GOING FISHING?
From that day when Jesus began by asking the woman at the well for a drink of water, even to this very hour, fishing for souls has been a catch-as-catch-can business.

So when the two chaps from Minnesota dropped into the Mission to write a letter back home, we made them welcome and stood ready for business if the way opened. And the way did. One said he was a saved man—"And I know John 3:16." The other sat puffing a cigarette. We turned to him with our favorite opener—"If you die tonight do you die saved or lost?"

This little-big question can be put to any and all; it is so personal. Your man is to die sometime; common ground here. And he is to die either saved or lost. His conscience tells him that. It is with you, crying to him to settle it then and there. And to this fellow—"Do you die saved or lost?"

The man of years is apt to hide behind his own favorite—"I'm as good as your church members." But the young fellows have not built up this handy excuse. This chap in the overalls was quick and honest—"I die lost." It seems he had grown up in a church but had never been brought face to face with the question of personal salvation. He had a foundation for faith in the good teaching they gave him. And before we finished, he took Christ as his Saviour and Lord.

If the boy out to see America first, can be brought face about toward eternal glory, why not the home boy? And now a verse for you personal workers—"Here is my Father glorified, that ye bear much fruit; so shall ye be my disciples." John 15:8-9 George N. Taylor, Beaverton.—Paid adv.

Hillsboro Argus contains all the news of Hillsboro and the surrounding communities. Read it and keep informed on what is happening at home.

Verna May Harper of the first grade at the Peter Boscow school left this week for a short visit with her great-grandmother.

Pupils of the junior high and the fourth grade of the Peter Boscow school enjoyed a special treat Friday when a representative of the Victor company showed two hours of motion pictures. The main presentation was "The Pony Express," which was rated among the best silent pictures of a few years ago. A comedy, "School Pals," was enthusiastically received.

Pupils and teachers of the junior high are hoping that before very long they will have a motion picture machine at the school. Such a purchase would be a big educational advancement for the Hillsboro grade schools.

QUICK RELIEF FROM A DISTRESSING AFFLICTION

Many people in Hillsboro, whose lives have been made miserable through suffering from those distressing surface muscular pains so often miss-called "rheumatic," will doubtless be glad to know about Williams R. U. X. Compound which is giving such quick relief in many cases.

Williams R. U. X. Compound is prepared from the prescription of a former army doctor who used it in his extensive practice for many years. Sufferers now may have the benefit of its relief at a cost of only a few cents a day. If you suffer from shooting, stabbing muscular pains in shoulders, arms or legs; if you are bothered with neuralgic or surface pains of the body, don't endure this agony any longer without trying Williams R. U. X. Compound.
