discovered in the last 70 years. Use of alcohol as a blend with gasoline was cited as an outlet and as an opportunity to conserve the supply. He described the alcohol mixed in with gasoline as a splendid anti-knock agent, which was being used in 21 foreign countries.

Dr. Christensen said a blend of 10 per cent wood, it has been figured out, put about 100,000 men to work and use up the present farm surplus of products.

flames would spread to adjoining buildings. A bucket brigade of neighbors attempted to control the fire, but were unsuccessful.

Flames, believed to have recurred from the fire which swept the area August 12, 13 and 14, endangered a large tract of merchantable timber and several homes in the vicinity of Scholls Friday afternoon and night. Fanned by a stiff wind, the blaze gained rapid headway and burned over a strip of cut over land a mile long and more than a quarter mile wide before it was brought under control Saturday.

The fire came within a quarter mile of the H. P. Strickler home. Cecil Kyle, district fire warden, was called out and volunteers worked on the fire line.

WILLIAM S. ATCHENSON

William S. Atchenson of Albany, formerly of Pendleton and Hillsboro, died Tuesday afternoon at the Veterans' hospital, following an operation.

Responsibility for Bridge Crash Placed

Responsibility for the collapse of the Little Baldwin creek bridge under a 38-car train August 6, resulting in the death of five Southern Pacific employees and injury to three more, was fixed by the investigating board on the head of the repair crew working on the bridge, R. Andrews; his supervisor, O. V. Chesney, and Bridge Inspector H. C. Jones.

Cause of the wreck, it was determined by the investigating board, was in permitting operation of a train over the trestle when two bolts of the structure were not longitudinally braced.
