

Seek Boys for Forest Camps

Relief Workers Have First CCC Quota in Year

First quota for CCC camp since last summer is being called by the Washington county relief office for April 1, according to R. W. Weil, chairman.

The boys sent to camp must be taken from families on relief, Weil declared, and others will not be considered under any circumstances this year. The boys must be between the ages of 17 and 28 years. Camps to which the boys will be sent will be announced later when the quota is ready to report.

Saturday, members of the relief committee including Weil, Judge Donald T. Templeton and Alice Maxwell, executive secretary, will attend a conference in the Multnomah hotel in Portland at which time details of the old age and blind assistance will be explained. The new program will be launched April 1, according to announcements received here.

Under the new setup, the government is advancing money to match state and county funds. The funds will be available as soon as investigations of individual applicants can be made.

First Spring Days Arrive with Snow

Earlier wild flowers are beginning to show.

Tuesday afternoon snow again fell along the hills and Wednesday night the temperature fell, freezing the ground. Snow furries throughout the night and Wednesday morning covered sections of the valley with white.

school of his community, later attending Portland Academy and James John high school in St. John.

When the United States entered the World war, he joined the navy and served more than two years in the convey and transport service. After he was discharged he attended Oregon State college, leaving in his sophomore year.

In 1923 he took over the management and operation of the home farm and has continued there ever since. During this time he has served as clerk of the school board in his district for six years. He has been an active member of Hillsboro post, American Legion, Farmers' Union and other civic and fraternal organizations.

Of his candidacy he says: "I believe I am capable of handling the duties of the county clerk and if nominated and elected I will try to conduct the business of the office efficiently and serve the public to the best of my ability."

Scott in Race
Richard G. Scott of Sherwood, route 4, this week announced himself as a candidate for state representative on the democratic ticket, making the first official announcement by the democrats for this office.

In his announcement he says: "My object is to hold down taxes and see that the farmers get a fair deal. I have been a farmer in this county for 27 years except for two and a half years when I served as county agricultural agent in Clackamas county."

"I am a member of the dairy cooperative association and worked a short time for the old dairy league and also for the present wool growers' association."

"I am secretary of the Washington county farm bureau and member of the executive committee of the state farm bureau. Last year I was a member of the county budget committee. At present I am a member of the Washington county planning board. I am a graduate of Harvard, having been a student there at the same time as President Roosevelt."

Metzger Veterans Hillsboro Guests

Assistance in the prosecution of health activities among school children was pledged Tuesday night to the Washington County Health association by Hillsboro post, American Legion. The proposed program, which includes vaccinations, is county wide, it was explained by Fred Engeldinger, member of the association.

Members of Metzger post were guests of the Hillsboro organization. The program, in charge of Paul Patterson, featured two numbers from the recent Legion amateur contest including Wayne Nickerson, contestant, winner of first prize, and Dale Busch and his accordion, another amateur number which received much favorable comment.

After the business meeting and program, those interested listened to the fights in Portland via radio broadcast. The radio was furnished by Nye Bristol. Lunch committee included Dr. J. B. Dinsmore, William Dierdorf and Nye Bristol.

Mrs. Ivie Speaks Townsend Session

(By R. L. Putnam)

One of the most unique Townsend addresses delivered in this community was presented by Mrs. Nora Ivie of Oregon City in the Christian church Sunday afternoon. It was a chart message showing the heart of the Townsend plan at a glance by means of a tree. The great roots of the tree were the various sources of business transactions in the nation on which the 2 per cent transaction tax under the McGroarty bill may be levied.

The trunk of the tree was denominated "Transaction Tax," showing it to be the life of the plan and the branches going out from each side of the trunk represented the blessings accruing to the nation from the plan, i. e. purchasing power for the masses, employment for all workers, new social conditions, equitable taxation, solution of public relief, reduction of crime and insanity, justice, etc.

She was accompanied by her husband, W. W. Ivie, who has a W. W. washing machine engine and also one small stationary gas engine—T. Davis, Rt. 1, Cornelius.

North Plains

Pythian Sisters will give a benefit card party for the Pythian Home the afternoon of March 30 at the K. P. hall, beginning at 2 p. m. Five hundred will be played.
