

Friday Night Banquet Closes Business Week

The committee in charge of National Business Women's Week for Business and Professional Women's club has been fortunate in securing Prof. J. Lloyd LeMaster of Oregon State college as the speaker for the banquet at the chamber of commerce Friday night. Prof. LeMaster received his LL. B. degree at the University of Illinois in 1923; Fellowship of Republic of France, University of Bordeaux in 1924; Research Fellowship, University of Colorado in 1925. M. A.; taught at University of Illinois three years, and at Oregon State college eight years. He is a member of the Oregon Bar, American Bar association, and American Academy of Political and Social Science. His subject will be the theme of the national week, "Effective Democracy," and a short special forum will be held at the close of his address. A musical program will also be given, and this will be the closing event of the week's activities.

Members of the club were in attendance at the Methodist church Sunday morning, when Rev. Charles M. Reed delivered a masterful sermon on "Religion in Business," and pointed out that the Golden Rule could be applied in business as well as in all other walks of life. A choir of twelve sang some special numbers, and Miss Helen Dean was the soloist, with Mrs. P. J. Kalkwart as accompanist.

The regular business meeting was held Monday evening at the home of Miss Margaret Cady, followed by a game party. Those receiving honors in the games were Miss Elaine Caldwell and Miss Angie Harrington.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt Saturday opened the ninth annual observance of National Business Women's week, in a letter to the national executive secretary of the federation, sending greetings from the White House.

"It is a privilege to extend greetings to the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs on the occasion of the observance of National Business Women's Week," an much interested in the fact that you have chosen as your theme for special consideration during the week, "Women's Responsibility in Effective Democracy."

"It is one of the favorable signs of the times that people more and more are taking an interest in the affairs of government. It is my belief that the more popular interest is aroused in governmental matters, the more effective the people will be in achieving their aspirations. Hence, at the present time, when we as a nation are striving to find our way into a better ordered social system, it is fortunate that women have become so active politically and are encouraging legislative reforms and innovations designed to improve the social order. A great responsibility rests with them in making their influence felt to the end that social progress shall not be thwarted by those who are actuated only by selfish motives."

"I wish for you every success in the studies you are making at this time concerning plans and methods through which we may make our democracy serve a higher purpose in humanitarian progress."

"Guest Day" Friday—Social club of the Eastern Star will hold "guest day" meeting with dessert luncheon at 1:30 p. m. Friday.

Dinner Speaker Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Shipley Celebrate 50th Anniversary

Professor J. Lloyd LeMaster of Oregon State college, who will speak at National Business Women's Week banquet at chamber of commerce Friday night.

Demonstration Here Thursday Well Attended

Sixty Washington county home-makers attended an all-day meeting Thursday in the chamber of commerce. Miss Blanche Eickworth, home demonstration agent-at-large, conducted the meeting, and Miss Joan Patterson, extension home furnishing specialist of the Oregon State college, talked on "Curtaining the Home" and "Color in the Home." Interesting exhibits illustrating the subjects discussed were displayed. This was the first of a series of county-wide home economics meetings.

Mrs. Della M. Cypher of North Plains, chairman of the Washington county home economics committee, presided at the conference. As a special musical number Mrs. Cypher and Mrs. Leon Davis of Laurel sang a duet. Mrs. Mary Chamberlain of North Plains and Mrs. G. E. Hite of Sherwood led the group singing.

Miss Thelma Gaylord, state leader of Home Economics Extension, was present for the meeting.

Plan for P.-T. A. Instruction Meet

A number of Parent-Teacher members in the various units in Washington county plan to attend the inspirational meetings to be held in Portland by Mrs. Charles E. Roe, national field secretary, from National Congress headquarters at Washington, D. C. Mrs. Roe is well known in Oregon, having been here at several former occasions. Her instruction to P.-T. A. workers is made available through the Founders' Day offerings sent in by the local units each year. Each local hopes to benefit by sending in at least one delegate for the three-day session, March 24, 25 and 26, to be held at the public library at Portland, at the Yamhill entrance. Registrations are in charge of Mrs. Bert V. Chaplin, 356 S. E. 44th avenue, Portland.
