John Kanna of Blooming, vice-president, was named to attend the state convention. German Troops Once More Drill in Rhineland

The entire world feared war would come soon after Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler, lower left, sent Nazi troops goosestepping into the Rhineland in violation of the Treaty of Versailles, which in part provided for permanent demilitarization of that strip of German territory along the French and Belgian borders. Germany, in the Locarno Treaty of 1925, agreed to respect this clause. In announcing his decision to remilitarize the Rhine area, Hitler asserted the mutual assistance pact between France and Russia had violated the Locarno pact prior to his action. France called for strong punitive measures against Germany. Nazi troops are shown in the top photo, being reviewed by Defense Minister Werner von Blomberg. Pictured at the lower right are French artillerymen. The map shows the zone along the historic Rhine into which Hitler sent his troops.

WARD OFF SPRING FEVER

This is the time of year when our grandmothers turned to the standard spring tonic of their day—"sulphur and molasses"—and relentlessly forced daily doses upon their families. They firmly believed that sulphur and molasses would rid the blood of impurities and thus overcome this sluggish feeling we all are coming to recognize as "spring fever."

It seems that the popularity of sulphur and molasses was due to the fact that it really did reinforce the blood to some extent. It appeared to supply the blood with something that had been lacking. But the modern housewife of today knows that these body deficiencies may be supplied almost entirely through an adequate diet. In planning the menus for these early spring days one must watch particularly to see that the diet offers liberal amounts of minerals and vitamins. These elements so essential to the development and health of an individual protect against colds and other infections, promote growth and are largely responsible for the glowing healthy color seen occasionally, but too often merely coveted.

These important elements are generously supplied in any of the dairy products—in cream, milk or butter, or in any of the colorful fruits and vegetables. And if your physician advises it you can increase the vitamin content of your meals by serving irradiated milk and irradiated cereals or bread. Vitamins are important if you intend to keep well and wish to ward off a bad attack of spring fever.

Let us suggest an attractive spring menu.

- Tomato Juice
- Carrot Ring with Cheese Sauce
- Head lettuce French dressing
- Ice Cream Wafers
- Milk to drink

This Carrot Ring is crammed full of minerals and vitamins and might easily serve as a healthful and welcome "spring tonic" for your family.

- Carrot Ring
- 2½ cups cooked carrots, grated
- 2 eggs, well beaten
- 1 cup whole milk
- ½ teaspoon sugar
- 1½ tablespoon butter
- ½ teaspoon salt

Melt the butter in a ring mold and rub it well up on the sides. Mix the other ingredients together and turn into buttered mold. Bake in slow oven, 300 degrees for about 30 minutes. Serve on a hot platter and fill the center with green peas, served with cheese sauce.
