Needs of Banks Union School Stressed at Budget Session

Problems Standard Rating Considered; Mothers' Club to Meet Friday; Cliff Thompson Has Narrow Escape

BANKS—High school budget committee met Thursday night in the high school and made little change in the budget for last year. There was a discussion on the proposed gymnasium and it was made very clear that without a gym and equipment for teaching of domestic science and manual training that this cannot remain a standard high school after this year. Also without a standard rating the school will probably lose the pupils from the non-high school districts that are coming in on buses, which will cripple the Banks high school.
