

Blooming Aid Honors Ladies

Wedding Dresses Modeled; Miss Martin Dies

BLOOMING—Ladies' Aid of the Lutheran church met in the church basement Thursday afternoon with special arrangements honoring the old ladies of the congregation. Tables were daintily set and decorated with fan-shaped pink paper napkins and gladioli. Mrs. Sophie Pfahl and Mrs. Helen Krahrmer were the committee in charge. Mrs. Anna Hergert, Mrs. Katherine Kriebel and daughter and Mrs. Scrib attended the meeting as visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hergert and Ruby Dotzky and Earl, visiting here from Idaho, were guests at a luncheon at the Henry Scheuermann home August 27.

Model Dresses Several young ladies of this community modeled wedding dresses as the Blooming local's contribution to the Farm Union program at the county fair Friday night.

Former Resident Dies Miss Bertha Martin, 18, of Newport died August 25. Although she has been ill for many years, her death came suddenly. She was formerly a resident of this community and lived on the Zimmerman place. She was a graduate of Iowa Hill school, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Deaville, Mrs. Mattie Smith and Mrs. Margaret Goss attended the funeral.

Union to Meet Blooming local of the Farm Union will meet at Bunnings' hall next Wednesday night. Allen Simard, Harold Krahrmer and Richard Herdlein left for the coast Saturday morning Monday evening they returned by way of Salem to attend the fair, returning home Tuesday morning.

Hergerts Hold Reunion A Hergert family reunion was held at Rippling Waters park Sunday. Attending were Mrs. Anna Hergert and the following of her children and grandchildren: Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Hergert and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hergert, with Earl, Raymond, Ruby and Dorothy of Nampa, Idaho; Mr. and Mrs. P. E. LaRue and Dr. Ed Hergert of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hergert of Salem, Mr. and Mrs. C. William Hergert with Stanley and Nadine of Hillsboro, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Hergert with Mildred, Paul, Walter and Donald of Mountaine, and Mr. and Mrs. Al Hergert and Jean, Beverly Ann and Shirley Lou of Blooming.

MOUNTAINDALE—The two demonstration teams from the Mountaineers 4-H Garden club were successful at the county fair. Gearhart Erdman and Billy Reugstle received second while Melvin Erdman and Nolan VanDornen won third. The boys demonstrated the way to prepare vegetables for market.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Qualls drove to Woodland, Wash., Sunday. C. E. Gay and daughter Vera, who have been visiting them the past two weeks, returned to their home there.

Booths prepared by Washington county Farm Union locals and subordinate Granges attracted considerable favorable comment during the three-day event. The exhibits were planned to show the agricultural products grown in the various parts of the county and were not required to conform with standard regulations as in past years. Grange booths were housed in the Agricultural building and the Farm Union exhibits in building B.

Industrial exhibits were housed on the west side of the Agricultural and B buildings. Firms showing displays included Wells' Department store, C. C. store, Bristol Hardware, Hillsboro Argus, Pool-Gardner Lumber Company, Selfridge Furniture, Portland Gas & Coke, Fendall Hardware, Lester Ireland & Company, Ray-Malling cannery, Peppo, Imperial Feed & Grain, Kurath & Wismer, W. G. Ide, Charles L. Walker, Farmers' Cash Store, Hogen-Brewster Foods, Copeland Lumber, Yard, Loomis Hardware, and Heinrich Brothers.

Parent-Teacher association and the Washington County Public Health association had booths in the 4-H club building. Booths demonstrating the work of SERA sewing and rug projects were located in building B. Information regarding the Better Housing program was given out from a booth in the same building.

Amity Future Farmers won the first National Bank of Forest Grove trophy for the second year Friday afternoon in the stock judging contest. The Adna, Wash., team placed first, but the competition for the fair was limited to teams from the Willamette valley. Ray Schmidt of Albany was high scoring individual in the contest which included the judging of sheep, swine and two classes of dairy cattle.

Colt show, two round-up sponsored by the Hillsboro Business and Professional Women's club and the mutt dog show conducted by the Hillsboro Rotary club attracted considerable attention Saturday afternoon. Grange put on a benefit program and dance Thursday evening, while the Farm Union sponsored a program Friday night. A jitney dance was held Saturday evening.

Thursday, the opening day of the fair, was given over to children and a good crowd responded. Farm Union day was Friday and Grange day Saturday.

Federal Aid Asked on Sewer Program

Decision to make a minimum charge of $10 per rural A fire truck and $3 per hour for firemen on all calls from outside of the city limits was approved by the councilmen during the evening session. Firemen answering such calls are to receive extra compensation at the rate of $1.50 per hour for the man in charge of the rig and $1 per hour for the helper. This payment was authorized to compensate firemen for the loss of time from their work.

Proposal was initiated by Councilman L. C. Kramien and was explained by Fire Chief S. W. Melhuish. The latter stated that during the past month eight rural calls have been received and that each averaged between one and a half and two hours for two men. These firemen, he stated, received no extra compensation and lost considerable time from their work.

Charges for rural service are made by Cornelius and farmers' aid in buying Forest Grove rural equipment, he said. He expressed the belief that persons requesting aid would be more than glad to pay for the service when they realized that the firemen were giving their own time and that the city was standing the cost of maintaining the equipment.

Possibility of installing a preliminary activated sludge sewage disposal plant as proposed by A. B. Forrester, Portland sanitary engineer, was considered by councilmen. The city manager and sanitary committee were authorized to confer with canner officials to ascertain if such a plant could be expected toward such a plant and to determine what equipment Forrester would be willing to furnish. The plant was proposed as a means of testing the efficiency of Forrester's method.

Contract between the city and the Hillsboro Firemen, Inc., for conducting the "Happy Days" celebration in 1936 was authorized by the council. Councilman J. L. Anderson reported that the park committee and the firemen met recently and had come to a verbal agreement regarding the event. Firemen agreed to place $800 of this year's profits into a reserve fund and would increase the total to $1200 from 1936 profits. Additional profits would be divided between the firemen and the city. If the agreement is continued additional years, the firemen would increase the reserve against possible loss to $1500 and divide profits with the city. The reserve fund would remain the property of the firemen, Anderson explained.

Matter of entering into an agreement for the operation of skating at the Shute park auditorium this winter was discussed by the council. The promoters who handled the rink last year wish to start operations about September 11, according to McGee. A verbal agreement was reached at the close of the last session whereby the city and the promoters would divide the gross receipts equally.

The city attorney was instructed to take legal action against James Whitelaw for erection of a canvas covering at his used car lot on Second avenue without a permit if the attorney found the structure to be in violation of the city building ordinance. Contrary to the report last week that the permit had

Seek Road Work for Short Route

Chairman Cabel of the state highway commission, F. D. Eason, assistant district engineer, and H. G. Smith, construction engineer, viewed roads connecting with the Wolf Creek and Wilson river roads Wednesday with the Washington county court. The group inspected the road from Forest Grove to Glenwood where the Wilson River road would turn off. Members of the party next went to Sunset camp and viewed the set-up between Sunset camp and Buxton. The proposed secondary highway between Buxton and Davis was then studied. Kerkman stated that an agreement had been reached whereby the state highway commission would purchase rights-of-way for the Wolf Creek route in Washington county if the county would provide the right-of-way for the Wilson River road.
