"About two grams." "About thirty c.c." Measurements like these are used in medical and chemical laboratories every day, but not in our prescription department. We can't use them. We consider human life too delicate, too precious, to be risked by inaccuracies, however slight. Our measurements, therefore, are scientifically precise, mechanically accurate. Remember this fact. Blood Lines Show at Shearing Time

¶ The 4,990,000 sheep in the states of Oregon, Washington and Idaho produced 43,807,000 pounds of wool last year—an average of 8.9 pounds per sheep, as compared to the national average of only 8 pounds per sheep.* Credit Pacific Northwest sheep with nearly 1 pound more per fleece than sheep of other states!

¶ Better breeding is given a large part of the credit for this record production, which means extra dollars in the pockets of our sheep men.

¶ Finest specimens of pure bred sheep of all breeds will be seen at the 26th annual Pacific International Livestock Exposition in Portland, October 3-10. See these and the many other exhibits of livestock and land products in one of the world's greatest livestock shows. Plenty of entertainment, too. You'll thrill to the fast, exciting Rodeo and Horse show.

¶ This bank endeavors to co-operate with all who seek to develop the great livestock industry of this section.
