

Fall Term of School Opens

South Tualatin Is Expecting Gain After Hop Time

SOUTH TUALATIN—Sound of the school bell Monday morning ushered in the fall term of Johnson school, as twelve pupils answered the roll call. Two of them were new beginners, Buddy Keims and Margie Simpson. More pupils are expected with the ending of fruit and hop picking. Wilmeth Truebach is teacher. The school grounds have been further improved by cutting the grass and rebuilding the woodshed. The old building was turned around and given a new roof and an addition for a garage was built.

Grabel school also started Monday with Miss McCormick in charge. Annabelle and Ruby Bagnell accompanied Ran Bowby to the state fair Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Asbahr have returned from North Bend, where they spent several months while Mr. Asbahr was employed on the bridge. The Asbahr and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Werre were Sunday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Demmin.

Lelia O'Connor left Saturday for Reedville, after spending the summer working at the Frank Simpson home, and will make her home with her parents while attending school this winter.

Violet Jensen has taken a position in Hillsboro at the Pitman home.

Philip Leibenow and Bob Smith are working at the Malling cannery. Mr. and Mrs. Herman Leibenow and Mr. and Mrs. Schildauer spent Sunday at Gaston.

Make Home Here
Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schildauer and daughter Wilma have moved into the neighborhood from Eugene and are living on the Forcia farm. The family is formerly from South Dakota. Wilma is a freshman at Hillsboro High.

Moving Bees
Ray Glenn of Fresno, Cal., who has been coming every summer to the Charles Demmin place to work with bees which he keeps there, is moving his bees to Klamath Falls. He has returned to California to take possession of a new place to another man, and will move them with his own Mr. Glenn, who has been having a great deal of trouble with the yellowjackets that have been so thick in this neighborhood, devised a trap for them and has been successful in capturing a great number. Several gallons of the insects were caught and exterminated.

Blooming Residents Return from Trip

BLOOMING—Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Mully returned home Friday morning after a two months' tour with stopovers at Alberta and British Columbia, Canada, Idaho, Yellowstone national park, Minnesota and California. They report a very enjoyable and educational trip. Two days were spent at the world's fair at San Diego.

Horners Entertain
Mr. and Mrs. J. Horner entertained with a pot luck supper and corn roast on the grounds of their farm last Thursday night. All residents of this community and many friends from Portland were invited. The attendance was estimated at around 200. Impromptu speeches and musical numbers were given and many enjoyed renewing old acquaintances.

Birthday Celebrated
Mrs. John Goetz entertained in celebration of her birthday on September 3. Those present were: James E. H. Deaville, Henry Haase, J. Henry Haase, Fred Haase, John Haase, Margaret Gnos, Henry Peters, F. Waibel, Theresa Eischen and Arnold Gnos, and Norbert and Richard Waibel, Alvin Mildred and Lucille Haase, Vernon, Irene and Joyce Gnos and Norman Goetz. Mrs. John Hergert left about a week ago to pack apples at Hood River.

School Begins
Iowa Hill school began the fall term Monday with an enrollment of seventeen pupils under the instruction of Miss Frieda Kerlch. Lester Newman and LaDele Eischen are beginners.

Lester Newman Honored
Mrs. Percy Newman gave a party September 6 in honor of the sixth birthday of her son Lester. Those who attended were: Theresa and LaDele Eischen, Roy Newman, Irene, and Joyce Gnos and John, Robert and Charles Newman.

Twenty-seven Enrolled
The Lutheran school opened Monday with 27 pupils enrolled. New scholars are Lester Demmin, Ken-

Pacific International to Celebrate Silver Anniversary

Above is shown an aeroplane view of the present vast quarters of the annual Pacific International Livestock Exposition located on the outskirts of Portland. Eleven acres under one roof.

In 1911—twenty-four years ago—the Pacific International Livestock Exposition was founded by the Portland Union Stockyards company, with William H. Daugherty, president; O. M. Plummer, secretary-treasurer and D. O. Lively as general agent, backed by Swift and Company.

These men of vision saw immense possibilities in such an enterprise, and this year the Pacific International celebrates its silver anniversary October 5 to 12 in Portland, Oregon. O. M. Plummer has been with the organization from its beginning and today is general manager. Each succeeding year has seen a gradual growth of this outstanding western event until today it is ranked as one of the finest of its kind in America.

Early indications are that this year's silver anniversary will be an even greater show than in past years with a record-breaking attendance.

Of interest to all visitors at the exhibition will be the extensive industrial display—much space has already been reserved and officials are confident that this year will exceed all others both in number and in size of displays. The display of fish and game by the State Game Commission, neth Brandaw and Dolores Brandaw, beginners, and Anita Kraemer, Franklin Koch, Margaret Koehne, Alvin Pfahl and Leo Velstrop. R. P. Moeller is instructor.

New Folk Here
New residents in the community are Mr. and Mrs. Schildauer and their daughter Wilma, who have moved onto the Stevens farm.

