

Coffee Club to Give Colonial Silver Tea

One of the major projects of the Coffee club for a number of years has been its scholarship loan fund, and an annual party is given to augment the fund. This year a Colonial Silver Tea will be held at the home of Mrs. Thomas Connell, instead of at the chamber of commerce as scheduled, Friday afternoon from 2:30 to 5 o'clock. Hostesses will be Mesdames Marshall Elder, R. F. Peters, G. N. Taggart, Elwood Johnson, Lois Walworth, and E. E. Bentley.

The music committee will present an outstanding program, and all ladies of the community are invited.

Reports on the County Federation meeting were given at the regular meeting of the Coffee club Friday afternoon at the chamber of commerce by Mrs. H. H. Stannard, Mrs. C. M. Reed and Mrs. Thomas Connell, delegates.

Mrs. J. M. Person, chairman of the literature department, read a poem written by Ethel Romig Fuller, and Mrs. A. H. Blasing read an original poem, "Tick-Tock." Seven members gave reviews on books.

Charter members, past presidents and wives of the firemen had been invited to attend the meeting. Mrs. M. Cave of Hillsboro and Mrs. J. C. Hare of Portland, the only charter members who are members at present, were unable to attend. A letter of greetings was read from Mrs. J. I. Knight of McMinnville, a charter member, who was unable to attend, and letters were read from two past presidents, Mrs. J. P. Tamsieie of Portland and Mrs. L. W. Hyde of Astoria.

Mrs. Emma McKinney, a past president, read a history of the organization of the club, which was organized on March 3, 1894, for the purpose of serving coffee to the volunteer fire fighters, with the late Mrs. J. C. Lamkin as president. The late Mrs. H. V. Gates had belonged to a similar club in Corvallis and was a leader in organizing the local club. The late F. S. Weather was chairman of the volunteer fire department at the time. Mrs. McKinney also read a brief history of the intervening years since the organization until the present time, and had an exhibit of pictures of charter members and other early-day members and past presidents of the club, as well as firemen. The exhibit also contained a copy of the first Argus (issued on March 28, 1894) which went to Washington, D. C., with an application for permit to be sent through the main office. Mitchell was editor and W. C. Clev, a brother-in-law of Mrs. J. Nicodemus, was publisher. The application to Washington, D. C., was sent by John M. Brown, deputy under Mary A. Brown, postmistress. The copy is on display in the Argus window.

Past presidents in attendance were Mesdames Dora Nelson, R. L. Smith, E. L. Moore, R. F. Peters, W. G. Hare, Thomas Connell, Lois Walworth, and Fred Sewell, also Mrs. Elsie Schulerich, of Corvallis, secretary in 1898, Mrs. Albert Harttramp, treasurer in 1911-12, and Mrs. May I. Smith, an officer in 1912.

Musical program was presented by a past president and members of presidents' families. Mrs. Fred Sewell, Ann and Robert Peters and Irene Engeldinger.

Mesdames A. W. Havens, W. J. Enschede and Fred Holzgang were hostesses, with Mrs. W. G. Hare and Mrs. Thomas Connell presiding at the refreshment table.

Mrs. Gladys Meyer, county federation president, and the district president will attend the March meeting, which will open with a pot luck luncheon.

Entertain at Valentine Party—Mrs. L. T. McPheeters and Mrs. Harry Morgan entertained with a dessert luncheon and bridge party February 12 at the home of Mrs. McPheeters. Seven tables were in play, Mrs. C. T. Richardson and Mrs. A. W. Hoffman receiving honors at contract bridge, with Mrs. W. G. Hare and Mrs. C. E. Wells receiving high and second at auction. The valentine motif was carried out in decorations and refreshments.

Her bridesmaids, Miss Lorraine Chase, wore a brown silk street frock and hat, with a corsage of yellow roses and violets. Charles Stewart, Miss Evangeline, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

Miss Evangeline Fuller, played the wedding march and accompanied her sister, Miss Minerva Fuller, who sang "Because." The church was lighted with tapers, and decorations were of white carnations and potted tulips against a background of palms and baskets of Oregon grape. Mrs. George Fischer decorated the church.

