

Kuratlis Return from Extended Eastern Trip

Mr. and Mrs. E. I. Kuratli returned Sunday night from an extended trip to the northern part of the United States, south by boat to Cuba and the Panama canal and thence up the Pacific coast to Oregon. They expressed pleasure at being back in Oregon, which they say is best of all.

Improving business conditions were found everywhere, according to Kuratli, who said ship and railroad companies were doubling their passenger capacity. Consensus of opinion he said, is that Roosevelt will be re-elected.

Stops were made at St. Paul and Detroit, where the Ford and Dodge plants were visited. They also enjoyed the Ford museum at Dearborn.

While in Buffalo, New York, Mr. and Mrs. Kuratli were regularly entertained by Mr. and Mrs. J. Gray. Mr. Gray is a prominent business man of that city, and Mrs. Gray will be remembered as Miss Estella Guerber of Helvetia, a former Washington county school teacher.

The local banker was the lay representative from the Bethany church to the Presbyterian assembly at Syracuse, N. Y., spending seven days there. After enjoying the sights of New York City they took the Peten, United Fruit company boat, to Havana, Cuba, where they marveled at the $21,000,000 capitol building, said to be the finest in the world. From Cuba they went to Kingston, Jamaica, and thence to the Panama canal zone, where they saw the works by automobile. The boat for Los Angeles and San Francisco was taken at Panama, where 65,000 bunches of bananas, 100 pounds each, were taken aboard. They made the trip north from San Francisco by train.

Couple Married at Forest Grove

MOUNTAINDALE—At a quiet ceremony held at the Dr. Holmes parsonage at Forest Grove at 10 o'clock June 30, Miss Opal Steyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Steyer of Mountaindale, and Dr. Virgil Lilly of Mountaindale, West Virginia, were united in marriage.

The bride was charming in a light blue crepe and lace gown, with matching blue and white accessories, and wore a corsage of gardenias. The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. John Brady, brother-in-law and sister of the bridegroom. The couple left immediately on a wedding trip to the beaches.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Lilly are graduates of Pacific University. For the past two years the bride has been an instructor in the St. Helena high school. The bridegroom is a research chemist at the University of West Virginia. After September, they will be at home in Mountaindale, West Virginia.

Coffee Club Has Annual Matinee Venetian Theatre

With an attractive stage setting representing a village street in England, the Coffee club presented a matinee performance at the Venetian theatre the afternoon of July 1. Mrs. J. H. Stannard, chairman of the dramatic department of the club, directed the performance, and the characters were well taken.

The play was a romantic comedy, built around the life of David Garrick, a famous English actor, who for years was manager of the Drury Lane theatre and author of many comedies. Appearance of the "blond man" was the climax for a happy ending.

A reception followed in the lobby of the theatre, with Mesdames Fred Engeldinger, C. E. Wells, Caroline Stangel, W. J. Enschede, and Martha Shaylor as hostesses.