Leaves for School
Elmer Mully left Friday for Concordia Seminary in St. Louis, Mo., where he will continue his theological studies. He was accompanied on the trip by Gerhard Nitz of Bellingham, Wash., and Fred Riess of Klackitt, also students of Concordia. Messrs. Nitz and Riess were Blooming visitors last week.

Public School Opens
The public school at Blooming started September 2 with Mrs. Jaenicke teaching. Eight pupils are enrolled. Newcomers are Mervin Lawrence and Eugene O'Connor.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hering and Bernice, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Kraemer and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Reese, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kraemer and family, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kraemer and family, Walter Reese, Henry Kamna, and Arthur Gurske participated in a picnic with swimming and boating at Louie's Park on the Tualatin river last Sunday.

Miss Bertha Irmiler has recovered sufficiently from her recent illness to be able to be up and around and is again living in her own home in Cornelius.

Leonite Voelker, Annabelle Bagnell, Mildred O'Connor, Wilma Schildauer, Ruth Simantal and Clara Helmdorf entered Hillsboro high school as freshmen this week. Rev. E. W. Hinzsche and family and Mrs. L. Hackett spent last Wednesday at Seaside. Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Kraemer entertained with a party for their daughter Mildred last Wednesday night. The following guests were present: Mr. and Mrs. Gus Moeller, Lelia O'Connor, Mildred Meyer, Margaret Ruecker, Lois Alton, Ruth Simantal, Melvin Herd, Harold Kraemer, Richard Herd-

Cornelius M. E. Sunday School Plans Reception for Teachers

Townsend Club to Hold Open Meeting Last of Month; Dooher Assumes Duties; Mrs. Cochran Hostess

(By Miss Dorothy Cooke)
CORNELIUS—The M. E. Sunday school will sponsor a school teachers' reception at the church Friday evening, September 20.

Mrs. Tennis Pyle entertained a large group of friends at her home Friday, the occasion being her birthday anniversary. Gloria Dober has been a guest at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. T. Pyle, at Firdale.

Plan Meet
The Townsend advisory committee and officers met Wednesday evening at the Methodist church. An open meeting will be held the latter part of the month with a speaker and entertainment. Lee Dierdorf, Ernest Creekpbaum, and Mrs. George Wilcox are in charge of the speaker, and Mrs. Mattie Smith the entertainment.

Mrs. Joseph Cochran entertained Wednesday afternoon at her home with a quilting party. Present were: Mesdames Wilcox, Sarah McLaughry, B. Ingebristson, M. D. Mann, Mattie Smith, Charles Reed, V. French, J. Willey, M. Creekpbaum, Walter Poefenberger and daughters, Robert Scott and Mike Henderson, Lillie Lorraine Jacobs and Barbara Jane Mann and the hostesses.

Little Eleanor and Melvin Finegan of Hillsboro spent the weekend at the home of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Finegan. Melvin returned home Sunday, but Eleanor remained for a few days.

High school students from Cornelius attending either Hillsboro or Forest Grove union high school are beginning their school Monday. Hillsboro bus left for morning registration and the Forest Grove bus for afternoon registration.

Harold Finegan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Finegan and formerly of Cornelius, returned Monday, Tuesday, as a teacher of the agricultural department in the union high school Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Finegan recently visited at the Joseph Finegan home en route to Union Grove, where he taught last year.

Rudolph Schultz is employed in a meat market at Independence. Mr. and Mrs. Loyal Mann of Forest Grove and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Mann and Mary Ann of Hillsboro were guests of Mrs. M. D. Mann Thursday evening.

C. C. Hancock and Mrs. L. Jensen of Portland called at the home of Mrs. Louise Cochran Thursday. Miss Rowena Hermann of Hillsboro was a guest of Mrs. Lester Mooberry Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Horner entertained a group of friends at their

GOOD-BYE, WILL
With millions of others we miss his keen and happy words that told daily what was what.

And we read in a popular weekly what the multi-millionaire merchant, Selfridge of London, said of him—"I like Will's capacity as a journalist immensely and wish he would use his inimitable pen more frequently."

But Will's pen is silenced forever. Mr. Selfridge said: "What will it be in eternity for such a good and kind man?" Yes indeed, out of his big income he gave freely to many good works. But men, what for Will is not the question at all. Here is the real question—"What will it be in eternity for you if your ship cracks up to-night?"

What about you? God put the Jews of old under the ten commandments and the law of Moses, with—"Cursed is every one that continueth not in all things which are written in the book of the law to do them."—(Gal. 3:10) One slip in a life-time and the Jew that side of the Cross came under the curse. He needed a Saviour.

