

County Housewives End Vacation Camp

The first vacation camp for homemakers held in Washington county August 11-15, inclusive, was declared to be a success by the women present, according to Blanche Eickworth, home demonstration agent. Final registration listed 19 women and the director as permanent campers, with from five to twelve guests every day.

Friday, the campers entertained Mrs. Warren, Yamhill county agent and Mrs. Warren, L. E. Francis, assistant county agent of Washington county, and Mrs. Francis at a planked salmon dinner. The planked salmon was prepared by Miss Govey. Case extension nutrition specialist from Oregon State College. On Saturday, the homemakers' families were special guests for the day.

Camp activities included basketry, taught by Mrs. Pearl Becker from Seaside, sweater pounding, taught by Mrs. Bertha Fluhrer from Meagher, and ozalid, a new photographic craft, taught by Mrs. Maude Purvine, Columbia county home demonstration agent. Swimming was enjoyed every afternoon under the direction of Margaret Cypher, who also gave a demonstration of artificial respiration. A class in first aid was conducted by Ora Sevell, Yamhill county health nurse, also acting as camp nurse. Five programs were featured every evening. Excellent meals were prepared by Mrs. Nancy Boy and Mrs. Martha Churchly.

The weather man favored the homemakers with warm balmy days and cool nights, and the absence of mosquitoes added materially to the campers' happiness.

Those who enjoyed the vacation camp were: The Madams, Paula Mann, Portland; Helen Morgan and Ruth Roe, Gaston; Clara Cooper and Ella Turner, Cornelius; Eva Ortman and Myrtle Clapham, Forest Grove; Edith Patton, Cherry Grove; Maude Purvine, Roseburg; Mrs. Bertha Fluhrer, Peoria; Mrs. G. ## Oversbys Return from Long Trip

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Oversby of Hillsboro returned from an auto trip through the mountain and western states Monday evening. They left Hillsboro July 31, going via Pendleton, Boise, Ogden, Green River and Larimer, Wyo., to Denver, where Oversby renewed acquaintances with old friends and schoolmates.

The return trip was begun August 10 via Colorado Springs, through the Rockies to Grand Junction, Colo., thence to Salt Lake City and through Nevada and the California Sierras to Berkeley and Oakland, Cal., where Mrs. Oversby's mother and other relatives were visited.

The return to Hillsboro was made via the coast highway over the new Oregon bridges.

Oregon highways were found to be as good as any and far better than most of those travelled.

The number of autos carrying Kansas license plates was about the most amazing phenomenon of the entire trip. Vast hordes of them were passed throughout Idaho, Utah and Wyoming—all headed west. Unless this cavalcade returns to Kansas by November Mr. Landon will certainly poll very few votes in his home state, Oversby said.
