More Time Allowed Farm Crop Reports

(Continued from page 1) practice he will be entitled to what is designated a Class II payment, even though his acreage of depleting crops this year may be greater than his acreage of depleting crops last year.

Another change that will affect only a few farmers of this county is the one pertaining to the classification of the crop acreage seeded to clover or grass with a nurse crop where the nurse crop may have been cut for hay. This change means that clover or grass seeded with a nurse crop and the nurse crop cut for hay will be classified this year as soil-conserving acreage and would qualify the operator for a Class I payment, providing the total acreage of soil-conserving crops this year is greater than the acreage of such crops last year.

These changes will not have much bearing on the situation in this county, the committee believes, but since they have been made they feel there may be a few who would like to take advantage of this opportunity to participate in the program, and consequently reopened the sign-up for the three days previously mentioned.

The advisory board meets Friday, 7:45 p. m., at the residence of President R. L. Putnam, 431 S. 9th avenue.

County Receives Much PWA Money

Washington county has received allotments from the Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works (PWA), totalling $220,082 to May 1, 1936, to be expended on a disposal plant, sewer system, gymnasium, and auditorium in the county, according to information received by Edgar Freed, state director for the national Emergency council.

The allotments are for non-federal projects which include loans and grants by the PWA to states, municipalities, school districts and others. Money is advanced to these instrumentalities to assist them in the construction or repair of water works, sewer systems, electric light plants, streets, highways, hospitals and recreational facilities.

A total of $12,961,428 has been allotted for non-federal projects in Oregon up to May 1, 1936.

Templeton Reports Many Hear Leader

A large and enthusiastic crowd of republicans gathered Tuesday night in the public auditorium in Portland to hear John D. M. Hamilton, national chairman of the republican party, according to Judge Donald T. Templeton, chairman of the county central committee who attended.

Hamilton is making a complete circuit of the United States by airplane, speaking in the main centers. Templeton announced on his return that Senator Borah of Idaho was scheduled for an appearance somewhere in Oregon later, the date to be set to meet his schedule.

Others from the Washington county republican organization attending the meeting included J. O. Johnson, secretary, and John Woods, state committeeman.

Young Speaks Before O. A. P.

"Youths' Night" Planned by Townsend Club

(By R. L. Putnam) The Oregon Townsend clubs are fortunate to have at this time such an able state director as Dr. Ralph Shaddock, according to Rev. Henry Young, local delegate to the second Townsend national convention, who commended highly Dr. Shaddock's generalship of the Oregon delegation at the convention.

It was by all odds the most influential and best organized group in that great national gathering. The Progressive Enterprise in its recent issue declared, "Oregon's delegation not only dominated the convention, but its leaders were responsible for holding other entire state delegations in constructive action throughout the convention."

Rev. Young spoke at the Monday night meeting.

J. A. Hockersmith reported a splendid congressional district convention in Eugene Sunday. He also commended very highly the way that convention was carried through under the direction of Dr. Shaddock. He reported this congressional district number one of Oregon, as having over 80,000 Townsend members and as such the largest number of any district in the country.

Next feature of the local club is to be "Youths' Night" at Shute park August 24. There will be a short program, games, and a winner roast. All young people between the ages of 16 and 35 years of age, either members or interested in the Townsend plan, will be guests and receive refreshments free.

The advisory board meets Friday, 7:45 p. m., at the residence of President R. L. Putnam, 431 S. 9th avenue.

Beaverton to Have Non-High Contract

Bids on bus transportation for high school pupils living outside of the Beaverton high school district, for which advertisement was begun last week in the Argus by the non-high school board, have been withdrawn. O. B. Kraus, superintendent of schools, announced this week.

Withdrawal of the bids was announced when the Beaverton school district and the non-high board reached an understanding. Contracts will be tendered at the meeting Friday night, and it is understood the Beaverton district will accept.

Meanwhile four persons, reading the call for bids published in The Argus, the only county newspaper carrying the advertisement, applied to Kraus for information on the proposed bus contracts.

Farmer Aid Funds Recalled by Drouth

Another field of the organization, Madsen pointed out, is that in which co-operative loans are made to groups of farmers. In these applications will be made available to purchase machinery to be used on more than one farm.

As an example: A group might obtain the loan for the purpose of purchasing a tractor for use on several farms, one being too small to make such an expensive piece of machinery a good investment. A small rate of interest is charged on such loans and the repayment time is extended over a long period of time.

County Conciliator Rules Bernard Out

Hearing Saturday before H. A. Kuratli, conciliation commissioner for Washington county, resulted in a finding for M. R. Johnson and the United States National bank of Forest Grove. The hearing was in connection with the attempt by Martin Bernard to regain possession of the property formerly owned by the Oregon Nursery company and purchased by Bernard. Bernard lost possession by foreclosure.

The court held that the land does not come under the Frazier-Lemke law and therefore Bernard could not claim further right to it. Order also was given that a trustee be appointed to sell the personal property.

State to Aid Work at Tualatin Bridge

Financial assistance in placing riprap along the road fill at Farmington bridge was promised the county court at a meeting of the state highway commission August 5 in Portland, according to Donald T. Templeton, county judge. Templeton and J. W. Barney, county engineer, were in attendance at the meeting.

Under the terms of the agreement, the state will carry 80 percent of the cost and Washington county will do the work. Templeton said. The commission also declared that widening of the highway between Hillsboro and Forest Grove would be completed in 1937.

Stimson Employees Vote as to Union

Employees of the Stimson Lumber company above Forest Grove voted at an employees' meeting Monday night by a percentage of 71 per cent to maintain their present unorganized status, according to Gordon Hansen, company official. He states that this meeting was held without any officials, foremen or straw bosses being present and reflected the true sentiments of the men.

Efforts have been made in recent weeks by the Forest Grove local of the Timber Workers' Union to enroll Stimson employees and union officials report membership gains.

Federal Mediator Howard of Portland is on hand to conduct an investigation.
