

Mrs. Barney, Hickman, Heads of Pythians

Joint installation of officers of Knights of Pythias and Pythian Sisters was held at the K. P. hall Monday night, with Mrs. J. W. Barney installed as M. E. C. of Phoenix temple, and R. L. Hickman, chancellor commander of Phoenix lodge. Mrs. W. C. Gifford was installed officer of the Pythian Sisters, assisted by Mrs. Emma McKinney as grand senior and Mrs. J. D. Anderson as grand manager. Ann Peters acted as goddess of flowers, and the little flower girls were Jacqueline and Barbara Barney, Rosemary Zumwalt and Judy Schindler.

G. Russell Morgan was the Knights' installing officer and was assisted by F. J. Sewell as grand master-at-arms.

Other officers installed for the Knights were Walter E. Hutchinson, chancellor; G. R. Chapman, prelate; J. D. Anderson, master of work; A. W. Havens, K. of R. and S.; W. C. Christensen, M. of E.; R. H. Busch, master-at-arms; E. F. Wheeler, inner guard; H. H. Rehe, outer guard; L. A. Long is retiring chancellor commander.

Mrs. Barney's corps of officers for Phoenix temple are Estella Johnson, excellent senior; Angie Harrington, excellent junior; Laura Morgan, manager; Lena Peters, M. of E. and C. Tillie Oaker, M. of E. Lucille Gifford, secretary; Hazel Gardner, guard; and Thelma Peppard, past chief. Mrs. Grant Zumwalt substituted in Mrs. Gifford's office during the installation.

A program was given after installation, consisting of vocal solos by Russell Morgan and Pythian Sisters; Fred Sewell; piano duets by Ann and Robert Peters, and violin selections by Miss Esther Wicks, accompanied by Miss Maurine Moore. Short talks were made by Mrs. Hazel Hollenbeck, grand chief; R. L. Hickman, chancellor commander; and Albert Tozier, oldest in membership of any Knight in Oregon, having been a member of the order for more than 55 years. Mr. Tozier told of some of the early history of the Knights' lodge and Pythian Sisters' temple.

Dancing and refreshments concluded the evening's entertainment.

Orchestra Class Organized Here Monday Evening

Organization meeting Monday night of an orchestra class in Hillsboro under the WPA adult education program attracted 14 interested persons, according to O. B. Kraus, county school superintendent. The group will meet again next Tuesday evening at the office of the county school superintendent and then go to a regular meeting place. All persons interested are invited to attend.

Training Course Attendance Grows

Increased attendance at the second session of the Scoutmaster's training course at the American Legion hall Monday night brought the total of men enrolled to 22. All are from Hillsboro and the Hillsboro district. Several men from North Plains and Helvetia are attending.

Instruction at the second session covered the "Patrol System in the Scout Troop" and the "Weekly Troop Meeting." These topics were discussed by Brunel Richards, senior patrol leader, and William F. Johnson, scoutmaster of the course, respectively. Patrol instruction in tenderfoot and second class, requirements was in charge of the two patrol leaders of the patrols composing the training troop, T. G. Bronleewe and A. E. Opendeveyer. Inter-patrol contests were divided evenly Monday night, the Flying Eagles under Bronleewe winning the compass relay race and the Ducks under Opendeveyer winning a contest on scout insignia.

Next meeting will be Monday evening at the chamber of commerce. Topics of discussion will be the "Efficient Troop Committee" led by D. P. Hemingway, district commissioner from Portland, William F. Johnson, scoutmaster of the training troop and Field Executive from Portland will talk on "Planning for the Year."

Troop rating for December showed the Hillsboro troops with an average 74.6 per cent, over eight points above the next district and first of the districts for the third successive month, according to V. W. Gardner, district commissioner, after reports from the headquarters in Portland.

"We are particularly gratified over the increase over last month. This was done in spite of adverse weather conditions, which has affected our camping program," stated Mr. Gardner.
