

Oregon Voter Editor Advises Negative Vote

C. C. Chapman, editor of the Oregon Voter, discussed the eight measures to come before the voters on November 3 at the Coffee club meeting Friday afternoon at the chamber of commerce rooms.

He prefaced his remarks by saying that he didn't want to persuade the club women to his opinions, but they should hear the measures discussed and study them carefully, including the wording of the bills. "Do your own thinking and then vote as you think is right," he said.

The Voter editor took each measure and told of its weak spots, saying that some were very misleading as to the purpose of the bill. After a comprehensive resume of all bills, he said that he was voting "No" on each bill. Mrs. R. P. Rasmussen, chairman of the legislative department, introduced the speaker.

Mrs. Olin Hestford of Portland, vice-president of the State Federation of Women's clubs, explained some interesting facts about the publication of the state magazine.

Mrs. V. W. Gardner was in charge of the musical program, which included several selections by the Legion Auxiliary trio, with Miss Mildred James as accompanist, and piano solos by Lynn Hall.

The club went on record as favoring the continuance of a home demonstration agent for the county. The club also voted to send a request to the National Broadcasting company at San Francisco to have the Walter Damrosch Music Hour returned to the regular time.

Mrs. Fred Caldwell, P. J. Kalkwarf, Elwood Johnson, J. A. Kramienski and E. J. Kutzborn were elected to represent the Coffee club at the County Federation meeting at the Christian church on October 23.

Reception Given for Newlyweds

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Riedweg entertained at their home Saturday evening in honor of Miss Erna Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Fennell of Hillsboro, who became the bride of William Riedweg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Riedweg of Cornelius, Saturday.

A wedding reception was held and many lovely gifts were given to the bride and groom.

Attending the reception were Messrs. and Mesdames William Riedweg, Peter Riedweg and children, Wayne Pugh and sons, Earl Fennell, Bob Anderson and son, Bruce Adams, Lew Davis, Mrs. Schmidt, Herbert Keen and daughter, Herbert Marty, Edward Marty, Marty and Irene Marty, Jacob Trachsel and sons, Emil Trachsel and children, Henry Tongues and daughter, Philip Messenger and sons, Albert Stiff and children, and Messrs. Bob Smith, Ben Pauly and Charlie Stewart.

Window Display Attracts

Large Golden Delicious apples grown by Mrs. Fred Grant of north of Hillsboro are displayed in the Argus window this week. Other new additions are wild blackberries brought by Charles Kay of Shady Brook, and an odd shaped "chicken" squash brought in by B. L. Davidson of Reedville.

Miss Koerber Married

Miss Natalie Koerber of The Dalles, formerly of Hillsboro, was married last week to Mr. Shepard at Kansas City, Mo., according to Mrs. Koerber's place. Mr. and Mrs. Shepard will make their home in Southern Missouri. The bride is a sister of Herman Koerber of near Scholls.

Sells Many Apples

Ernest Schaar of Bethany reports that he sold 452 1/2 boxes of Gravenstein apples from 20 trees, this being a much better year for Gravensteins than last year. These apples, he says, will last until Christmas in cold storage.

Mrs. Frank G. Mitchell underwent a major operation Wednesday at St. Vincent's hospital in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Donelson and their daughter, Mrs. James Diericks, were guests over the weekend of Mr. and Mrs. Wilber Siegfried at Boise, Idaho. Mr. and Mrs. Siegfried formerly resided in Hillsboro.

Mrs. E. J. Davis spent Wednesday in Gladstone with her mother, Mrs. Mary Haas, who is quite ill.

Health Unit for County Indorsed by County P.-T. A.

Miss Olive Whitlock, state supervisor of nurses, addressed the Washington county council of parents and teachers meeting at Tigard Tuesday evening on the value and cost of a county health unit.

It used to be, Miss Whitlock said, that only sick persons were interested in health, but now it is to the interest of all that sick persons be cared for to prevent the spread of disease, and that the public be educated as to the best means of obtaining good health for all.

In Washington county last year there were many cases of measles. There were 23 reported cases of scarlet fever with 3 deaths, 4 cases of typhoid, and now some cases of infantile paralysis. While not all cases of illness could be prevented, epidemics could be better controlled by a better paid, more unified health service.