The couple will make their home in Forest Grove, where Mr. Stewart is employed with McCready Lumber company. They are well known in Hillsboro also. Mrs. Stewart attended school in Hillsboro and graduated from Hillsboro high school in 1933. Mr. Stewart attended Willamette university at Salem.

Paintings Shown History Center; Many at Open

Opening day, Friday, of the Washington County Museum and Historical society brought out a crowd of interested people to the room in the basement of the court house. Probably the most popular department was the pigeon holes containing many old pictures and documents of early Washington county and especially of Hillsboro and Forest Grove. Both Albert Tozier and his sister, Mrs. Edith Tozier Weatherhead, expressed themselves as being pleased over the large display of native Oregonians from different sections of the county and a number from Portland.

Added to the permanent exhibit was a group of thirty-two oil paintings by Maude Walling-Walker, a professional artist of Portland, who is putting on canvas some of the historical landmarks of Oregon. To date she has painted eighty-four. Those now hanging here will be shown for a week or ten days. Among these are the old Baptist church at West Union, the Sims Reed home at Reedville, Science hall at Pacific university and Tabitha Brown cabin at Forest Grove, the "Star of Oregon" an Ocean vessel built by Joseph Gale in 1841 and sailed to California, which it was sold and the money used to purchase cattle which were driven to Oregon, four scenes on the old Barlow trail around Mt. Hood, the Oswego smelter, grave of Ewing Young, St. Paul Catholic church, constructed of brick in 1847, scene at the site of old Champeez, Skidmore fountain in Portland, the first brick house in the Oregon country, the Amos Cook home at Lafayette, the Dr. Newell home at Champeez, Blue Mountain university at LaGrande and others, each with an interesting and important historical background, which Mrs. Weatherhead or Mr. Tozier are glad to explain.

The pictures are not only an exhibit of art, but the purpose is also to impress upon the younger generation the wonderful historical background of the Oregon country. There are no charges to see these pictures, nor are they for sale. Mrs. Walker is a granddaughter of G. W. Walling, a pioneer of 1847. The historical rooms are open every day from 10 a. m. to 5:30 p. m., and the public is cordially invited.

Miss Behm Weds Leonard Stark

At a pretty wedding Friday night at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Robinson, near Beaverton, Miss Mabel Behm became the bride of Leonard Stark, son of Mr. Ed Albin Scholls.

The candlelight service was read before a large red heart, by the Rev. A. T. Kolke of Portland. The rooms were decorated with evergreens.

Preceding the ceremony the "Song of Love" and Lohengrin's "Wedding Chorus" were played over radio station KPJR.

The bride wore a lovely gown of white moire and a full length tulle veil arranged in coronet and carried with orange blossoms. She carried a cascade bouquet of white calla lilies, white carnations and maiden hair fern.

Miss Grace Behm was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a dress of blue crepe and carried pink carnations.

Herbert Stark, brother of the groom, acted as best man.

Sixty guests attended the wedding and reception. After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Stark will be at home to their many friends in their new home near Progress.

Miss Sills Bride of B. Germiquet

Miss Vera Marie Sills, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Sills of Forest Grove, became the bride of Benjamin J. Germiquet, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Germiquet of Beaverton, Saturday evening, February 15, at 8 o'clock.

Rev. Oliver Curtis of Forest Grove performed the marriage ceremony in their future home, two miles south of Beaverton, in the presence of the parents of both the bride and groom, and Mrs. Malinda Cummings, and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Foxton, who were the attendants.

Following the ceremony a lunch was served at which the bride cut the wedding cake. The young people left on a short trip to Seattle, Everett and Bellingham.

The groom is a well known farmer near Beaverton. The bride is a Forest Grove girl and has been employed in the Washington county home for the past five years.
