Republican

(Arranged under the direction of Judge Donald T. Templeton, chairman of the republican county central committee.)
Roosevelt Repudiates Promise to Farmers
If the farmers of America only knew the truth, they would be shocked into unconsciousness at their betrayal by the present administration.

On October 25, 1932, in Baltimore, Candidate Roosevelt said: "Of course, it is absurd to talk of lowering duties on farm products. I do not intend that such duties shall be lowered. To do so would be inconsistent with my entire farm program, and every farmer knows it and will not be deceived."
After he was elected in 1932, he took office on March 4, 1933, he began to assume demand and receive the congressional power of making trade treaties with foreign nations, and on July 12, 1934, congress authorized the president to raise or lower tariffs on agricultural imports as much as fifty per cent. The Canadian reciprocal trade agreement is a glowing example of this autocratic assumption of legislative power. Under it and other trade agreements made by Mr. Roosevelt duties on imported farm products have been lowered in flagrant violation of his promise to the American farmer made on October 25, 1932, and we give below only a few of the items that were imported during 1935. These were taken from the publications of the department of commerce—the administration's own record.

There was imported into the United States from foreign countries over 43,000,000 bushels of corn, which had been raised in this country, would have placed in useful production 1,814,000 acres of the soil of the American farmer, and would have required the employment of 99,720 persons, over 5,000,000 pounds of pork, ham and bacon requiring over 88,000 acres and the employment of 3900 persons to produce, more than 27,000,000 bushels of wheat requiring 2,220,000 acres and would have required the employment of 12,000 persons; more than 22,000,000 pounds of butter which would have required the use of over 227,000 acres of land and have furnished employment to over 14,000 people. This list could be continued almost indefinitely, but any further listing of items will be conclusive proof of the utter childishness of any program which lets down the bars to foreign importations which would have been produced by our own farmers and have furnished employment for hundreds of thousands of American labor.

In connection with the Canadian and other Roosevelt trade treaties, George M. Peck, formerly one of the administration's most trusted advisers and formerly administrator of the Agricultural Adjustment act, said: "The trade agreements program is breaking down the American market for American agriculture and industry, and by contributing to the prolongation of the farm crisis, it is undermining the whole basis of recovery."

Norman Thomas, the perennial Socialist candidate for the presidency, says that Browder and the Communists are kissing Roosevelt. To any impartial observer it is very clear why this is true: They know they can't elect a president—yet, and they are espousing the cause which most nearly represents their ideals.

Safeway Stores Start Big Contest

of coffee—Airway, Nob Hill or Edwards' Dependable.

A new 1937 Packard six automobile and $1625 in cash are the prizes offered by Safeway Stores in their third annual coffee contest which started this week. The prizes offered this year are considerably greater than for the two previous contests held by the company.
This contest, which is localized to the state of Oregon, southwestern Washington and a small part of northern California, is rather unique in that it is based upon the ability of contestants to influence friends and neighbors to buy the firm's coffees, most contests being based on letter writing, limericks, slogans, etc.

Briefly, the details of the contest are as follows: Everybody except employees of Safeway or affiliated companies are eligible to participate.
Contestants register and receive contest blanks at their Safeway Store and are also supplied with contest slips which they may pass out to their friends and neighbors when they recommend the purchase of one of these three brands—Safeway, Airway or Edwards'.
Mrs. William Walker had high score, Mrs. P. A. Qualls, second, and Mrs. Charles Dodson, third. Guests were Mrs. Voss of Portland, Mrs. Earl Waldron and Mrs. Charles Hamilton. Mrs. Cass Wilson will be hostess for the next meeting.

Sunday dinner party guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Jensen were Mr. and Mrs. Jason Little and son Bob of Portland and Miss Ruby Reynolds.

OREGON MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY

Rushes Payment of Losses in Bandon

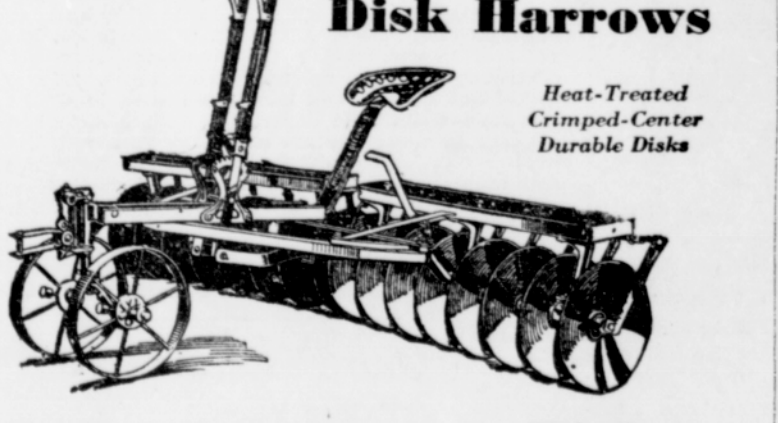

Checks were being issued three days after the fire. Policy holders who suffered fire losses at Bandon and vicinity were being paid by the Oregon Mutual Fire Insurance Company, which set up temporary headquarters at the scene of disaster.
The Company is paying each loss as soon as any of their six adjusters completes his report and many of the insured received their checks while the ashes were still hot. Officials issuing checks estimate approximately $80,000 will be the firm's loss, of which $50,000 is reinsured, leaving a net loss of $30,000. All losses were adjusted and paid within one week's time, which is in keeping with the Oregon Mutual Fire Insurance Company's policy of rushing adjustments after all honest fires.

McCormick-Deering Disk Harrows

And "Bumper" is Right!

GOOD Harrowing means a good seed bed and "bumper" crops. The bumper disk harrow shown above has a country-wide record of performance. An exclusive McCormick-Deering feature, the heat-treated crimped-center disks, gives this bumper disk harrow unequalled ability to hold its sharp cutting edges under tough, hard soil conditions.
The expense of frequent sharpening is saved, and the disks are automatically kept in shape for fast, clean work. It's the last word in disk quality!
We are now displaying the new McCormick-Deering Bumper Disk Harrows best suited for local conditions. Come in and see them.

Saved

$3.30 Every 10 Hours

August 21, 1936.
Gentlemen:
Having recently completed my harvest with one of your RD-4 "Caterpillars," I was interested in the comparison of my expenditures for fuel for the Diesel Tractor and fuel costs for the Thirty Gasoline "Caterpillar" which I formerly owned.

The gasoline tractor used for a ten-hour period, between thirty and thirty-five gallons of fuel at an average cost of 12c per gallon; the Diesel Tractor used only twelve gallons at an average cost of 7½c per gallon. This indicates a saving of $3.30 each ten-hour shift.

I cannot be too loud in my praise of the RD-4 Diesel "Caterpillar." Not only is it economical to operate, but its performance is unapproachable.
It was my thought that you might be interested in my experience.
You may feel perfectly safe in saying to anyone, "Try it," as its ease in operation will be more than convincing.
Yours very truly,
JAMES BEAMER.
