

County Health Group Plans for Seal Sale

Annual Christmas Seal sale, to be launched in Washington county on the day after Thanksgiving, was planned Wednesday in Hillsboro by 20 district chairmen and officers of the Washington County Public Health association. Mrs. Sadie Orr Dunbar, executive secretary of the Oregon Tuberculosis association, was the principal speaker during the luncheon at the Pharmacy outlining the purpose and background of the Christmas seals and suggesting plans for the campaign.

That 45 to 70 per cent of the funds derived from the sale of Christmas seals was retained for anti-tuberculosis work in the counties in which the money was raised was the declaration of Mrs. Dunbar. The amount varies according to the number of seals sold. Only five cents of each dollar raised goes to the national organization, she said.

Quota of five seals per capita has been set for Oregon this year, she stated. Last year the sale in Washington county amounted to approximately 2 1/2 seals per capita every 100,000 population in the United States died from tuberculosis. This was cut to 57 out of every 100,000 in 1934. However, a slight increase in tubercular deaths following the years of depression presents a challenge for even greater efforts this year.

Program of the state association is three-fold, according to the speaker: Find the patient, care for the patient and prevent the spread of the disease.

Proceeding the luncheon district chairmen met at the courthouse in a conference directed by Mrs. Harry R. Morgan, county seal sale chairman. Mrs. Essex Marsh, president of the county association, outlined the work of the health association, while Mrs. Margaret Dixon, county health nurse, explained the work of her department.

Persons attending the conference and luncheon were: Mrs. W. F. Clapham, Hillsdale; Mrs. P. Shearman, Fairview; Mrs. Johnston Tigard; Mrs. W. F. Cyrus, Mrs. Edward C. Coman, Mrs. Miss Dixon and Mrs. Morgan, Hillsboro; Mrs. I. R. Metzler, Mrs. Breeding, Mrs. M. McKercher and Mrs. Marsh, Beaverton; Mrs. L. D. Ladd, Midway; Mrs. H. D. Ledford, Watts; Mrs. H. E. W. Arney, Mrs. George Bauman, Forest Grove; Mrs. A. C. Johannessen, Glenwood; Mrs. Anna Schmidt, Laurel; Mrs. Gale, Middleton; and Mrs. Dunbar, Hillsboro.

R. Metzler, superintendent of Beaverton schools, has offered to help the seal sale by showing health films in county high schools, according to Mrs. Marsh.

We think you're clever. Your homes are efficient, livable places. Your families are well cared for. You're good managers and good shoppers. You enjoy life and find time to support the activities of your churches and clubs. We're proud of you... but we can't refrain from taking a little of the credit for ourselves! You see, we're aware of the part that The Argus plays in your lives. You wanted suggestions for making your homes better and more pleasant. You wanted information about new fashions and current events. Naturally you turned to The Argus, and found articles that helped. But you didn't stop there; you found out where you could buy the articles you read about... you read the ads. In your usual efficient way you went about your shopping, knowing what you wanted to buy and where you could buy it. You made your homes better, because you knew where you could get the equipment that would save you time and money. You were able to serve better meals and found that they cost you less... because you did your comparative shopping through the Argus. You were able to buy newer things... because you knew what stores had the newest stocks. And you found that shopping this way gave you more time for your own activities. Certainly, you're clever... and our hats are off to you!
