

Work Starts on Building

Program Given at Buxton School; Benefit Held

(By Mrs. Jane Meyers)
 BUXTON—Work begun Saturday on the W. B. A. ladies' new hall. Dimensions are 40x60 feet and a one-story building. The foundation and frame work was put up Saturday and Sunday. Charles Swicker is directing the work.

A dance will be given by the Townsend club October 17 with music by the "Oregon Whistle Punk" orchestra from Vernonia. A business meeting of the Townsend club was held at the Grange hall October 8. A speaker will be present October 22. Everybody is invited.

Spelling Good
 School auditorium program Friday consisted of Oregon state song, fire prevention stories, written and given by Betty Stowell, Betty Lane, Norman Peterson and Ansel Warren; a Columbus poem by Irene Lynch and two songs by the school. Those on the honor roll in spelling this week are Faith Seefield, Alpha Mae Peterson, Betty Stowell, Esther Quier, Betty Lane, Bobby Rinck, LeRoy Whiteside, Joe LaZoff and Geraldine Lynch.

One new pupil, Gerald Miller, was enrolled in the third grade during the week.

Mrs. Rhoda Watson has been ill the past week.

Every Whiteside received cuts on the head and back in an automobile accident near Portland Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tevens of Astoria visited her mother, Mrs. Rhoda Watson, and other relatives here during the week.

Benefit Held
 A bandon benefit dance was given by Manning Social club at their hall at Manning Saturday night. Supper was sold also for the fund. Music was donated by Bush's orchestra, assisted by George Roy, George Riggie and Mrs. Myrtle Klum.

Oscar and Elvin Cearley and Dave Kaumer are working at a sawmill near Glenwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Simonton and Dorothy and Arthur visited Mr. Simonton's mother, Mrs. Frank Hubbard, at Garden Home this week-end.

Edison Foundation Campaign Starting

Campaign committee of the Thomas Alva Edison memorial foundation is preparing for the annual drive for the fund which is being raised, here and nationally, to commemorate the name of Edison.

Every year 100 of America's most gifted youth will be granted a scholarship for an elaborate course of training in industrial science.

Every year at least one of these boys, and possibly one or two more will be an Oregonian, and this city can look forward to the day when the foundation will give one of its talented young men an introduction to the world of science, the committee points out.

drive you mad. What does she know about life, or the world, or any kind of culture. She has no sophistication, she has no polish, she's nothing but an ignorant child, pretty, I grant you, but as insipid as ... brook water. In two years—in five years, what are you going to have for a wife? There's nothing there, Bryn. Don't be carried away by a pretty face. You need intelligence, you need companionship, you need a wife who is your equal, who understands your position in the world and can help you carry it off!

Bryn was looking at her unhappily, compassionately. "I'm sorry, Pilar," he said gently. "I'm afraid it's not I who am making the mistake about life. You are not quite fair to Deborah, but we will pass that over. You suggest that I would be happy with sophistication and polish, and a woman who understands my position, and can help me to carry it off. Those things mean nothing, Pilar. I've seen a whole world full of girls such as you describe and not one of them has meant anything to me. They're all alike, Pilar, all cut to a pattern, and a false pattern at that. I never knew what it was to be in love until I saw Deborah. I never stopped to think what it is that a man really wants out of life. I'll tell you what it is now. He wants a girl of his own, and then he wants his own fireside; and then he wants that, Pilar? And when he finds the loveliest girl in the world, whose mind is as pure and sweet as Deborah's, whose heart is completely untouched, whose emotions and perceptions are as delicate as a flower in the spring, and who is absolutely kind and unselfish, Pilar, what can he do but fall in love with her. That's how I feel about Deborah. I know she doesn't love me now, but if I get the time and the opportunity I'm going to do my best to make her love me, and I'm not sure I can't succeed, even if she is a thousand times too good for me."