A health unit would be composed of a full time doctor with special education for the work, and two full time nurses, all working out of the same office. The cost would be met by the use of $2,700 allowed us by the social security act, and an estimated addition of $6,000 paid by the county.

The present county bill for health services is made up of various salaries and fees: health officer, $600 with $50 expense; part time and traveling expense, physician for county home $1,200, health nurse, $1,200, traveling and other expenses $735, medical attention to relief cases jail, insane examination, coroner's fees, $828. These items are taken from the county clerk's office.

Another item of health expense is $10,000 spent for relief medical care. The health unit would take care of most of these services. A small amount of equipment further than that already in use would be needed, but Miss Whitlock said that after all the training and personnel working together is more important than equipment in considering public health.

Mrs. Margaret Logan, county nurse, and Mrs. Hugh McGilvra of Forest Grove, representing the county federation of women's clubs, were present to aid with figures and questions. The council registered an enthusiastic vote in favor of the unit.

Miss Blanche Eickworth, county demonstrator, gave a brief discussion of "Intelligence," the P.-T. A. study subject for October. She said that the possibilities of each child should be developed, rather than to make a child feel inferior because he did not fulfill some set standard or some other child's possibilities. Mrs. Maurice Romig, president of Hillsboro association, outlined the work of the demonstration agent, as it aids the women of the county in a manner similar to the aid the agriculturists receive from the county agent.

Mrs. Romig explained that the salary is paid through the extension service of O. A. C., and the county pays expenses only. The continuance of Miss Eickworth's work was endorsed by the council.

Mrs. James B. Ward, state membership chairman, announced that many good lists of memberships were coming in, and urged that the power of the P.-T. A. be not allowed to run over the dam but through the power plant, and cited many of the things the P.-T. A. has already accomplished for child welfare.

Mrs. P. N. Shown, state treasurer, and Mrs. E. E. Woodward, budget chairman, gave instruction in organization work. Plans were discussed to make the president's work more effective in the county by giving her more aid.

Mrs. P. L. Patterson of Hillsboro.

A PROCLAMATION

That we may pause in our labor as bread winners and bread mixers and give consideration to the work of the Parent-Teachers' association, who have for their aims the welfare of the dearest things on earth, our children, I, as mayor of Hillsboro, proclaim the week of October 11 to 19 as Parent-Teacher Week.

The Parent-Teachers' association is one of the most worthy organizations we have, as on the success of their efforts depend, to a great extent, the moulding of the minds of future Americans.

Let us take this week to learn more about their activities. Let us join with them and co-operate with our teachers that our children will be surrounded by the best in influences.

There is nothing so pleasant or profitable, in my estimation, as guiding and helping the young mind.

J. H. GARRETT, Mayor.

Couple Celebrate 50th Anniversary of Their Wedding

MOUNTAINDALE—Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Connolly of Hillsboro were honored with a dinner Sunday in honor of their fiftieth wedding anniversary at the home of their nephew, George Keene of Forest Grove.

Mr. and Mrs. Connolly were married at Atchison, Kan., in 1886. From there they came to this country in January, 1888, settling in Yamhill county. After a year there they spent the remainder of the time until 1908 in the vicinity of Scoggins valley and Forest Grove, when they moved to a farm near Banks. In 1927 they moved to Oswego and after a short time there went to Hillsboro, where they are living at the present time. The total number of years they have spent in Washington county is 49.

Although Mr. Connolly is 79 years of age and Mrs. Connolly 70 years of age, they are both enjoying good health.

At the dinner four generations were represented with six children, three grandchildren, who are George Keene, Donald Klingenberg and Merlyn Connolly, and two great-grandchildren, Lillian Mae and Donna Keene, present.

Members of the family present were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Connolly of Yakima, Wash.; Mrs. Mary Klingenberg and son Donald of Yelm, Wash.; Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Connolly of Willamina, Arthur Connolly of Forest Grove, and Mrs. J. L. Greene, president of the council, announced the next meeting at Hillsboro in December.
