Thos. Wilkes, Pioneer Son, Dies Friday

Thomas S. Wilkes, 78, Washington county pioneer son, died at Corvallis Friday night, following a major operation.

Funeral services were held at Corvallis Tuesday and interment was at Banks cemetery with Rev. Henry Young conducting the grave service.

Mrs. Wilkes was born at Banks October 2, 1858, the son of the late Jaber and Mary Jane Jackson Wilkes, both pioneers. January 1, 1880, he was married to Jane Northrup at Banks and she died in 1901. They homesteaded at Kist in the Nehalem country and moved to Hillsboro in 1888 where he and his brother, L. E. Wilkes, founded the Wilkes Abstract company. He sold his interest to his brothers, L. E. and Bruce, in 1902.

Serving as county surveyor of Columbia county for six years and of Washington county for two years, Mr. Wilkes made ownership maps now in use in this county that are considered one of the best sets of maps in the state.

Deceased is survived by one daughter, Miss Elinor Wilkes of Corvallis; four sons, F. Marion of Phoenix, Ariz.; Burt of Everett, Wash.; Ward of Portland, and Clair of Corvallis; three brothers, L. E. of Hillsboro, J. B. of Portland and Orelle of Tillamook, and one sister, Mrs. Elsie Schulmerich of Corvallis; 12 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Results Found Better Don Templeton Again Named

Judge Donald T. Templeton of Hillsboro was named to the executive committee of the association of Oregon counties, which closed its convention in Portland Tuesday afternoon with the annual election. Templeton representing district six.

Attending from Hillsboro at the various sessions were Templeton, Commissioners Herman Kerkman and James Lewis, J. W. Barney, county engineer, attended a convention of county engineers.

Two resolutions of interest to Washington county were passed by the convention, according to Kerkman. The first, and believed by the county court to be most vital, was a proposal to allow the counties 15 per cent of gasoline tax funds for road purposes which would add about $12,000 here.

This represents an approximate increase of $400,000 for all the counties over what now is allotted. It is pointed out that exact share of this county was not compiled.

Another resolution was directed to E. J. Griffith, state administrator, and the works progress administration director, requesting that the quota for WPA in Oregon be kept at the old figure of 22,000 workers. A recent order has reduced it to 19,000.

Convention declared that curtailment of federal work relief would bring about an impossible financial problem in the various counties where demands for relief were growing instead of diminishing.

Can Beef Tidbits for Stew or Hash

When beef or other home-butchered meat is being canned, there is usually some good meat left in small portions which may be canned as soup, hamburger, stew, or hash "makings" for the emergency shelf, says Miss Lucy Case, extension specialist in nutrition at O. S. C.

To prepare these small portions of beef for canning, cut or chop the meat in uniformly small pieces. Add enough water to cover, bring to the simmering point, and cook for several minutes. Pack hot in glass jars or plain tin cans and process in the pressure cooker. At 230 degrees F. or 15 pounds pressure, No. 2 cans of hash meat require 90 minutes of processing and No. 2 1/2 cans need 115 minutes. From glass jars require 90 minutes and quart jars 2 hours.

Meat for stew may be put up alone or may be canned with vegetables. The vegetables that may be canned successfully with browned meat are a mixture of tomato pulp and equal parts of diced carrots, turnips, and potatoes. Only small amounts of onion, garlic, or spices should be canned with meat.

Meat may be a better choice than black for canning because it holds a better flavor with meat products. Directions for canning these various meat specialties come from the Bureau of Home Economics, U. S. department of agriculture.

MOTHER
The following poem was composed by Rev. J. F. Shindler of a home for "our Mother," Mrs. Anna Barbara Shultz. "Mother we will miss you, but we know God will miss you too. You have gone from this earthly shore to that eternal rest. Go on from us to that fairer world on high. Where sickness, sorrow, pain, and death never come nor come ever die. Mother we will meet you in the morning, in the sweet bye and bye. In the land where there's no parting. And we shall never see you more. Farewell dear mother, we will watch, work, and pray. We will meet you in the morning at the breaking of the day."