Now this side of the Cross we are not judged by the ten commandments and the law of Moses. We are under a different test. Do we accept Christ as dying for our sins? That is the question; that settles salvation for now and for all eternity. Accept Christ as Saviour and; 1—God puts your name in His Book of Life. You are His forever. 2—Just as the vine sends its life through the branches, so Christ now sends his life into you—"I am the vine, ye are the branches (John 15:5) 3—Resurrection glory. "That in the ages to come He (God) might show the exceeding richness of His grace in His kindness toward us through Christ Jesus." (Eph. 2:9) Right now, right where you are tell God you take Christ as having died for your sins and that from now on you will search the Bible to learn how to love, trust and obey Him.—George N. Taylor, Beaverton, Ore.—Paid adv.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Gustafson spent a two weeks' vacation at Waldport. Robert Cameron spent the weekend and early part of this week at Rockaway. Doris Syverson, who is employed in Portland, spent Monday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Syverson. Marie Doern of Rosedale, who spent the past month at Gearhart, has returned to Portland. She will be employed there this winter and will attend night school. Mr. and Mrs. Norman Danford and Mrs. A. L. Danford spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Tom Miller. Rosemary Roberts of Portland spent last week with her aunt, Mrs. Max Berger. Joe Berger and Donald McIntosh won second place at the state fair on a poultry vaccination demonstration. The livestock judging team, Charles Shapper, Joe Berger and Bernard Altshain, also placed second in competition with twenty-seven other counties. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Walker attended the state fair Friday. Mr. and Mrs. Max Berger entertained at a dinner party Tuesday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Donald Fraser and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Katerli and mother, Mrs. M. Hayes of Crescent City, Cal., Mrs. Hayes' spent the summer here with the Frasers, and Mr. and Mrs. Katerli came north to take her home. The group attended the state fair on Wednesday and the visitors left for home Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Ross Ward, Mrs. Edna Wiley, Mr. and Mrs. Max Berger, Mr. and Mrs. Richardson and their son Ray and a few friends from Portland spent Sunday at Balm Grove. A queer coincidence occurred at this picnic, as Mrs. Bergen and Mrs. Richardson had been girlhood friends in Wichita, Kansas, but hadn't seen each other for seventeen years. Both happened to be friends of other members of the picnic party and instantly recognized each other.

Bishop Sumner Buried Saturday

Last rites were held Saturday for Rt. Rev. Walter T. Sumner, for 20 years bishop of the diocese of Oregon of the Episcopal church and often called the "best known churchman in Oregon." More than 110 friends gathered in Trinity Episcopal church, Portland, to pay final tribute to him. Requiem services were read by Bishop S. Arthur Huston, Seattle, diocese of Olympia, assisted by Bishop W. T. Rowe of Alaska, Bishop W. P. Remington of Eastern Oregon and Bishop M. W. Barnwell of Georgia. Also assisting in the service was the Rev. Francis H. Ball of Trinity church and Archdeacon H. D. Chambers. Preceding the service several favorite selections of Bishop Sumner were played by Carl Denton, organist at St. Stephens cathedral. They included "Largo" (Hanel) and "Aria Death" (Grieg). As the funeral procession moved down the main aisle toward the altar the organist moved into "Land of Hope and Glory" from "Pomp and Circumstance" as the procession, this being in keeping with the specific request of the bishop. The organist continued playing this piece during the opening sentences of the service. Several hundreds seats were reserved for all nurses and physicians of the Good Samaritan hospital who were off duty, for Sisters of St. John the Baptist from St. Helens hall, and clergymen from other faiths. There also were present a representative of Archbishop E. D. Howard of the Roman Catholic church and the priests of the Greek and Russian Orthodox churches. Governor and Mrs. Martin also were present. Bishop Sumner was well known in Hillsboro, having made his annual visits to All Saints' church for confirmation.

A. B. C. Umpires Newspaper Circulation

The players who are going to figure highest in the baseball box scores tomorrow are those who wield the big stick most effectively.

From the moment he yells "Play Ball" until the last man is out in the ninth inning, an official umpire is on top of and calls every pitched ball and every play. The national game would be pandemonium without umpires.

Circulation is a sort of free-for-all debating contest previous to the majority choice of the Audit Bureau of Circulations (A. B. C.) as the unprejudiced umpire of newspapers' circulations.

Strong-arm methods no longer prevail in selling advertising space any more than they have been able to survive in baseball. Players and spectators shout "robber" at the umpire, but the calm, superior judgment of the umpire stands. Publishers—a few of them—still yell, "I've got umpty-ump thousand circulation"—"I've got quality subscribers," etc. The wise advertiser replies, "Can you prove those claims by an A. B. C. audit report?" Four-fifths of the total daily newspaper circulation in the United States and Canada is so proved. Only one-fifth can't be.

A primary rule of advertising success is that advertising dollars must buy a known, proved quantity of paid circulation. An A. B. C. auditor thoroughly examines every A. B. C. newspaper's records once a year so he will be able to report authoritatively and impartially on quantity, location and methods of circulation.

If you expect to have a satisfactory profit-batting average, you can't ignore the important thing—circulation—that makes advertising score highest in the sales columns.

Without an A. B. C. audit report to guide you, you're taking a wild swing with your eyes shut. With such facts as the Argus' audit report gives you, you can smack out the results that good advertising and an adequate medium are bound to produce.
