Twenty members of the Hillsboro Parent-Teacher association Monday were in attendance at the P.T.A. section meeting of the National Educational association convention. The session was held at Library hall, Portland.

A combined group from the high school and public school organizations presented Mrs. E. F. Longworthy, president of the national congress of P.T.A., with a Myrtlewood gavel. The presentation was made by Mrs. M. M. Romig of Hillsboro.

The gavel was one of four made in the school manual training shops here at the direction of E. W. Barnes, O. G. Huggins, M. M. Romig and O. M. Plummer of Portland. The other three are for presentation to department heads of the convention. Each gavel is accompanied by a card giving the history of the wood used.

Of chief interest at the meeting were reports by delegations from all states on the subjects, "Health and Safety," "Social Attitudes," "Economic Adjustment," "Educational Opportunities," "Travel-Youth Hostels and Pilgrimages."

One of the most interesting reports was on the hikes taken by Vermont youngsters over the long Vermont trail which traverses the state from north to south, and along which hostels have been erected for accommodation of the youthful hiking parties.

Times Better Through East, Hare Reports

Consensus of opinion seems to be that President Roosevelt will win this fall by a smaller majority than before. W. G. Hare, Hillsboro attorney, declared this week on his return from a 6000-mile swing, taking him as far east as Ann Arbor, Mich. He was accompanied to Denver by Mrs. Hare, who remained there until his return.

The trip was made by automobile, visiting Denver, where he attended a dinner of the Colorado Bar association; Omaha, where he attended a session of the Nebraska Bar association; and Fort Bridges on the Old Oregon trail. At Ann Arbor he attended the 30th reunion of his law school graduating class.

Much of his expression of opinion was gathered from among the members of his class who came from nearly every state in the nation, although he interviewed many other persons. These men seemed all of the opinion that the present national administration has done a number of things of benefit to the country. They also blamed the relief methods for undermining the morale of the people and adding to the unemployment thereby.

They were expressing fear, Hare said, that the reelection of President Roosevelt might mean a further swing to the left and further socialistic tendencies.

Throughout the whole trip, Hare declared, particularly as you approached the eastern points, the people seemed to express more hope for Landon's election than is found in the west. However, Hare declared, by this they do not mean that any of them are convinced that he will be elected.

Everywhere, he said, he found business better, and a general feeling abroad that the country was rapidly emerging from the disaster of 1929.

No where on the trip, he said, did he find where there was any better place to be than in Washington county. He compared the life in Hillsboro with the life lived by most of his classmates in the cities of the east, and remarked that here we are much better off in many ways.

Comparing the present trip to one of five years ago, he said that he found more new cars on the road than the California cars, traveling east, predominated.

Out of 250 men who graduated in his class, only 60 attended the reunion.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Dailey of Newport visited his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Peterson, several days this week.

Miss Gertrude Hope of Portland spent the week-end with Miss Madeline DeFrees.

Mr. and Mrs. William Alexander of Newport visited in Hillsboro Sunday and Monday.

Mrs. Dick Stoltenberg underwent a major operation at Jones hospital Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Brown spent the week-end with relatives at Corvallis.

Orville Compton, who has been quite ill, is reported as improving.

Party Given for Bride-Elect Here

No-host garden party and crystal shower complimenting Miss Janette Cady was held Thursday evening at the home of Miss Dorothy Gillmore. A wishing well was arranged out of which Joan and Jean Baines appeared to present the gifts. Misses Dorothy Havens, Kitty Caldwell, Edwyna Broadbent of Salem, and Mary Yoder of Portland sang "The Wishing Well." Mrs. Karen Veenavitz of Portland poured, and Miss Havens assisted Miss Gillmore with the serving. Court whist was played later in the evening.

Others present were Mrs. A. E. Opdenweyer and Misses Verna Miller of Portland and Virginia Fendall of Forest Grove, Clara Ruff, Eleanor Smith, Shirley Smith, Ruth Lundgren, Lahoma Powell, and Margaret Cady.

Historical Gavel Given N. E. A. by Local Woman

The gavel which opened the meeting of the National Educational association in Portland Monday morning was presented by Mrs. Edythe Weathered of this city, in behalf of the pioneer students of Pacific university. The gavel was made from a piece of the old apple tree still standing and bearing fruit at Vancouver. It is the very spot where the late John Dall taught the first school in the Oregon country in the winter of 1822-23. The apple seed was planted there in 1828.

The N. E. A. meeting was called to order by Dr. Lester Smith, president of the University of Indiana, at Bloomington. Every seat in the large auditorium was occupied, with both wings thrown open. Many were standing and 1200 were seated on the stage. This is said to be the largest convention in the history of the N. E. A.

Whiskers and Running Water

What's the Connection?

Practically none in this day and age. But once there was. In fact, up to about the time the smooth-shaven William McKinley defeated the beardless Bryan for the presidency, whiskers were often more than not. Old-timers who remember the porcelain pitcher and bowl, the inconvenience of the shaving mug, and the punishment inflicted on the human mug, know that whiskers were formerly fashionable because daily shaving was cruel and unusual punishment.

Running water always ready altered the hirsute habits of America.
