

Aloha Grange to Give Work

Baseball Dance Pleasing to Manager McBrean

(By O. B. Bennett)

ALOHA—Aloha Grange will put on the third and fourth degree work at Hillsboro Grange tonight (Thursday).

Mrs. Matt King is improving from an illness, which confined her to her bed the past week.

Mrs. C. J. Stickney was ill with flu last week, but is able to be at the office again.

L. C. Meeks is building a large unit of development of his chicken business on his acreage on Vista avenue.

Mrs. Roy Antrim has been seriously ill with flu.

R. L. Snyder had been advised to go to a hospital for observation because of a complication of ailments. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Oakes of Portland visited Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Snyder Sunday.

"Doc" L. H. Farlow visited Mrs. Farlow's mother in Gresham Sunday.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Bollinger February 23, a boy.

Miss Alice Huntington, attending school at Hopewell, spent the week-end with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Huntington.

Local I. O. O. F. members attended a Portland lodge meeting February 22 with A. W. Taylor, who was given the third degree.

Manager Fred McBrean was well pleased with the response of local people in attending the baseball dance, which brought in a goodly sum to help in equipping the team. More entertainments are planned for the future.

Transfer of Funds Blamed for Arrest liquor to minors. It is alleged by the officers that he furnished wine for some of the youths of his home town.

Tony Greblo of near Tigard, Portland railway shop employee, has been placed under arrest on complaint that he threatened injury to his wife and family.

Two men and a state policeman were needed, according to the report, to place handcuffs on Lloyd Tipton, Tualatin, who is in jail pending action of the grand jury on charges of driving while drunk and disorderly conduct. He was arrested in Tualatin. Judge Donald Templeton, in county court Monday, bound Tipton over under $500 bonds on the driving charge and $100 bonds on the other.

Axel Lindberg, Hillsboro route 5 near Midway, was arrested Wednesday morning by a deputy sheriff on a warrant from Multnomah county charging hit and run driving. It is alleged in the complaint that Lindberg struck a car on Tenwilliger boulevard Sunday afternoon and failed to stop.

Sheriff's deputies Tuesday afternoon made short work of an appeal from Mrs. Guy Clemens of Ipava, Ill., to locate her brother, George Stevenson, who came here in 1930. Stevenson was found on the Shultz Brothers poultry farm where he is employed and his sister's letter delivered to him.

Visits in South

Mrs. H. J. Lowrey left Friday in company of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hagle of Hillsboro for several weeks visit with relatives in San Francisco and Los Angeles. Mr. Hagle is breaking in a new car on the trip. Mrs. Major Weisenbeck will assist in the store in the absence of Mrs. Lowrey.

Postmaster and Mrs. H. L. Price visited her mother at Pleasant Home. They report much snow and ice on the trip.

R. J. Kirkpatrick of Harry's place suffered shock in an accident Friday and was attended by Dr. Pitman of Hillsboro.

Speaker Says Plan Friend of Business

"Business men and minded men, when they come to realize what the Townsend Plan is, will find it their friend," declared Eugene Burr, speaker, before a large audience at the M. E. church Sunday.

Mr. Burr is familiar with the workings of the proposed transaction tax under the Townsend Plan as embodied in the McGroarty bill before congress and he declared that at no time could the two per cent transaction tax exceed, even if pyramidized, six per cent. This he gave in refutation that it would run as high as sixty per cent as opponents claim. He challenges anyone to show him in black and white how they can make such a charge.

"On a $750 car the total transaction tax is less than $27 and on fifty leaves of bread the total tax per loaf would only be one-half a cent," pointed out the speaker.

"The women of the local club presented a potted plant to Mrs. F. M. Dille with their birthday greetings. Special music for the occasion was furnished by members of the Foursquare church. A sacred duet was sung by Mr. and Mrs. J. Green and a sacred musical number to the Deacons electric harp played by Mrs. Katie Shipley.

Next meeting will be at the Baptist church March 8 at 2 p. m.

Farmers' Union Store Develops

local warehouse include dairy feeds, gasoline and oil. Other items include chiefly two standard lines of farm machinery, seeds and building material. A full stock of tires is being added along with a complete tire service, Baker said.

At present, part of the large building is occupied by the Home Laundry, but this space can be made available to warehouse needs at any time and perhaps may be used at some time in the future, Baker said.

The Farmers' Union is a comparatively new organization in Washington county, the first local having been organized four years ago at Verboort. The county organization followed in February that same year with membership and locals increasing rapidly since then.

Officers of the local co-operative including J. H. Jacobson of Hillsboro, Harold Aebischer of Sherwood, M. E. Toliver of Gaston, and Manager R. N. Baker, attended the annual tri-state regional meeting of the Pacific Supply Co-operative in Walla Walla February 20 and 21.

According to Baker, the regional reported a very rapid growth during the last year. Mr. Baker also called attention to the fact that in Denmark, Sweden and Holland, where the co-operative movement has had its greatest development, effects of the depression have been felt but lightly. The regional is operated for the purpose of securing large volume contracts on commodities consumed by its members and distributing these commodities to its members, he said.

Tests Reveal Need Better Producers

that more dairymen use the milk scales and butterfat test. This can best be done through a herd improvement or cow-testing association," Washington County Testing association has now been operating a county group since last March, but some of the herds, which have finished their year's work, were already testing in the joint county association, which has been functioning for two or three years prior.

Figures on the two high herds show an average production per cow of 451 pounds of fat, a feed cost of $98, and a return above feed cost of $144.25. On the two low herds there was a production of butterfat of 306 pounds per cow, a feed cost of $83 and a return above feed cost of $41.75. The high cow produced 670 pounds of butterfat and there was a total of 10 cows that had an average annual production above 575 pounds of fat. There were 11 herds that had an average production per cow for the herd of 300 pounds of fat or more per year.

Dairymen completing 12 months of testing December 31, 1935, were as follows: Mrs. Tom Williams, Forest Grove; David Hagg and Sons, Reedville; Mrs. Robertson and Son, Forest Grove; C. B. Buchanan, Jr., Gaston; Connell Bros., Hillsboro; Albert Greener, Hillsboro; Amos Watkins, Hillsboro; Julius Christensen, Hillsboro; Fir Grove Dairy, Hillsboro; Morningdew Dairy, Hillsboro; C. Earl Stretcher, Beaverton; Elmer E. Guerber, Hillsboro.

Officers of Washington County Dairy Herd Improvement Association are as follows: Julius Christensen, president; C. B. Buchanan, secretary and treasurer; Ed Freudenthal, Hillsboro, and Oscar Hagg, Reedville, directors.
