

Two Arrested After Crashes

Charges of Drunken Driving Filed After Wrecks

Two arrests were made by state and local officers Saturday and Sunday on charges of drunken driving following automobile accidents, according to the records at the sheriff's office.

Albert E. Woods, Portland, was arrested near Rex hill Saturday night on the west side Pacific highway after his car was alleged to have stripped the running board and fender from a machine driven by Melvin Stoltenberg, also of Portland.

Sunday Edward Katke, 55, was arrested by a deputy sheriff near Aloha following an accident involving another car. The passengers were not injured. Katke was charged with driving while drunk.

Thursday, October 8, Frank Neff, 18, Oreono, was arrested by officers from the sheriff's department on a charge of failing to stop at the scene of an accident following a car crash in Hillsboro, the report shows.

Pete Zimmerman, 25, Gaston, suffered slight injuries Friday when the car he was driving and one driven by W. A. Guyton of Forest Grove collided a half mile north of Forest Grove, according to a report made this week.

Albert H. Erickson, 44, Forest Grove, and Henry Gribben, 37, were arrested Wednesday by a deputy sheriff on a charge of having stolen a rock crusher from a Portland dealer. The rock crusher was found, according to the sheriff's report, in a gravel pit near Balm Grove.

Albert Woods, charged with drunken driving, was fined $100 and sentenced to 30 days in jail by Justice Barber at Tigard Tuesday. His driver's license was revoked for a year.

covered, and declared that the worst method which could be followed would be the closing of the schools. While the children are in the schools they are under control and a school inspection will serve to eliminate those who are ill, he said.

Not much is known about the way the malady is transmitted, Stricker declared, but it is generally agreed that the virus is distributed by sneezing and coughing and breathed into the nose and throat by the victim.

In Portland, Stricker said, there are cases every month in the year and there is nothing to be alarmed about in the situation here.

The largest concentration experienced in the state was two years ago when one town of 500 population reported 16 cases of the disease, Stricker pointed out. The average number stricken in a family is one, he said, although there are instances where as many as three have had the disease.

School officials all agreed that steps should be taken to eliminate children with bad colds and thus cut down the risk of having a carrier of the disease attending school. Stricker pointed out that there are many more cases of the malady, which have only minimum symptoms than there are those which have severe cases.

Cases which have occurred in Hillsboro during the last month and a half, have numbered six, of which one is dead and four are recovering without severe after-effects. One child is ill at the present time with considerable paralysis, the health department reported.

One doctor found a case in Vernonia and one case from McMinnville visiting in Hillsboro during the preliminary stages of the disease.

Fair-Going Day for the Landons

A big day at the Kansas state fair was made even more thrilling for John Cobb and Nancy Jo Landon when they were permitted to hold prize-winning fowls while their famous father looked on. The Landons took in all the sights the Topeka fair offered and the governor enjoyed especially a sack of peanuts he purchased on the fair grounds.

Funeral services for Overman were held Tuesday afternoon from the Donelson & Sewell funeral chapel with burial in the Fir Lawn cemetery under the auspices of the Spanish American War veterans. Members of the veterans of Foreign Wars served as pallbearers. Masonic rites were held at the chapel.

He was born November 19, 1856, and had lived in Hillsboro for the last 14 years, and since he retired from his occupation as an electrician. He was a member of the Masonic lodge of Wichita, Kansas.

County Club Boys Exhibit in Portland

Ten Washington county 4-H club members participated in the 4-H club activities at the Pacific International Livestock Exposition, according to L. E. Francis, assistant county agent.

Corn exhibits this year were the fewest in number of past years, and largely to the late season which delayed maturity of the corn in many sections of the county. Joe Berger of Hazeldale, who was the only club member successful in placing with a corn exhibit, won a third place with his entry of 25 ears in the Portland Union Stock Yards Corn-Growing contest, and also placed third with his record book.

Marvin Heynderickx of the Verboort sheep club placed second and third with his two Hampshire fleeces which were entered in the Pacific Wool Growers' Wool show. Clayton Nyberg exhibited his Duroc Jersey hogs in both the 4-H club and open classes and won fifth in the Northwestern Oregon division of the Portland Union Stock yards contest for pen of four fat hogs and eighth with his junior gilt in the 4-H class. In open class competition he placed second with his pen of three fat hogs, fourth and fifth with his single fat barrows and fifth with a yearling show. Fred and John Bernau placed second and fifth, respectively, with their Jersey junior heifer calves.

Other club members who exhibited but did not place were Clarence Renno, Hazeldale; Stanley Hergert, Hillsboro; Warren Sahnnow, Schefflin; Raymond Dierckx and Donald Meier, Rock Creek. All of these club members had corn exhibits.

