

G. Kirkpatrick New Head of Scholls Grange

(By Miss Lorraine Demmon)

SCHOLLS—Harry Schmeltzer, who was recently elected Pomona Grange master, asked to be relieved of his local mastership at the Scholls Grange meeting Saturday and George Kirkpatrick was elected to succeed him. Other officers are: Walter L. Jaquith, overseer; Wilma Schmeltzer, lecturer; Len W. Guild, steward; Harry Schmeltzer, assistant steward; Elizabeth Reed, chaplain; Henry T. Hesse, treasurer; Evelyn Hesse, secretary; John Schmeltzer, gatekeeper; Margaret Flint, Ceres; Clara Kirkpatrick, Pomona; Esther Jaquith, Flora; Erma Kirkpatrick, lady assistant steward; Schmeltzer sisters, pianists, and Len Guild was re-elected to the executive board.

The grange sponsored a Thanksgiving dinner, which was open to the public. Grangers meet the third Saturday in the month with a pot-luck dinner and afternoon program. Each one Saturday was asked to tell "Why I am Thankful." C. E. Newhouse, master of Springbrook Grange, won consolation prize in a contest.

Services Interest

Dr. Hysie preaches every Sunday at the Scholls church at 10 a. m., followed by the Bible school at 11. Walter Jaquith is superintendent and there is a class for everyone. Beginning the first Sunday in December there will be a preaching service in the evening, following the Epworth League.

The Scholls church choir with Mrs. Earl Stretcher as director put on a musical program Sunday night. Jess Snyder played a violin solo, and a double quartet from the Woman's club sang two numbers.

To Give Show Soon

A two-act comedy drama called "The Broadcaster," given by the Danella dramatic club under the auspices of the Scholls Epworth League, will be presented at the Scholls Grange hall December 4. Special musical numbers will be given between the acts. Tickets may be purchased from the league members.

Evelyn Hesse, Lucille Carlson, Tom Stretcher and Philip Burke attended the homecoming at Corvallis during the week-end.

Mountain Home Brotherhood club entertained their wives with a supper at the Mountain Home parlors Tuesday evening. Professor Chase Conover of Pacific college talked on international relations.

Harry and Helen Schmeltzer left Wednesday morning for Terrebonne, where they met Mary Schmeltzer, who returned home with them for Thanksgiving.

Aid to Meet

Mountain Home Ladies' Aid will meet at the James Joyce home December 3.

Ten ladies attended the Rebekah club Friday afternoon at the Rollin Meyers home in Laurel with Mrs. Meyers as hostess.

Mrs. Ada Hansen is visiting her daughter, Mrs. M. Swett, in Oregon City for several days.

Donald Herd, who underwent an appendix operation at the St. Vincent's hospital two weeks ago, will return home this week.

A good crowd attended the sacred concert given at the M. E. church Sunday evening.

McClures Move

Mr. and Mrs. R. N. McClure moved to Portland last week.

A party was given for Mrs. Joe Kerr Jr. Wednesday afternoon at the J. Kerr home. Thirteen ladies were present.