The Auxiliary elected Mrs. L. M. Beckwith of Sherwood, president; Mrs. F. E. Davis of Banks, vice-president and Mrs. Young of Sherwood, secretary-treasurer.

Date Set for Corn Exhibits

4-H Clubs Bank Display on November 7

The date for the Commercial National Bank Corn show has been definitely set by the officers of the bank for Saturday, November 7, reports L. E. Francis, assistant county agent.

The show is held in the lobby of the Commercial National bank in Hillsboro and starts at 9 in the morning. At noon the members are guests of the officers of the bank at a luncheon, and in the afternoon special entertainment features are provided. First place award in the contest is a scholarship to the 4-H summer school. Other premiums are $10, $5, eight placings of $3 each, and $1 for last place.

The bank corn show has grown to be one of the popular features of 4-H club work in Washington county. The project was started in 1930 and has been responsible, in the seven years of its existence, for the development of a very superior grade of local seed corn, states Francis.

Last spring, under a special marketing program, for the local Minnesota 13 4-H seed was sold through local and Portland dealers. The production of seed last year was only half sufficient to meet the demand.

Boys enrolling in the corn project are each given sufficient seed of the highest quality available to plant an acre. After the corn has been harvested 25 ears are selected as an exhibit at the show.

Nehalem Fish Don Landon Sunflowers

Fish stories and fish stories have been told and retold in Hillsboro by wielders of the rod and reel, but all fishermen now have agreed that it remained for M. H. Stevenson to bring home the best.

Stevenson, with Fred W. Wenger of the Associated Press staff on the Oregon Journal, fished Sunday in the Nehalem river in Tillamook county with considerable success. Stevenson relates.

Just before time to quit Wenger hooked a big cutthroat trout which gave him quite a tussle and when landed and since he was branded with a Landon campaign sunflower, so Stevenson says.

The Landon emblem, he explains, was on the side of the fish near the gills and was about the size of a quarter, the design in brilliant yellow, making a perfect sunflower with brown spots in the center forming the republican elephant.

Both men are said to be ardent republicans in politics.

publicly they will turn their attentions to Oregon next year.

"Walter E. Garrison, president of Associated Farmers of California, advised me that the farmers of this state can look for trouble—and serious trouble—at an early date. Already this fall counts have appeared at various points in our own agricultural sections to survey the situation at start of the spreading of their poisoned propaganda.

"Known radicals have appeared several times in the Hood River valley, but were apprehended and ordered out of the district before they had time to foment any labor difficulties. Other radicals have shown up recently in the Willamette and Rogue River valleys and have made every effort to start dissension among the workers.

"Oregon farmers must realize that the situation today is critical. Given courage by this radical long-shoremen's leader, Harry Bridges, these agitators not only intend to cripple our shipping but they also plan to disrupt the production and harvesting of our agricultural crops."

CARD SHARK QUILTS

We knew him in our school days back east as the owner of the big drygoods store across from the First National bank. His oldest son was one of the firm; his wife president of the W. C. T. U. and the rest in college.

Now for the background. We had a big payroll in the valley and he had rich pickings as a card shark. So he gambled and drank and dressed. Then it happened. The druggist, a Bibleman, held before him the one and only object for such as he, held before him Christ dying on the cross for his sins.

Something new set in. First he turned against the sin and shame. Then came the spark of saving faith. Repentance and saving faith met at Calvary—By God's favor are you saved by faith and that faith is not of your own making; it is the gift of God. You can work it up. It has to be sent down. Ask and you get it.

Standing there, this is the gist of what he said—"I see the Son of God dying for my sins; I take Him; I go free." Sure man-Christ came into the world to save sinners. You take Him and He takes you. The great transaction is done. The saved believe in God, that having met his terms, God makes his own. So they have peace of soul.

God saved this man for time and all eternity. And with no conditions laid down for the man himself to meet. Only believe and accept. Nothing the man must first do to help God out. God does the saving and God keeps him saved. Our man does not have to first be good for a time to get God's eye. To keep saved he is not asked to live up to a certain standard. Christ comes in with the urge and power of the overcoming life. If the man slips, he is still of the flock—the sheep in the hog-wallow. God brings him out and changes him from glory to glory.

This power of God to save his own and keep them saved has meant so much to vast numbers that we set it forth for you to think on—Not by good deeds that we do as good men are we saved, but by his mercy. God saves us. Moment by Moment I'm kept by his love. Moment by moment I've power from above. —George N. Taylor, Beaverton, Pd.

"GREAT MISTAKE"
Says N. D. Ex-Governor
Based on his experience with STATE BANKING

"After ten years of official connection with the governing board of this institution (Bank of North Dakota), I am personally of the opinion that it was a great mistake for the state ever to have established it. I would not advise any state to engage in the banking business with public funds or public credit.

"Our experience should be a lesson to all other states that may be tempted to engage in the experiment."
